

The Carolina Watchman.

VOL. I. No. 39.

SALISBURY, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1905.

WM. H. STEWART, EDITOR.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION: OUR OLD STAND, 120 WEST INNISS STREET, NEXT TO HARPER'S LIVERY STABLE

CONCORD AND CABARRUS COUNTY.

Negro Arrested for Selling Liquor—Man With a Trade Dollar and Peculiar Conscience—Other Items.

Concord Times, Sept. 15.

About 700 bales of cotton were sold on this market last week.

A. E. Lentz will move his family to Salisbury about October 1st.

Rev. J. A. Farrington, pastor of the Main-street Methodist church at Salisbury, is assisting Rev. B. F. Carpenter in a series of meetings at Epworth this week.

Rev. W. A. Dutton, of Gold Hill, who has served the St. Stephens pastorate for nearly six years, has received a call from the Iredell pastorate. It is not known whether he will accept or not.

A horse belonging to J. W. Furr ran away with a new buggy Wednesday. Mr. Furr's little girl was thrown out, but, strange to say, was not hurt. The buggy was torn to pieces, and is almost a complete loss.

Bob Barron, of Gastonia, was arrested here this week for an assault with deadly weapon at Gastonia several days ago. He was arrested here at Brown's brickyard, and Wednesday Policeman Alexander, of Gastonia, came up and took him to that town.

Fred McDaniel, the 14-year-old son of J. McDaniel, of No. 8 township, ran away from home this week, and it is thought he is now in Salisbury. Mr. McDaniel says, so far as he knows, the boy had no reason for leaving. He forbids any one to hire him, and offers a reward for his apprehension.

We regret to chronicle the death of this good woman, which occurred last Thursday morning about 5 o'clock at her home in Mt. Pleasant. She was the wife of Ransom C. Blackwelder, one of the county's best citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Blackwelder formerly lived near Cold Spring, and had been residents of Mt. Pleasant for about a year. Mrs. Blackwelder was in her 79th year.

On last Saturday morning Dr. H. O. Herring received from Eugene Arthur, of Morehead City, one of the finest deer ever seen in these parts. It was a very large, magnificent doe. The animal weighed considerably over 100 pounds. It was turned over to J. F. Dayvault, who retailed the meat for 25 cents a pound. It "went like hot cakes" at that.

We have a young man, Mr. Cook, stopping over with us for a few days. He is to be married tomorrow. We extend our congratulations to him, for he is an old student of this place, and every old student who has graduated here needs a wife to make life pleasant for him. Mr. Cook's former home was Salisbury. He is going to Live Oak, Fla., to make his future home.—Correspondent Wake Forest.

John Guin, colored, was arrested Wednesday night for selling liquor and is now in the toils. He has been suspected by the police for some time. Wednesday two men reported to the police that they had bought some whiskey from him, and the officers sought and found him in a house in the negro quarter. When arrested he had several bottles of whiskey in the house. He and the witnesses were bound over to court.

Yesterday a Concord citizen had a trade dollar (worth 45 cents), made a nickle purchase at a store, and tendering his trade dollar received 95 cents in change. Later his conscience smote him somewhat and he went to the store-keeper, apparently much excited, and told him he had given him a

ANOTHER REALTY-GUARANTY CO.

It Absorbs the Business of Maupin Bros., and Will Deal Largely in Real Estate.

The Salisbury Guaranty and Realty Company is the name of another new corporation, which expects to do a real estate business on a large scale.

The charter, which was received last week, authorizes a capitalization of $100,000, of which $25,000 will be paid in on organization. There are 250 shares at $100 each. The company will buy, sell, mortgage, lease and convey real property, improve the same by the erection of buildings or otherwise; lend money for itself and others on real estate and other securities; collect rents and do a real estate business in all its forms.

The company will begin business October 1st in the rooms now occupied by Overman & Gregory, who will move to the rooms now occupied by Maupin Bros. W. C. and J. M. Maupin will manage its affairs, and being located in Salisbury and the other at Spencer.

Among the stockholders are: L. S. Overman, Jno. S. Henderson, F. H. Fries, of Winston; J. M. Maupin, W. F. Snider, W. C. Maupin, W. Murdoch Wiley, M. L. Jackson, T. J. Maupin, Dr. John Whitehead, E. C. Gregory, A. L. Smoot, Emile Clark and J. K. Link.

