The Rowan Rifles returned last week from the Raleigh Fair.

Work on the tower at Organ church is to begin this week.

A party of New Yorkers went down to Whitney Monday.

James Ketchie has been quite ill with malarial fever the past week.

The public schools throughout the county will open November 6th.

Cotton was ten cents last week and more of it was sold than for some weeks past.

R. B. Brittain has moved into the residence he recently purchased of S. J. Swicegood.

The Young Men's Baraca Class of the First Methodist church had an interesting meeting last afternoon.

G. A. Miller, a farmer of southwestern Rowan, expects to buy a farm near Taylorsville and move there soon.

The Central Labor Union at a recent meeting decided to have a smoker the first Wednesday night in November.

Warren Carter, a colored cabman, by an accident had his arm broken last week and is now carrying it in a sling.

Joe Miller, the negro who cut Engineer Butner two months ago, was caught in Danville last Friday and brought here for trial.

E. K. Leeson will come here from Raleigh to act as assistant to T. H. Stiff, the representative here of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

There was a fight at the Kesler mill Saturday night in which a half dozen took part. This place seems to be getting up an unenviable reputation in this line.

Owing to the collapse of the stairway in his residence, Harry C. St. Clair fell from the head of the stairs to the first floor and sprained an ankle.

The two-year-old child of Mr. Matherson, of the county, had his arm broken and was rendered unconscious by falling from the barn loft last Friday.

After being closed for several weeks, Council street has been opened. This street has been given extra attention, and is expected to give many years of splendid service.

Mrs. W. S. Blackmer, who was in Florida under quarantine, by securing a special permit from the governor of Alabama, managed to get through the quarantine lines and came home last week.

W. M. Rath, while driving in the country last week with his little son, left his buggy to shoot a hawk. The discharge of the gun caused the horse to run off with the buggy and the boy for several hundred yards, the little fellow holding on to the reins and Mr. Rath in hot pursuit. Happily the runaway was stopped without any injury being done.

An interesting meeting was held by Hickory Camp, Woodmen of the World, Tuesday night. The camp was addressed by Mrs. Stuart, who afterwards organized a woman's auxiliary.

Summer Heilig, of Rockwell, by mistake last Friday put a side of bacon he had bought into some one else's vehicle, who drove off with it, and Mr. Heilig lost his bacon. His loss was the other's gain.

George Hillman, a farmer of southern Rowan, was thrown from his wagon Saturday evening, got his arm broke and was considerably bruised. Mr. Hillman's team ran away, which caused the accident.

The old and young members of Cherry Hill (Davie county) Lutheran church had a reunion meeting Sunday, old members from far and near being present, and were addressed by Rev. R. L. Brown, who lives on Route 6.

R. Lee Crawford received Saturday from Gov. Glenn a commission as a delegate to the Southern Immigration and Quarantine Conference, to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., on the 9th and 10th of November.

There will be a special examination of teachers at the courthouse by the County Superintendent of Schools for white people on Thursday, November 2d, and for Negro teachers on Friday, November 8d.

Geo. P. Beverly went to Charlotte last week to consult with Col. Rodman, who succeeds Capt. Price as division counsel for the Southern, in reference to Mr. Beverly's future location. Monday Mr. Rodman was in the city. His headquarters will be in Raleigh.

At the last regular meeting of the First National Bank's board of directors the vacancy caused in the board by the death of Captain Price was filled by the election of Walter S. Blackmer, the grandson of the late Major Cole, the first president of the bank.

Two dear little Negro boys, Johnnie White and Garfield Austin, got into a dispute Saturday night, and as words seemed to make little impression, they got busy with stones and pistols. Evidently not intending to hurt, they fired away at the head of each other, breaking stone and smashing bullets. They were sent to jail to await court.

A colored woman named Wash. Henry last Friday reported a gambling den on Council street near the depot, of which Sallie Hogan was said to be proprietress. Chas. Smith, a negro, was also involved, and both were arrested. At the trial next morning the evidence to bind over the accused, all parties were fined $5 each for disorderly conduct. Quiser ending—on trial for one thing and punished for another.

An Old Resident Dies.

Mrs. Ann B. D. Brown, widow of the late Capt. Williams Brown, died at her house on Church street October 17th. Mrs. Brown was well known by about all the older residents of Salisbury. She was 70 years old and died quite suddenly. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church Thursday morning.

A Native of Salisbury Honored.

Dr. J. T. Wright, born here but now residing in Winston, has been by an invitation to read a paper on some subject before the International Congress of Medicine, which meets at Lisbon, Portugal, next April. The doctor has accepted the invitation.

A Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure for head ache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at all drug stores.

A Close Call for Mr. Lyerly.

As the passenger train on the Yadkin road was near Crescent station Saturday evening Lewis J. Lyerly, a resident near that place got off while the train was making good time. As it happened, some one saw him fall. The train was stopped and Mr. Lyerly was picked unconscious, scratched and badly bruised. The back of his head struck the ground in his fall, and it is thought he was badly injured. He became partly rational in less than an hour, and stated that he thought the train had stopped. It was fortunate he was seen, as a freight train was following close, and the chances are he would have been mangled.
