

THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

WM. H. STEWART, Ed. and Pub.

Published Every Wednesday at 130 West Innis Street

Subscription Price $1 per year strictly cash in advance

Entered as second-class matter Jan. 19th, 1905, at the post office at Salisbury, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

SALISBURY, N. C., April 25th, 1906

B. B. B.: Boyden, Blackburn and bossism. Which will you take?

We are indebted to our friend W. T. Bost, for assistance in getting up local material for our last issue.

Look up your receipt and see when your subscription expires and make it a point to renew at once, while the cheap rates last.

Blackburn's acquittal will make him a bigger dog than ever, but whether this will stop the row in the republican camp or not remains to be seen.

H. L. Smith, an experienced newspaper man, who has been at Beaufort, N. C., for a year or more, is now a part of the WATCHMAN's force. Mr. Smith was with us several years ago and we are glad to have him back.

It is extremely amusing to see a mere weekly newspaper put a daily, weekly and a force of hirelings in a race for their existence. THE WATCHMAN is now doing this very thing and it's dead easy. See them wiggle like a worm that has been tread on! But pshaw! This is little and ignoble and we shall pursue it no farther.

Remember the price of THE WATCHMAN is $1.00 and that after June 2nd no one can get it for less. So if you intend to renew do so now and take advantage of our reduced rates. To those who renew on or before June 2nd, the price will be 75 cents, cash, but should you get us one new subscriber at 50 cents, we will make the renewal 50 cents also. This is to induce prompt renewals and at the same time increase our list. Let us have your name at once. We do not make the 50c price to a new subscriber except when he accompanies a renewal. The price to new subscribers otherwise is $1.

Last week the Democrats of Stanly county held their county convention. It was one of those old-time Democratic love feasts. Of it the Stanly Enterprise says:

"It was a strong and representative body. The occasion was one in which the ambitions and aspirations of men were ignored and when the office sought the man."

Stanly has been under Republican rule for the past two years, whether good or bad we do not know, and this is the cause of the Democratic love feast. We mention this for the purpose of "drawing a bead" on the cause of this Democratic feast. It stands out so very plain that defeat will bring a party to its senses as well as individuals that it is a point worth the consideration of all true Democrats. We wish it could be avoided, but it is very plain that the Democratic party of Rowan stands in great need of a similar experience, and, it may be remarked in passing, nothing is so well calculated to bring about such an experience as the tyrannical domineering of a bombastic and demagogical boss. This is a matter for those who really believe in Democracy to consider. If Democracy stands for anything it stands for the untrammelled rule of the people, not a self-constituted boss. It is not an organization instituted and held together for the purpose of controlling public office and public patronage. It is not intended as an institution for exalting self-constituted ring masters to places of honor, which they dishonor; to positions to represent the people, but whom they misrepresent; to positions of trust, but generally grossly abused; to guardians of the public funds, and of the people's rights, but which they of late years often spend for private interests, and trample their rights under foot, and the list can be stretched indefinitely in a like manner, only being limited by the number of subjects considered. We believe in and love the old time Democracy, but the latter day creed of "greed, graft and grab" is too unpalatable for our appetite, and we may add there are others who are not falling over themselves to get a taste of this new dish of dog-meat and hair. Why go to a primary when you know your vote has already been counted for the boss's pets, regardless of how it is cast? Why take part in a primary where honesty is not wanted and a legalized primary is denied by the boss?

Raise Your Food Supplies at Home.

This is a year when the farmers of the South should fully show their loyalty to themselves, their families and their country by materially increasing the acreage of food supply crops on every farm, and thereby holding the production of cotton within the limits of legitimate and necessary consumption. Let every farmer hereby pledge himself to this policy and carry into practical operation the advice of the Southern Cotton Association. The Association appeals to every farmer to cut his cotton acreage 25 per cent. below the acreage planted in 1904, and to increase his food supply crops proportionately. If this policy is adhered to, profitable prices for cotton can be maintained, and their independence assured.

HARVIE JORDAN, President Southern Cotton Association.

Junior Council at Lyrly.

A Council of the Jr. O. U. A. M., has been instituted at Union Academy, Lyrly, in this county. Rowan now has eleven Councils of the Junior Order. OUR ROLL OF HONOR.

Names Continue to Flow Our Way Both From Town and Country.

