AGAINST IMMIGRATION.

We notice there is considerable effort being made to get some movement on foot to obtain for North Carolina a great influx of laborers. It seems the main point is to secure what some are pleased to call a "good class" of foreign immigrants, and for which various inducements are to be offered, one of which we note is ten acres of land to be given under certain conditions. Just why it is desirable to foster any class of immigrants we are unable to say, but there are a number of reasons that suggest themselves. The first is cash. This can be gained in several ways: by transportation to-day and hereafter, by the sale of land and lots, not to the poor devil to be thus used as a tool, but to the capitalist who will be told that laborers are plentiful and wages low, thus the "wages law" will be used to catch the investor and reduce the wage-earning of those who are here. Cash, therefore, is, we believe, the entire game. North Carolina is not suffering for development, if it takes 20,000 years to bring it up equal to Connecticut, there would be no harm done. It is true we have plenty of developing to do, but it is also true we have plenty of time in which to do it. Happiness and contentment is worth far more than most of the so-called progress that is grinding the lives out of thousands and thousands of the laboring class every day. The statistics in this line are appalling. *How many Railroad presidents, bondholders, ship-owners, coal mine owners, captains of industry, men who use the laborer for a cat's paw and get the money, do you hear of being caught in mine explosions, railroad wrecks, and various other accidents? Does any one suppose they want immigrants to sit around and look pretty? Some may want them for company, as the ink is hardly dry on the naturalization papers of some of the would-be "benefactors."

As stated above, North Carolina is not suffering for development. The natives of the State owe it to themselves and their posterity, to see to it that the wheel of progress should not roll any faster than they are able to utilize her natural advantages and raw materials. Never mind what other states are doing or how fast they are burning their little candles, the hotter and bigger the fire the more it will consume and the sooner will the end be reached.

The idea of giving some immigrant ten acres of land when there are thousands of our native people who do not own a foot, is preposterous. Could a more effective effort be made to degrade and crowd out so many of our own people? How a patriotic son of North Carolina can be induced to propose or endorse such an idea is a puzzle of peculiar characteristics. But woe, when the beasts get a taste of blood, the lambs will surely suffer.

However much one may regret the circumstances this is truly an age of materialism, and, like a balance, the higher it goes with fickle fancies and the heartless rage for dollars and dimes, the lower will go the value of man, and especially the individual who labors for his daily bread.

This so-called progress, this materialistic development, is but the craze of money-hunting in which none but the rich or fortunate can take part. Of what value such development, such progress when the happiness and contentment of the people is destroyed?

ed? When the foreigner with his ten acres of land and home will rule both in the State and in society? That is what the movement means, that is where it will lead. That is where it has led a number of our large cities and some states. We need to make use of the experience of another, and, we believe, those who oppose these efforts of the money mongers should at once perfect a state-wide organization for the purpose of combating them. We have the power to elect the next legislature and the power to instruct our members to oppose any proposition that may be offered, and if necessary, pass restrictive measures. This was successfully done at the last legislature, but it seems the Governor and some others are determined to over-ride the people's wishes, and it is high time they are reminded that the people still have a voice in their internal affairs and that they propose to exercise their rights, whether the money-mongers make a dollar or not.

*Pittsburg, Jan. 14.--More men are killed and maimed in Allegheny county in peaceful pursuits in one year, it seems than are killed and wounded in the great battles of history. Statistics for the last year show that there killed and injured in the iron and steel mills and blast furnaces 9,000, in other mills, shops and factories, 4,000 either died or were maimed, while the coal mines swell this figure to 4,060 more, and the railroad victims include an additional 400, making up a grand total of 17,400 who were killed or injured in one year. In addition to this number, there are many cases that are not reported.

It is a peculiar thing to us how a newspaper can endorse the make-up and style of another paper without making every possible effort to attain a similar appearance itself, especially in this true when the would be flatterer has all means necessary for doing so.

Whether Esquire Kimball, of China Grove, did the proper thing in imposing a fine upon Prof. Gibbs for the excessive punishment of a pupil of his school, or not, we are unable to say, but we heartily endorse the idea of holding a school teacher strictly accountable whenever he allows his passions to get the best of his judgment and mistreats any child under his care. The barrel-stave pedagogue is not deserving of much consideration in North Carolina.

R. D. Douglass, of Greensboro, who failed to secure the position of postmaster of his city, is still meandering in the bramble for a job, and, having spied afar the "posish" of assistant district attorney, now hanging unusually heavy upon the shoulders of one A. H. Price, of Salisbury, he has thrown his ears forward, raised one fore-foot and making decided appearances of an intended effort to rob Mr. Price of his little all. What a pity! And Blackburn is so "all-fired" disinterested.

It is a pleasure to see The Danville Register take ground in opposition to compulsory education. Being in the minority is one thing that has never pestered The Observer; it is quite accustomed to that; but being entirely alone is somewhat different. We welcome this Virginia ally.—Charlotte Observer.

There are many ways of killing a thing than by adverse criticism. One of which is to never mention the subject. This has been our policy concerning compulsory education. We have not, however, been hugging the idea that we were entirely alone, although this is our first knowledge of the Observer's company.

of liberally using our fertilizers, is to pay off a mortgage on the old farm. Read the following from Messrs. W. Henry & Son, owners of the Magnolia Fruit Farm, Durant, Miss. "We made $300 from one acre strawberries, on which your fertilizers were used. Eight years ago we bought this place at $20 per acre. It was then considered to have been worn out twenty years before, but by liberally using
