

Dead Body on Porch.

Geo. Mullis, an elderly citizen of North Iredell whose home is near Jennings postoffice, was found shot to death on the piazza of his home this morning by members of his family. It was known that Mr. Mullis had gotten up during the night and gone out of the house, but no one discovered that he never returned, until this morning, when his dead body was found. It was at first thought that he had been murdered but, upon examination, a pistol was found near him and there were signs of powder burns on his clothes, indicating suicide.—Statesville dispatch.

Miss Louise Vogler Dead.

Miss Louise Henrietta Vogler died at the home of her brother, C. S. Vogler, at 616 Ninth street, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. She was 60 years old and leaves three brothers, Messrs. S. C. and James A. Vogler, of this city, and Lewis A. Vogler, of Salisbury. Miss Vogler was a good woman, and had been a faithful worker in the Brevard Street Methodist church ever since it was organized, she being a charter member of that church.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. L. Nicholson, will be held at Brevard Street church at 5 o'clock this afternoon.—Charlotte Observer, June 25th.

Work at Gaston Shoals.

The sole topic of conversation in Gaffney now is the work that is being put in daily at Gaston shoals, on Broad river, in Cherokee county. Oscar Shanks, a Pittsburg contractor, is in charge of the construction of the immense power plant that is to be erected there, and the financial end of the deal is in the care of a number of Pittsburg capitalists. The stock of the company is said to be $1,000,000. About 1,000 laborers will be employed in the great work. This means much to this city and Gaffney is naturally tremendously interested. The work is one of vital interest, supplying as it will all the nearby towns with electric power.—Gaffney, S. C., dispatch.

An Interurban Road.

The proposition to build an interurban railroad from Winston-Salem to Yadkin county is growing in favor here, and several prominent citizens will probably attend the mass meeting to be held at Yadkinville July 4th, when addresses will be made explaining to the people of that county the advantages of an electric line. Several capitalists from the North have been here investigating the matter, and those in a position to know say that if Yadkin will do her part there will be no trouble in raising the necessary money to build it.—Winston Sentinel.

What the Spinal Column is For.

Representative Fitzgerald, says the Brooklyn Eagle, has a bright little youngster in the public school. The other day the boy reported to his father that he was studying "anna tomy."

"What's that?" asked Mr. Fitzgerald.

"It's all about the system and the bones," said the boy.

"Do you know anything of the bones?" asked Mr. Fitzgerald.

"Yes," said the proud youngster. "There is the spinal bone that runs up and down your back. Your head sits on one end and you sit on the other."

Office to Remain in Asheville.

The Asheville Citizen has received word from Congressman Guder that the internal revenue office for this district will be retained at Asheville. It was believed the newly appointed collector would move the office. An effort was being made to have the office brought to this city, but work in this direction will no doubt be abandoned now.

Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of the county met last Saturday at the court house to select delegates to the State Convention, etc. A. H. Price was selected as temporary chairman, and Walter Burrage was named as secretary. In the permanent organization W. C. Rose was made chairman and Walter Burrage secretary. A motion that Blackburn be endorsed for Congress caused Mr. Price to take the floor. He made a talk for about thirty minutes, and some of those who heard it say many of his words had bark on them. It is evident from all accounts of the proceedings that Mr. Price poured himself out freely, and said about what he felt and thought regarding Blackburn, and all know they have not been playing they David and Jonathan act. Mr. Price did say, however, that if Mr. Blackburn was nominated, he would vote for him, and would not take the stump against him as had been reported that he would do. All the Republicans in the county were made delegates to the State Convention, and instructed to vote for Blackburn. When the vote was taken on the proposition to instruct for Blackburn for chairman it stood 32 for Blackburn and 18 for Adams. The delegates are to be allowed to vote their relative strength on this question.

Just About Correct.

A man who fills his tank full whiskey and yells and curses is yanked up before the magistrate and fined so much and the trimmings for disturbing the peace. But a gentleman in a long tailed coat may come along and preach anarchy or socialism or pea-nut politics and create a spirit of distrust in the minds of the people—disturbing the peace and quiet infinitely more than the drunken vag and not a word is said—the papers print a column about his burning eloquence. Sad, but true.—Everything.
