The petition for the pardon of the White brothers is bitterly opposed by some of our people.

Lindsay Yarborough succeeds his father, J. T. Yarborough, as keeper of the toll bridge over the Yadkin river.

Mr. Irwin, manager of the Bell shoe store, has returned from a trip to Lynchburg, where he went to purchase a stock of shoes.

Another case of pocket-picking on Labor Day has been reported. A. M. Glover, of the St. Paul neighborhood, says he lost $28.

Young folks of South River will have a moonlight picnic on the river banks Saturday night, and will entertain a number of guests from Salisbury and elsewhere.

The beneficiaries of A. S. Heilig and Andrew Murphy, deceased, received last week checks for $8000 each from the Royal Arcanum—the full amount of their death benefits.

Dr. R. V. Brawley, Salisbury's eye specialist, has been appointed official oculist for the Southern Railway Company—which is quite a compliment to one so young in the business.

Belk-Harry Co. has a change of ad. in this issue of the WATCHMAN, to which your attention is called. The Belk-Harry Co. can be depended upon as being reliable in every particular.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows had a district meeting last Thursday afternoon and night to investigate the management of their affairs. The report of the work done since the last district meeting was very satisfactory.

A belated report of a marriage is to the effect that on September 5th Thomas Byrd, of Granite Quarry, and Miss Emma Morgan, of Salisbury, were united in wedlock by Justice Joseph Keeler. The couple will make Granite Quarry their future home.

Mitchell Adams, a young negro employed at the transfer sheds, being docked for lost time, a few days since, became angry and assaulted Mr. Jenkins, an aged white man, with a piece of iron, inflicting a slight wound on his leg. For this Adams was arrested and imprisoned.

W. Murdoch Wiley, formerly of Salisbury but now of New York, whose wife is in the sanatorium here for treatment, spent a day in Salisbury last week, and then left for Mexico to look after his mining interests there. Mrs. Wiley will follow him as soon as she gets well enough.

Two strangers of respectable appearance, one can judge by actions, were about to indulge in a little pistol practice on each other at the passenger depot a few days since, when a bystander yelled "Police!" and both skeddaddled. That is a magic word, and often "soothes the savage breast" when music and all else fails.

There was a tumble in Cotton the other day when Will Cotton tried to catch the outgoing Yadkin train; but the fall did not affect the market a particle, neither was Mr. Cotton injured, we are pleased to state.

W. H. Leonard, Salisbury's new jeweler, desires a portion of your patronage, and therefore makes his bow to the readers of the WATCHMAN in today's issue. Mr. Leonard is located on Main street in the building recently vacated by the postoffice. Give him a call. He will be glad to see you, and will treat you well.

R. H. Hardin, formerly located in Salisbury, was one of the parties indicted at the recent special term of the Federal court in the city of Greensboro, and Marshal Millikan was sent to Wilksboro to take charge of Hardin's stock of hardware; but Hardin had left for parts unknown, after soaking his creditors for $15,600.

Ladies residing on Innis street between Long and Shaver intend to petition the board of aldermen for the privilege of making a park in the middle of the street at the west end, such as adorned it several years ago. The ladies propose to maintain this park at their own expense, and therefore they expect to meet with little or no opposition in the board.

A. D. Wall, an old veteran residing in Rockingham county, was in Salisbury a few days since looking for his son. Mr. Wall says his son left home to take a position in Charlotte, but changed his mind and decided to return to Rockingham. A telegram from him in Salisbury saying he had missed his train was received by the father, which was the last heard of the young man, and Mr. Wall was much troubled.

Items From Faith.

FAITH, Sept. 19.—The South Yadkin Baptist Association will meet with the Faith Baptist church Friday before the fifth Sunday in October. A large crowd is expected in Faith on this occasion.

John Miller has moved into his new house.

Lawson Seaford bought a house and lot from John McNairy and has moved into it.

A young man arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peeler.

Cal. Wagoner sold his house and lot to Mert Underwood.

W. S. Earnhardt will soon have Harvey Beaver's new house done.

J. T. Artz has gone to town with his two mules to bring back a new wagon today. Several others here will do likewise in a few days, as there is much granite hauling to be done here now.

If the Southern Railroad Company would place empty cars on the side track and take out the loaded cars as fast as they are loaded, the railroad company and the Faith people would all make three times as much money as they do in the granite business. Forty car loads went off Friday, when they had an extra engine from Spencer to help handle the cars.

The new switchboard of the Bell Telephone Co. is being put in here today, and we can soon talk for hundreds of miles away, and we will have better service than the old line gave us. VENUS.

Salisbury Realty and Guaranty Co. Elect Officers.

