NORTH STATE NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA'S SONS How Fine North Carolina Tobacco Came to be Called "Virginia

Brights," Of all the contradictions ever arrayed against indisputable facts, of all the wrongs committed against existing rights, of all baseless claims ever made against authentic priority, of all the arrogance that lays title to name and fame to that which brings honor and profit to its originator and almost sole producer, none are so unfounded as those which attaches the name of "Virginia Brights" to the unrivalled leaf of North Carolina. It was in North Carolina it had its origin; it was here it made its home, it is here it is destined to live without the fear of successful competition. For with the exception of portions of Halifax and Pittsylvania counties, in Virginia, it remains the exclusive glory of North Carolina. Nor it is confined to the section in which it originated, or rather where the process that has so magnifled tobacco was first perfected In that section. Caswell and Person. Granville and Vance, Orange and Durham. Wake and Chatham, Alamance and Guilford, Rockingham and Stokes, Forsyth and Surry; in the east, Nash and Edgecombe, Pitt and Greene, Halifax and Wilson, Lenoir and Wayne; in the west, Buncombe and Madison, Yancey and Mitchell, Haywood and Swain, are not only large producers of tobacco, but also of bright tobacco, the sole difference in quality being that derived from longer experience in the processes of cure; and from these and other counties not named, are derived ninetenths of the tobacco that goes on the foreign market as Virginia Brights. But perhaps the censure we naturally affix upon Virginia for the absorption of an honor properly belonging to North Carolina may be modified by the reflection that the application of her name to our property was, to some extent, natural and unavoidable. From time immemorial our tobacco was taken to her markets and shipped from her ports. It never went to any North Carolina port except in a past period when the heavy tobaccos, in their coarse packages, of Chatham, Orange and some other counties, found their way to sea out of Wilmington by way of Fayetteville. The rest went to Richmond, and thence to Europe. There it received the name of the State from which it was shipped. Virginia was not reluctant to appropriate the honor thus implied, and was quite willing to be magnified, even at the expense of her neighbor. Whitecaps in Rowan County.

While on his way home, Lee Pinkeston, a respected white farmer living near Braddy's distillery, four miles from Salisbury, was held up by a hundred or more masked men, taken from his wagon, placed upon a stump and cowhided. Every man in the party administered one or more lashes, and Pinkeston when left, was thought to be dying. Revenue officers had seized twenty-five barrels of whiskey at Braddy's distillery, and Pinkeston was charged with having given the information. After being cowhided, he was told that if he did not leave the county in ten days he would be hung.

A Remarkable Cow.

A farmer in Salem Chapel township, Forsyth county, recently sold a remarkable cow to a Winston man. He says that she was 22 years old, and gave milk for 19 years. She gave birth to nine calves, which he sold for $135. For 19 years she gave an average of two gallons of milk per day, making a total of 13,860 gallons. He says that had he sold the milk for 20 cents per gallon, he would have received $2,774. This, added to the sale of the cow and calves, would make a grand total of $2,926 realized from one cow.

Bucket Shops Legitimate.

Saturday at Chicago, Ill., Judge Horton decided that bucket shops are as legitimate as the boards of trade, and quashed eleven ndictments against persons charged with being proprietors of or employed in bucket shops. "The beard of trade does a whole-saie business in wheat dealing," said Judge Horton, "and what is called bucket shops do a retail business. There is absolutely no difference in their methods of operation, and the statute which makes the board of trade business legitimate does the same for the lesser dealers, who conduct the same kind of trade. While I believe peesonally that it is all nothing but gambling, the law allows it, and the courts are poweriess.'

THE FIFTY-FOURTH CUNGRESS. A Synopsis of the Proceedings of Both Houses:

THE SENATE. Tuesday the most of the time was occupied the consideration of the naval appropria in the consideration of the naval appropria-tion bill.

Senator Butler introduced a bill appropri-ating $25,000 for additions to the public building at Greensboro. He filed a copy of the grand jury's indictment of the present inadequate accommodations. Senator Pritch-ard presented a petition of Newbern citizens praying for a clock tower, clock and illumi-nated dial.

The statue of Father Marquette, placed by the State of Wisconsin in the National Hall of Statuary in the capitol, was officially presented to, and accepted by, the Senate. Af-ter this natter was disposed of the naval ap-propriation bill was taken up and the mainder of the day's session was given up to political speeches.