A NEWSY BATCH FROM GOLD KNOB.

What a Home Is Like Without a Newspaper—Seasonable Items.

GOLD KNOB, Sept. 14.—J. M. Proctor has been confined for the last few weeks with a lame back.

W. N. B. Miller, formerly miller at the Dutch Creek roller mill, of this place, has resigned to accept a position with the Rockwell Roller Mill Co. Mr. Miller is a good miller, and his leaving here will be much regretted by his customers. J. Travis Eagle succeeds Mr. Miller at this place.

Clarence E. Phillips has returned home from Shelby and Newbern, where he was making a canvass for school boys, and has gone to Trinity school to join his brother David.

Misses Sophia and Mary Stirewalt and Miss Mary Kennerley, of the Vance cotton mills, visited friends and relatives at this place recently.

The Goodman Bro.'s Sawmill Co. has changed hands. It will be known as the Goodman-Arey Co. after this.

Rev. P. M. Trexler has closed his school at this place. Mr. Trexler taught a very successful term.

What is home without a newspaper? Gossips says, "It is a home where the father wears overalls on Sunday, where the children blow their nose on their shirt-sleeves, and where the mother hears of things read in the papers and represents what she hears in a different way." Avoid this by subscribing for the CAROLINA WATCHMAN, only $1.00. See your agent.

LEE.

Death of Mr. Howell Taylor.

On Monday, the 11th, Mrs. C. M. Malone and G. A. Taylor, of this city, received the sad news of the death of their father, Howell Taylor, at his home in Stanly county. Mr. Taylor was 80 years of age.

Mrs. Malone and G. A. Taylor went to Stanley to attend the funeral of their father.

A dollar which he wouldn't take $1.50 for, and wanted it back. The store-keeper, thinking he had a valuable coin, refused to exchange the money. Question: Where does the "ease of conscience" come in?

MILLINERS MAY BECOME MILLIONAIRES.

The Misses Murphy Enter Suit for a Large Estate.

Misses Leona and Della Murphy, who are doing a millinery business on Inniss street, are suing for their grandfather's property, said to be located in a rich mining and growing Piedmont section of West Virginia and Maryland. The land amounts to 1,200 acres, and two towns are said to be built on it—Piedmont and Westport. Suit was entered five years ago, but for some cause was stopped by the uncle of these ladies, who seemed to have the matter in his hands, and has some of the papers still in his possession.

It is claimed that a Mr. Morrison, who was the business partner of these ladies' grandfather, sold the entire lot of land without authority, and that the titles are, therefore, defective.

The lawyers for the Misses Murphy say they can recover the property for their clients.

Southern Development Co. Elects Officers for Another Year.

At a meeting held by the directors of this company last week the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. Murdoch Wiley, president; W. C. Maupin, vice-president; A. L. Smoot, treasurer; J. M. Maupin, secretary.

Board of directors: W. M. Wiley, A. L. Smoot, H. C. Trott, M. L. Jackson and J. M. Maupin.

It was decided at this meeting that hereafter no Chestnut Hill lots will be sold for less than $250. This suburb is looming up as a fashionable quarter, and lots will no doubt soar high when the street cars run there.

Manager of the Union Copper Co. Visits Gold Hill.

H. F. Wierum, of the American Smelting and Refining Co. and manager of the Union Copper Co., which is operating the Gold Hill mine, took the Whitney train for Gold Hill Saturday morning, accompanied by Richard Eames, Jr., of this place.

That "Feathered Worm."

The publication in the News concerning the appearance of that "feathered worm," which has proven to be so poisonous, brought a number of the insects to the News office to-day.

Mr. Joseph Abraham, of the Virginia Life Insurance Co., brought in one early this morning, and later on Mr. W. H. Weddington brought in a twig with several of the worms clinging to it.

From all over the city reports are coming in as to the poisonous effects of the bite or sting of this worm. The small child of Mr. and Mrs. Burnett, who live on South Mint street, was stung yesterday by one of these worms, and the little one soon went into convulsions.

Over in Belmont several parties, old and young, have come in contact with this worm, and all have been worsted thereby.

