SALISBURY, N. C., SEPT. 12th, 1906.

We understand our friend Ab Lingle, Esq., has returned to the so-called democracy to help keep up its reputation.

What do your objections to boss rule amount to if you go to the polls in November and vote for his appointed candidates?

At last poor old Atlas has been relieved. Our pine-rooster statesmen have taken a portion of the responsibility off his shoulders.

A dispatch says that there are 500 stills in Wilks county, 33 licensed and some not in operation. Wilks seems to be a good place to go on a still hunt.

The people should remember that when the boss sends puppets to the legislature their burdens will be increased instead of being made more tolerable.

It is wonderful how you can hear some fellows severely condemn some measure, but when it comes to spending a cent to back up his opinions, he can not be counted.

The idea of these little sap-head teachers round about presuming to improve on the language of Shakespeare, Milton, Macaulay, et al. Just mention their names in the same breath and they melt like snow on a hot stove.

Indeed, why should any capable young man want to go to Washington and bury himself in some little clerkship when he can get the salary and stay at home? But such would be just plain stealing from the people, and yet the Democrats of Rowan are expected to vote this fall for a man who is accepting a $75,000 salary just this way. Great is graft!

Poor old Mecklenburg, with her proud record of road-building without the issuing of bonds, is now painting her face, filing her teeth and making preparations to visit the money sharks. Broken down aristocracy sells off a lot here, one there, then mortgages the old home, and, alas, she goes the way of all the world, Grand Record of business ability, economy and prudence, stop thy boasting, take down thy sign and fare thee well.

Recently, a mule at Lexington, Ky., was driven up near an automobile when he attacked it viciously with his fore feet. We have anxiously awaited an explanation of his muleship's conduct, but up to the present we have had nothing of a satisfactory nature. The only explanation that seems plausible is that he was a union mule and was afraid there were going to be more automobiles in the labor day parade than the rules allow.

In speaking of Mecklenburg's first effort to issue bonds for public roads the Observer says:

"If it carries, the vote will be recognized as an affirmation of the enlightened policy which has heretofore obtained, and an inspiring example to the other counties of the State. To these Mecklenburg, the foremost county, owes the obligation of this good example."

We are under the impression that Mecklenburg's excellent example and enlightened policy had come about so far without the issue of bonds. Whether or not, there are still some old fashioned people who do not think well of bonds, mortgages and those who wear clothes bought on time, Every true citizen should make it his business to see that the best men obtainable should be given the benefit of his vote in the coming election, and if in doing this every man entitled to vote would make it his business to do so, much good would thus be accomplished. Never mind about the party, vote for the man, and it will not be long until no one save men of the highest integrity and loftiest statesmanship would become candidates. The little gutter snipes, grafters and sots who dare to go where angels fear to tread, would thus be compelled to stay back with the drawers of water and hewers of wood. Shame! Shame!! That such things can now be truthfully said of the once proud democracy.

We are still of the opinion that the best thing that could happen for the good of the Democratic party and welfare of Rowan county is for said party to be defeated, partially, if not entirely; although it would be a very difficult matter to find better men than some of the party's nominees. For instance, J. Frank McCubbins, clerk of the court; P. A. Hartman, county commissioner, and Whitehead Klutz for the State Senate. If the entire ticket was composed of such men and their nomination was as truly the will of the people, not only would the party be a unit at the polls, but many others would gladly help swell the vote. Strife and discord would be eliminated, the party would be strengthened and the county benefited. This being true of the Democracy it would also be true of any other party, and in the case of both, or if the quality of the man and the good of the county is the object sought, why should it be objectionable to select your ideals from the nominees of each party? All this fuss and feathers about the country going to the dogs because a few Republicans get in office is only campaign buncombe and is calculated only to deceive and mislead the ignorant. If good men are placed in office, their politics amounts to very little. This, the people of Rowan are rapidly awakening to. No party has the moral right to denounce another so long as there is an equal amount of filth before its own door.

GENTLE IS ACQUITTED.

The Jury did not Think the Evidence Strong Enough to Convict.

The case against George Gentle is ended, and with the close of this case it may be asserted that there will be no more prosecution of the mob of August 6th.

A short while after the jury took the Gentle case, a verdict of not guilty was rendered. About all the evidence there was against Gentle was his statement to Mr. Kenerly and others as to what he did on the night of the lynching. The jury evidently believed that Gentle was so full of bad booze and hot air on the night in question that he did not know what he was talking about. Gentle has the reputation among those who know him, of being very fond of boasting of things he has done, which in reality he never did and could not do if he tried. Under the circumstances the verdict was no doubt a wise one, and but few people are disposed to criticize it. There are some other indictments against Gentle but it is not likely they will be pushed. Gentle was released Friday on bond. He intimates that he will remain at home in future and endeavor to cultivate closer intimacy with the soil on his farm.