THURSDAY. The Senate Thursday after the routine businces taken up the appropriation bill. The pending question being the amendment offered by Mr. Gorman reducing the number of battleships provided for in the bill from four to two, and the amendment to that amendment offered by Mr. Quay to increase the number to six. The naval bill had the undivided attention of the day. Allen, (Pop. of Nebraska, predicted the collapse of the Democratic and Republican parties, the forner within three months and the latter by the 4th of March, 1901, and by Mr. Gorman, Dem.) of Maryland, in enforcement of his lews as to the necessity of more economy a appropriations.

FRIDAY. Friday's session of the Senate was enlivend by two characteristic speeches—a flery and impetuous one from Mr. Tillman, Dem ocrat, of South Carolina, and a temperate and suggestive one from Mr. Hill, Democrat, of New York. Mr. Tillman, wearing in his necktie an emblem of his last speech in the Senate, a miniature gold pitchfork, strode up and down in the rear of the back seats on the Democratic side of the chamber, gesticulating forcibly and inveighing against the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and the bankers and morey-lenders of Wall street and threatening the withdrawal of his State from the Democratic column if the Chicago convention should not declare in favor of free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Mr. Hill's reply to him was dignified but sarcastic. He too. spoke of the Chicago convention declaring that he did not believe that Mr. Cleveland was a candidate for the nomination; he said that he was not pledged to him or to any member of his cabinet: eulogized Mr. Carlisle for his public services, while criticising him for his interference against the re-election of Senator Blackburn, and closed a long speech by declaring the policy of the Democratic party should be "in essentials, unity: in non-essentials, liberty, in all things, charity." Mr. Gorman's motion to reduce the number of battleships provided for in the bill from four to two (a reduction of $7,500,000 in expenditure) and it was agreed to-yeas 31 nays 27. WILLIAM AND HIS WIFE DISCUSS SERPENTS PRO AND CON.

A Time When Everybody Was Demoralized Fxcept Noah and His Family.

The peafowls stirred up a small garter snake down in the grove and they raised such a rumpus as to attract my wife's attention. The reptile came slipping along through the grass toward the house and she screamed for me, of course. It came in the front yard and I killed it by the stone step, but my wife never believes a snake is dead as long as its tail wiggles. I had to keep on killing it to satisfy her, and then hang it up in a tree to make it rain. It is awful dry up here, but now I reckon it will just pour down some time. This is the second snake that has ever been seen here, but my wife says she knows that the place is just haunted with them. They always go in pairs, she says. "Moses mentions only one," said I, "and dident mention any until after Eve was oreated. Probably Adam lived and worked in that garden alone for many years and he got as sick of it as did Robinson Crusoe. Then Eve was created for Adam's express company, and they got along very well until the serpent beguiled her." "Yes, and the poor woman has to bear all the blame of our sin and misery," said my wife. "Adam said 'The woman Thou gavest me did give unto me and I did eat.' Why dident Eve say the man Thou from the wiles of that smooth-tongued prises. serpent. He let me eat first and take all the risk of the danger. The old autocrat. No telling how long he had been acquainted with the serpent for he knew all the animals and had mingled with them and had dominion over them and had given them all names long before Eve was created." "No doubt of it," said I. "for Josephus says that the serpent lived in the house with Adam and was very hand some and very smart and could talk. Perhaps they played marbles together and went in a-washing.

"Yes," said Mrs. Arp, "and the Lord gave the command to Adam about the forbidden fruit long before Eve was born.'

"She wasent born," said I. "Pity she was not," said she. "Then she would have had a mother who would have protected her from the serpent and from Adam, too. The poor woman never even had choice of lovers nor a courtship nor a wed-

Her spectacles have got too young for her, and I must get her another pair. What a pity it is that these old grandmothers have to wear out and pass away! Mother Eve did'nt. Good gracious! what a time she had with her posterity. Josephus says she had sixty children, and if they had sixty apiece and so on down the line and she lived as long as Adam did, there were eight generations in sight, and that would make millions of people, I: would make a hundred millions if each generation had only ten apiece. But I must stop ruminating about these speculations for I hear Mrs. Arp calling again on the piazza. "Is it the other snake," said I. "No; but the baby is frettium and wants you to take her and walk in the garden. Be sure and

A Very Decided Revival of Business

Interests Noticeable. Special reports to the Manufacturers Record from various parts of the South, especially from the Birmingham region, show a very decided revival in business interests. In addition to the steel mill projected recently by the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company, the Brmingham Rolling Mill Company has decided to build a steel mill with a capacity of about 200 tons a day. At the same place a $100,000 cotton seed oil mill company, a $100,000 tobacco factory and a large powder mill have been organized during the week, and the negotiations are pending looking to the building there of a 600,000 cotton mill by Northern people.