The writer was told today of a child on North Graham street which was bitten on the hand by one of these worms, and the attending physician is afraid that blood poison will develop.

The sting or bite of the insect is evidently very poisonous, and the News' advice to all is to steer clear of the feathered worm that is now hanging around on the foliage, and especially on the rose bushes.—Charlotte News.

Wood! Wood!—Any one desiring to pay their subscription to the WATCHMAN in wood, can do so any time before bad weather sets in.

THE LEXINGTON MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Several Thousand People Gather to Witness the Ceremonies.

Last Thursday was a great day for Lexington and Davidson county. The unveiling of the monument erected in honor of the soldiers of the Confederacy was the occasion of the gathering, which is estimated at about 8,000, four or five hundred being old veterans. The day was ideal, and everything moved along smoothly from start to finish. The erection of the monument is due to the efforts of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The speaker's stand was in front of the county courthouse in the public square and near the monument, which is at the intersection of two of the main streets, and is quite an ornament to the town.

The appearance of Col. S. E. Williams, chief marshal, and Col. G. F. Hankins, O. E. Mendenhall and Wade H. Phillips, assistants, mounted, and followed by the carriages containing the Daughters and the Children of the Confederacy, elicited great applause from the throng around the speaker's stand.

In the stand, beside the speaker and those conducting the ceremonies, were the members and officers of R. E. Lee Chapter of the Daughters and visiting members of other chapters. Salisbury was represented by Mrs. J. K. Norfleet.

The exercises were opened by the singing of "The Bonnie Blue Flag" by the audience, led by Miss Gertrude Hamner. Dr. Leyburn followed with prayer, after which Capt. Robbins introduced Mr. C. B. Watson, of Winston-Salem, as the orator of the occasion.

Mr. Watson said the people of North Carolina descended from a line of mothers that for more than a thousand years had deserved and commanded the love and admiration of brave men, and gave a brief account of the State's participation in the wars from the Revolution down to 1861-65.

At the conclusion of the address the Lexington Silver Cornet Band played Dixie. After which Mrs. Penry, president of the local chapter of the Daughters, presented the following veterans with crosses: Adam Hedrick, J. H. Daniel, J. S. Turner, H. J. Cross, B. M. Williams and Wyatt Daniels.

Then followed the unveiling of the monument, which was surrounded by the Children of the Confederacy. The cords connected with the veiling was pulled by C. M. Thompson and C. A. Hunt, assisted by the children; and when the veil dropped a great shout was sent up.

The monument is 22 feet high and was built by the Carolina Marble Co., of Lexington, and cost $2,025. The top is a bronze figure of a Confederate soldier, six feet high, in full uniform and with a musket at ready arms. The base and shaft are of Vermont Barre granite. On the shaft is carved a Confederate flag, and on the sides of the base are drum-sticks, an anchor, cross-arms and swords. On one side of the monument is inscribed: "Our Confederate Dead." "Erected by the Robert E. Lee Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, September, 1905."

On the other side is this stanza: "Sleep sweetly in your humble graves, Sleep martyrs of a fallen cause, For lo, a marble column craves The pilgrim here to pause."

1861-65.

At the conclusion of the unveiling the veterans marched to Ford's park, where their annual dinner awaited them, followed by the Daughters and Children of the Confederacy.

After dinner the old soldiers

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE A. S. HEILIG.

The Council of St. John's E. L. Church Pay Tribute to His Memory.

Albert Sidney Heilig was born of Lutheran parents on the 26th day of March, 1865, and was received in Organ Evangelical Lutheran church by baptism in infancy, and was confirmed in the faith by the rites of confirmation in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church of Salisbury early in life by Rev. W. J. Smith, pastor. He came of a family for years prominently identified with the Lutheran Church of the State, and as a young man became a potent factor in his church and Synod. He was elected a deacon in said church April 12, 1892, and later he was made an elder, and served as such continuously to the time of his death, thus making him a member of the church council for more than thirteen years previous to his death. He gave to his church a life of service and devotion, and was a liberal contributor to its financial support.