Gentle's bond was made by P. A. Hartman, John F. Ludwig and J. H. McKenzie.

Salisbury to be Their Home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Parker left for their home in Salisbury last Friday, where they go to make their future home on account of Conductor Parker being transferred to a run on the main line between Salisbury and Asheville. They have many friends in this place who regret to see them leave. —Mooresville Enterprise.

A NUMBER OF DEATHS.

In the Realm of the Grim Reaper there is no Respect of Persons.

Jacob C. Brown, of Granite Quarry, died at his home, August 31st. Mr. Brown was 58 years of age. He leaves three children to mourn his loss, they are Joseph L., M. L. and Mary C. A. Brown. Mr. Brown was a highly respected and well-to-do farmer. He was a great-grandson of Michael Braun, the builder of the old stone house near Granite Quarry. Mr. Brown lived near the old homestead where he was born and reared. The funeral was held Saturday, September 1st, at Christiana church, Rev. N. D. Bodie officiating, and his remains were interred at that place. He was a member of Union E. L. Church.

Mrs. Mary L. Blackwelder, wife of Capt. Noah Blackwelder, of Cabarrus, sister of J. A. Yost, of Rowan, died at her son's residence, James Brown, near Enochville, Sunday morning, September 2nd, aged about 66. Mrs. Blackwelder was a daughter of Martin Yost. She leaves three children, Mrs. Amanda Earnhardt, of Cabarrus; Mrs. Julia Velock, of Rhode Island, and James Brown, who lives near Enochville. The funeral was held from Trinity E. L. church, Monday, September 3rd, her pastor officiating. The remains were interred at the same place. Her husband died in February one year ago. Mrs. Blackwelder was an excellent woman and will be greatly missed.

The remains of Mrs. Z. T. Hoffman, of High Point, who died on a train at Marion a few days ago, were brought to this city and prepared for burial at the undertaking establishment of G. W. Wright. Later, the body was forwarded for interment. The deceased was on her way home from Asheville and was accompanied by her husband and a son. Mrs. Hoffman was in apparent good health just prior to her death.

On Monday the remains of Clyde C. Krider, were brought to Salisbury and taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Jerry M. Brown, on South Main street. Mr. Brown was married last Friday night at Hazlehurst, Ga., and died suddenly on Sunday. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the residence of Mr. Brown, and the interment was in Chestnut Hill cemetery. The deceased was a son of the late Charles C. Krider, a former sheriff of this county. Clyde Krider left here about ten years ago, and recently engaged in business at Hazlehurst, Georgia.

Mrs. Jas. A. Gill died Sunday night at her home on Bank street, her death resulting from a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Gill was 74 years of age and had resided in Salisbury since girlhood. With Mrs. Gill when death came, was her husband, James A. Gill, two daughters, Miss Jennie Gill and Mrs. S. F. Pauling, of St. Matthews, South Carolina, and two sons, Engineer George Gill, of Raleigh and John Gill, Salisbury. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the residence, Rev. J. C. Rowe officiating. The remains were taken to Charlotte for interment.

The infant child of Thomas A. Lipe died Sunday. The remains were taken to Concord for burial.

News has been received here by friends, of the death in New Orleans yesterday, of Lloyd Swicgood. The deceased was a former resident of this city, and was well known here. The remains are expected here tonight.

The Largest, Best-Equipped and Cleanest Flat Plug Tobacco Manufacturing Plant in the World

The Reynolds factories, equipped with every modern appliance for producing the best chewing tobacco by a clean, sanitary and healthful process, under the direction of men who have made the business a life study, are located in the centre of the Piedmont tobacco belt, known to the world as the best productive soil for tobacco with an aroma so delightful, pleasing and appetizing that it created and popularized the fondness for chewing tobacco.

Only choice selections of this well-matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in SCHNAPPS and others of the high-grade Reynolds brands, and expert tests prove that this tobacco requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

SCHNAPPS is the brand that made the Reynolds factories famous as the manufacturers of the best and most popular brands of chewing tobacco, and made necessary the enormous growth from a small factory in 1875 to the largest flat-plug factory in the world. The men who started the Reynolds Co., in 1875, are directing it to-day. There are a greater number of manufacturers making imitations claimed to be just as good as SCHNAPPS than any commodity manufactured; yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed than the total amount of all imitative brands, or tobacco of similar appearance.