HEALTH IN OLD AGE.

AN OLD LADY FINDS THE TRUE SOURCE OF VITALITY.

A Reporter's Interesting Interview With a Lady of Seventy-two Years Who Tells a Marvelous

From the Union, Port Jervis, N. Y. But a short time ago, in a distant part of the country, we heard of a cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which seemed almost marvelous, and more recently another substantial evidence of their value reached our ears. Being of an inquiring turn of mind, and wishing to know just how much there was in the story, a reporter was sent to interview the person said to be thus benefited. If the narrative as it had reached our ears was true, it was only simple justice to let it be known-if it proved untrue, it would be well to know it.

The person alluded to above as having been thus greatly benefited by the use of Pink Pills is Mrs. Jane Hotalen, of Hainesville, N. J., a pleasant hamlet in Sussex County, about fifteen miles from this office. The reporter had no difficulty in finding Mrs. Hotaleh. It was nearly noon when we reached her pleasant home, a double house, one part of which is occupied by her son. She is a pleasant-faced old lady, looking to be about sixty-five, but is in reality seventytwo years of age. After a few preliminary remarks in explanation of the call, she was asked if she had any objection to giving us the details of the case and how she came to try this now famous remedy.

"Not at all," said she, "If my experience can be of any good to others. I am sure they are welcome to it-it can do me no harm." 'When were you taken slik and what was the nature of the malady?" was asked. "It was about two years ago. The trouble was rheumatic in character-sciatica, they called it-and it was very painful indeed he difficulty began in my hip and extended he whole length of the limb, crippling me completely. I suffered intensely from it, and the ordinary treatment gave me not the slightest alleviation. I was under treatment about a month as stated, but grew worse instead of better, and was fast becoming dis-"What brought Pink Pills to your notice?"

"My son ca'led my attention to an article n a paper, in which it was stated that a Mr. Struble, of Branchville, a village in this county, had been greatly benefited by their use, and suggested that it would be a good plan to try them. But I was skeptical in regard to their value-in fact, I had no con-Hence in their efficacy and rather laughed at the suggestion. But the trouble increased and I was badly crippled. A few days later my son was about to visit a neighboring own and suggested again that it might be well to try this much-talked-of remedy, and then consented. He bought me a box of hem an I I began taking them at once. At the end of a week I noted a marked improvenent, and by the time I had taken the first ml was able to walk without a cane. - I ntinued their use, taking several boxes, and am, as you see, in a very comfortable state of health.' Have you had any return of the trouble?"

"Not as yet, though at my time of life eventy-two, it would not be surprising if I hould have. If it comes, I should at once egin the use of the pills. I suppose I inerit a tendency to troubles of this kind-my nother died from them." "Did you ever note any ill effects from the ase of Pink Pills?" 'None whatever. They never disturbed my stomach in any way or caused me any annovance. Neither did I find it necessary may be desirable. I am able, as you see, to attend to my own work. The reporter thanked Mrs. Hotalen for her ourtesy and bade her good day. It is not often that one can witness such a complete recovery from such a pertinacious trouble at such an advanced age, and such instances annot fail to produce a profound impression. With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which varish before proper efforts-gentle efforts-pleasant effortsrightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

"Some time ago," said Clifton Arnsparger (of Paris, Ky.), County Attorney of Bourbon Co., Ky., "I taw the advertisements of Ripans Tabules in the Louisville Courier-Journal, and believing it was the remedy I needed, I determined to get some of the Tabules. There was no name attached to the advertisement, so I wrote to the publishers of the Courier-Journal and was referred to the Ripans Chemical Co., 10 Spruce st., New York, from whom I obtained a box for 50 cents. I had been greatly troubled with sick headache; but since I secured Ripans Tabules, whenever I begin to feel symptoms of sick headache or sour stomach, I take one or two Tabules and escape all the terrors of a splitting headache. One taken after eating has aided my digestion and made me feel like a different person. I find I now can get the Tabules from a local druggist, (Signed). CLIFTON ARNSPARGER, September 13th, 1895."