Mr. Heilig was educated at Roanoke College, and afterwards became a lawyer by profession, and enjoyed an extensive practice as such at the Salisbury bar. He was honest, courteous and amiable in manner and disposition, and breathed love and charity all along his path of life. It was a beautiful Christian life that went out in his death the 28th day of August, 1905, and the Church and State loses much on account thereof.

Now, therefore, while the council of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church of Salisbury, N. C., bows in humble submission to the will and wisdom of an omnipotent God, it, in session convened, commends to the friends and loved ones of our departed brother for emulation his Christian life and character, and condoles the aged mother and brothers of our dear brother with its most tender love and sympathy, and invokes in their behalf the more healing love and sympathy of an All-merciful Father.

It is ordered that a page of minutes of the Council be dedicated to the memory of our deceased brother, and the secretary is directed to enroll this memorandum thereon.

C. T. BEENHARDT,
R. G. KIZER,
B. B. MILLER,
Committee.

September 6, 1905.

THE TAYLOR MATTRESS COMPANY

Incorporated with an Authorized Capital of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars.

R. B. Thompson, B. H. Hamilton and G. A. Taylor are the incorporators of the above-named company, and it is said they will begin operations as soon as $9,300 will have been paid in.

The charter was received last week, and is broad enough to enable the company to do everything pertaining to its legitimate business, local and general.

It is said to have a large brick building beyond Chestnut Hill on the Southern railway, but there is no machinery in it.

Dog Lost.—An ordinary sized common hound, black, with yellow breast and legs, answers to the name of "Fly." Lost near Salisbury, Saturday, Sept. 2nd. He has one large tit. $5 will be given for his return to J. M. HONBARRIER, Granite Quarry, N. C.

marched back to the courthouse, heard more speeches, and were dismissed amid the shouts and applause of the multitude.

LEXINGTON AND DAVIDSON COUNTY.

Young Man Crushed to Death—Money for Bonds Accounted For—Other Items.

Lexington Dispatch, Sept. 18.

Annie, the 8-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. McCrary, of Lexington, is ill of appendicitis, and was carried to Salisbury to have an operation performed. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. McCrary trust the operation will be successful, and hope a speedy recovery for the little girl.

H. Eugene Mock, the Davidson county young man who was killed at Springfield, Mo., Friday, the 1st, met his death by being crushed between two cars on the yards where he was employed. Mr. Mock was only 26 years of age, and had been married a little over a year. About five hundred people attended the funeral and burial of Mr. Mock at Midway, this county, on Monday afternoon of last week.

An itemized account of the $60,000 derived from the recent bond issue and expended in the construction of sidewalks and other public improvements is on file at the mayor's office. This account shows where every cent of the bond money went. It is open to the public, and Mayor Moyer will take pleasure in showing the same to any voter who may desire to examine this account.

Dr. H. Bayard Phillips, a son of Clerk of the Court H. T. Phillips, of Lexington, has accepted a position as professor of mathematics in the University of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Phillips graduated from Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore last June, receiving the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. During his last year at the University he was Fellow in Mathematics, the highest honor in his department. He is only 28 years of age, was the youngest man in his class, and probably the youngest to ever receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at this University.

Affray at Livingstone College.

The case of the State vs. Prof. E. S. Melton and Charles Harris, before the mayor last Monday, was somewhat of a surprise, it being the first of its kind from Livingstone College, a colored institution. Prof. Melton is a member of the faculty and Harris is a student. They engaged in a dispute, which ended by Harris striking the professor in the face with a brick and inflicting such a wound as to disable him from appearing in court.

Like Old Times.

Woodward had an exhibition of fancy gun play a few days ago which recalled the earlier days to the memory of old inhabitants. The trouble started just after a horse race, in which some of the animals themselves were wagered on the result. The winner went to the feed yard after the horses, and was informed that there was a feed bill against them. He went after the proprietor first with a "rope" and then with his gun. A deputy sheriff who tried to interfere in the melee was attacked by a friend of the horseman, who was in turn engaged by the city marshal. About the same time another festive cowboy was holding up a bakery with a Winchester, just for the fun of the thing, but was later persuaded to lay down his arms. Altogether there was as much gun play as in a Wild West show or a Gillies melodrama, and as few casualties.—Kansas City Journal.

Charles H. Price, Esq., who has been very ill, is improving.