As evidenced by the subjoined lists of names it will be seen that our rapidly increasing list of subscribers is by no means confined to the country districts, but there are hundreds right here in Salisbury, where the dailies are thrown in their homes, who are friends to fair play, justice, unexaggerated and uncolored accounts of the events of the week, that are freely sending in their names to THE WATCHMAN, the only unsubsidized paper printed in the county. Those who have paid are as follows:

A A Hart, E F Eaton, A S Correll, P E Sloop, Edward C Safritz, H A Wyatt, Orlin Cruse, C R Lyrly, J E Gaither, J B Rex, J C Cranford, B C Cauble, C G Frick, Mrs Lizzie Howell, Robert M Ritchie, Carr Smith, M A Agner, J Rowan Davis, Dr I H Foust, W A Cress, Jas T Juliard, Jno C Rinehart, W C Kluttz, G M Bassinger, Jno C Goodman, John H A Barger, Geo M Cauble, G W Corriher, Jas M Castor, D C Lingle, Jacob F Castor, A H Pool, A J Winecoff, H N Woodson, Jno E Beaver, Miss Mattie Chatham, R A Wood, Jno C Julian, J H Williford, W P Peacock, Lawson M Kepley, R L Stiller, A J Rary, W H Smith.

LONESOME LIST.

The following have discontinued their subscription to THE WATCHMAN, one on Route 3, city; one at Cleveland and one at China Grove. We feel sorry for the members of the lonesome list. Keep off of it.

DEATHS.

John H. Albright was born July 10, 1860, died April 18, 1906, age 46 years, 9 months and 8 days. He leaves a wife and 6 children to mourn his loss. He had many friends. He was well thought of by all who knew him. Mr. Albright left Rowan about 6 years ago and died at his home in Caldwell county. Rev. D. R. Goodman officiated at the funeral services.

Mrs. Elizabeth Isenhour died last Sunday at the home of her daughter in the Woodleaf neighborhood. The deceased was 87 years of age and was the oldest resident of that community. The funeral was held at Unity church on Monday.

Dr. Wm. Leazar, of Enochville, who has been in bad health for some months, died at his home last week. Rev. J. L. Morgan conducted the funeral services.

Memorial Day Exercises.

On Thursday May 10th, there will be exercises appropriate to the day at the white graded school. Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Cox will be the speaker of the occasion and will deliver the annual address. After exercises by the school the children will march to the different cemeteries and decorate the graves of the Confederate dead.

Population Doubled.

A prominent citizen of Barber's Junction was in town one day last week and in the course of a conversation remarked on the rapid growth of Statesville. "But," said he, "our town has outgrown any in North Carolina. It has doubled its population within the last sixty days."

A Statesville citizen, always interested in the welfare of his home town and being jealous of the increasing growth of other towns as compared with that of Statesville, asked for an explanation.

"Well," replied the gentleman from Junction, "on February 15th we had a total population of three; today we have six."—Statesville Landmark.

No Secrets in this Letter.

MY DEAR MRS. WIDE A. WAKE:

It is with much pleasure I write these few lines to one who can fully appreciate their importance.

The last time you stopped long enough to look around, you know what a panorama of beauty, what a wonderful display in every variety of useful, ornamental and attractive merchandise met your eye at every turn.

You saw how we have studied economy and convenience for you and all our friends.

You saw how we have ransacked the markets of the world hunting for the best, the most useful, and most economical goods in every line for you and yours.

You saw how we have sought to make our house so home-like and natural that you would feel entirely at home with us, in fact feel that our house is yours.

You know how our girls tried to show you the new and pretty things and how they tried to please you.

We hope you were pleased in every way. But I want to tell you that we have made great improvements in nearly every department and you will be better pleased than ever when you come again.

More new lines and more new goods; better values and better service. These are the good things we have for you. I want to call your special attention to our great Tinware business. It is not likely that another store in this State handles more tinware than we do. Of course there is a reason for it. The large stock, the perfect assortment, the low prices. No wonder the people come to us for many miles. They get what they want and it saves them money.

As often as you can come in we shall be glad to see you, and we hope to see you again soon.

Oh! Don't let me forget to tell you,

We'll have another

One of Life's Chief Pleasures

To a great many people is a drive in the open behind a spirited horse, or a span of horses of like ilk. To be sure the carriage counts for much in the general enjoyment, and it is our mission to supply the demand for high grade vehicles. We also have medium and very low priced goods if you want them. How well we fulfill our mission will be attested by a visit to our salerooms.

The Thing to Hitch to is reliability, in harness as in most everything else. When you can get a real, genuine standby, coupled with moderate prices, you obtain a maximum of satisfaction. Our not very modest claim is that we can supply you with anything and everything in the harness line—everything that is worth the having, that is—at reasonable prices. Try us.

the reason of our successful sales of Buggies, Surreys, Wagons and other vehicles generally denominated "Carriages and Wagons." There's quality of material and workmanship—which insures durability; there's style in designing and fashioning; there, every modern device of merit for producing ease in riding for the driver, ease in traction for the horse; there's moderation in our price list.

We are selling for the next fifteen days bargains in two-horse wagons. Welcome to see and get our selling figures. We need room and must move the goods for that purpose. Now is your time to buy if you would save money on your spring purchase.