The stockholders of the above company had a meeting Thursday night for the purpose of organizing and electing officers, when the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing term: J. M. Maupin, president; John S. Henderson, vice-president; W. C. Maupin, secretary-treasurer. Directors: John S. Henderson, A. L. Smoot, W. C. Maupin, J. K. Link, E. Clarke, Max Moses and M. L. Jackson.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. G. R. Wearn and Miss Kate S. Murphy are Married near Fayetteville.

News was received here Saturday of the marriage that morning at Hay Mount, the residence of N. A. Sinclair, near Fayetteville, of G. R. Wearn, of Kentucky, and Miss Kate Shelton Murphy, of this city, Rev. W. McFayden, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating, and Miss Kate Sinclair acting as maid of honor.

Captain Murphy's family being out of town that day, it is not known whether they were apprised of the wedding or not.

The bride is too well known to our readers to need an introduction; and Mr. Wearn represents the Smith-Courtney Co., of Richmond, Va., with headquarters in Charlotte.

The couple left for Greensboro, where the bride's mother is sick in a hospital. Their future home will be Charlotte.

Mr. Zophar Wicks and Miss Eloise Cowan Have Become One.

Miss Eloise, youngest daughter of the late Col. R. H. Cowan, of Rowan county, and Zophar Hicks, of Salisbury, were married last Thursday morning at the residence of the bride's mother, six miles west of Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Wicks left immediately for Pittsburg, Mr. Wicks' former home, and other points in Pennsylvania on their bridal tour, whence they will return and make Rowan their future home.

Mrs. Hicks is well known, and has many friends and admirers. Mr. Hicks is in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. as inspector of oils, and has been here for several years.

Mr. Will Johnston and Miss Jessie Sims get Married in Concord.

On Tuesday, the 12th, the family of Mr. Wm. W. Johnston went to Concord to witness the marriage of which the Concord Times says:

On last Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock Miss Jessie Sims, daughter of Mr. John A. Sims, was led to the marriage altar by Mr. Wm. W. Johnston, son of Mr. T. P. Johnston, of Salisbury. The parlor of the country home of Mr. Sims, two miles south of Concord, had been beautifully decorated with flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. H. Cornelison and the wedding march was played by Prof. R. L. Kessler, of Charlotte. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston took the north-bound train for a bridal trip to northern cities. The bride is deservedly popular in Concord, and she leaves Cabarrus with the hearty good wishes of a host of friends for a life of happiness.

Dr. D. A. Gray and Miss Annie May Stallings are Married.

On Tuesday night of last week Dr. D. A. Gray, of Arkansas, and Miss Annie M. Stallings, daughter of Rev. Dr. Stallings, of Spencer, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony taking place at 7 o'clock at the home of Dr. Stallings.

The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. Wm. H. Rich, and witnessed by members and several friends of the family, and the happy couple left that night for their future home in Arkansas, carrying with them the best wishes of the many friends of the family for their prosperity and continued happiness.

home in Arkansas, carrying with them the best wishes of the many friends of the family for their prosperity and continued happiness.

Mr. Beck and Miss Grubb are Married in Jerusalem.

Miss Lula Grubb, who has been living with Mrs. M. C. Ruffy for several years, was led to the honeymoon altar by Jessie Beck, of Davie county, on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. Beck came here for Miss Grubb, and they went through the country to Jerusalem, where they were made one.

Among the Sick Folks.

J. M. Clapp, who was in the accident to the shop train, is improving, and hopes to be able to return to work in a few days.

Walter Crump has sufficiently recovered from his wounds to have the stitches removed several days ago, and is now able to be out on the street again.

George Rusher, an employee at the Spencer shops, is ill with blood poisoning, and has gone to his father's home at the pumping station of the city water works.

Mrs. Thos. H. Vanderford continues to improve, but was contemplating a trip to Florida to complete her recovery, which may be prevented by the yellow-fever epidemic.

Small Farms.

Rev. P. R. Law has discovered by a study of the census reports that more people in Robeson county own the farms they live on, and that there are more separate farms in Robeson, than in any other county in the State. Robeson is, excepting Mecklenburg, perhaps the most prosperous county in the State. Is not this an argument for the small farm? Mr. Law seems to think so. Writing in the Lumberton Robesonian, he says that, for obvious reasons, these two facts—farm owning and many separate farms—are sources of strength, stability and prosperity. The sturdiness of France, financially and politically, is grounded in the fact that the average size of its farms is ten acres, and therefore there are so large a number of farm buildings. It means more conservatism and more equable business life and more general prosperity. The perils of our republic, it is accepted as true, lie in the extremes of more property holders on the one hand and the very large property holders on the other. The conserving element and these extremes that would rend and ruin is the farmer who owns and works his own land and possesses no large means.—Charlotte Chronicle.
