C. D. Thorpe, who has been the agent here for some months for the Southern Express Company, has resigned. He has been succeeded by G. B. Caldwell of Concord.

A few days since a negro on a street car between here and Spencer raised a rumpus with a white passenger. The negro was chased from the car by other white passengers, and pursued for some distance, but he got away.

Chas L. Shaver, of Birmingham, Ala., is here visiting friends.

Expensive improvements are being made in the railroad yards at Spencer. The yard office is to be moved to a more central point, and some large transfer sheds will be erected.

James F. Henderlite, who has been a resident of this city for some years, has gone to Harrisburg. He has been made section master of the Southern at Harrisburg.

J. Will Jones, who was seriously hurt recently in a wreck on the Yadkin road, is still confined to his home.

The regular term of the Superior court will convene here next Monday, the 27th. Three of the alleged Livery murderers will be placed on trial, and the case of Gentle will no doubt come up also. There are a number of other cases which will occupy the attention of the court.

The Rowan Rifles have returned from Morehead City where they have been in camp for several days. Capt. Barker is quoted as saying that the court martial he asked for will be held in Statesville some time next week. No one who understands the situation can attribute any blame to Capt. Barker or his men for the occurrence of the night of August 6th.

L. M. Eller, who lives out on Route No. 4, near Union Church, was in the city Saturday. Mr. Eller showed us a specimen of some tomatoes grown on his place. He had a large, smooth one that weighed just 17 ounces. His patch is full of similar ones and presents a very pretty appearance.

Lillian, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Parker, died at Asheville, on the 14th. The remains were brought to this city and were interred in the Lutheran cemetery. Rev. C. I. Morgan officiated at the funeral.

A recent issue of the Winston Sentinel states that at a meeting held there of the Retail Furniture Dealers, of North Carolina, W. B. Summersett, of Salisbury, was elected secretary and treasurer.

Rich Watkins, the negro who was recently shot at Sugar Springs by another negro named Julius Miles, is dead. The man who did the shooting made his escape and has not been arrested.

A Curiosity.

The Enochville correspondent of the Concord Times says: "I saw something peculiar this week. H. A. Stirewalt has a pumpkin with the number 606 grown very plain on the rind, and right under the above number is 90. It is a curiosity."

The Lyerly Sale.

Several from this city attended the Lyerly sale. There was an immense crowd present and the articles brought a good price. One of the horses that was singled in the fire brought $35. The bed on which Mr. and Mrs. Lyerly were killed was not sold, as there was a large part of the head board burned out.—Statesville Mascot.

Stole the Typewriter.

Last Wednesday night some one broke into the ticket office of the Southern Railway Company at Spencer, and stole a new Densmore typewriter. Nothing else was taken. The agent has offered a reward of $25 for the arrest of the thief, or the return of the typewriter.

Accident to Funeral Party.

Thursday evening while Mrs. W. T. Lawrence and family were returning from Davidson county, where W. T. Lawrence had just been buried, the horses attached to their carriage were struck by lightning. The horses were thrown to the ground and the carriage turned over, but none of its occupants were injured. The party went to a neighboring house where they remained until another vehicle could be sent for them.

A Good Man Dead.

On August 16th, 1906, at Rockwell, N. C., Alfred Miller died at the age of 54 years, 10 months and 21 days. Mr. Miller had been in ill or feeble health for more than a year prior to his death. His life was an exemplary one, ever faithful to his duties as husband, father and citizen, faithful to his church. In his death Organ church, and his pastor, Rev. C. A. Brown, loses a warm friend. He was buried at Lower Stone church, his burying ground, after suitable services by his pastor, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. He leaves to mourn his death, a wife, two daughters and one son.

Lightning Does Damage.

The severe electrical storm that visited Salisbury late last Thursday afternoon, did considerable damage, and caused some scares. The residence of the late J. A. Mahaley at Council and Long streets, was struck by lightning, and several members of the family were severely shocked. The roof took fire, but the flames were subdued in time to prevent any serious damage.

Mrs. Bradshaw's boarding house on North Main street was also a victim of a lightning stroke, and Mrs. Bradshaw received a severe shock from which she has not yet fully recovered. The damage to the house was slight.

The cars of the Salisbury-Spencer line were put out of business, and it was not until Sunday that the cars resumed their usual trips. It was the worst storm of the kind that has visited Salisbury in some years.

Budding anarchy, truckling sycophancy, of course mob-rule is to be condoned when permitted by a member of the ring.

As to Obituary Notices.

We desire to say to our correspondents, and others, that we will be glad if, in future they will cut down their obituary notices to a reasonable length, and the one in this issue signed "X" may be taken as a sample of what we mean by a "reasonable length". We are glad to publish these matters provided they are not too long. We recognize fully the interest the family and friends of the deceased may have in these notices, but they are not of interest to many of our readers. Often we have to leave out items of news to make room for notices of the nature referred to. Please make them shorter.

CHEW Grape TOBACCO

"THIS IS A HORSE"

ONCE there was a small boy who wrote "This is a Horse" after trying for hours to draw a copy on his slate of a thoroughbred racer. He admired the horse, wanted it, but had neither the ability nor the experience to get him. He therefore tried to draw one. When his labors were complete, he looked first at the genuine article, then at the miserable imitation, and after long, deep study wrote THIS IS A HORSE, realizing his failure and inability to reproduce the genuine, and he knew without "This is a Horse" written below, no one would recognize what he had tried to make. Would-be competitors have tried for years to imitate Grape Tobacco. They make like plugs of similar size, but of less weight, and put in it all sorts of various concoctions, mixtures and kinds of Tobacco, but all failed (to get the business) and finally hit upon the small boy's plan, and printed on the tag "SOMEBODY'S SUN CURED." They all advertise and tell you that SOMEBODY'S SUN CURED tag is valuable. Of course it is (it cost about 15 cents per thousand) but how about the miserable imitation of Grape Tobacco the tag & on Somebody's Sun Cured tag no more makes good Tobacco than does THIS IS A HORSE! makes a valuable genuine horse.
