

Death of Chas. D. McIver.

Dr. Chas. D. McIver, who was president of the State Normal at Greensboro, died suddenly Monday afternoon at 4:40. The deceased was one of the party on the Bryan special train. The train had left Durham but a short time, on its way to Greensboro, when Dr. McIver complained of an attack of acute indigestion. State Treasurer Lacy was seated by his side, when Dr. McIver turned to him and said "call a doctor, I am desperately ill." Mr. Lacy at once called for help, and Walter Murphy, of this city, A. D. Watts, of Statesville, and P. D. Gold, of Greensboro, hastened to his assistance. They laid the stricken man on the seat but he died almost instantly. Dr. Jones of Hillsboro, who was on the train, reached the dying man as quickly as he could but Dr. McIver was already beyond human aid.

Ohio Don't Want Bryan.

The Democratic leaders of the State have requested William J. Bryan to stay out of Ohio during the fall campaign. They fear that the Nebraskan's radical views may jeopardize the party's success in the State, but excuse their action with the announcement that the campaign will be devoted to State issues, and hence the peerless leader's aid will not be necessary.

It was on Thursday last that Mr. Bryan in Cincinnati declared that he would devote several days this fall stumping Ohio, visiting Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus and the close congressional districts. The Democratic candidates for congress, it was learned today, held a meeting at the Chittenden Hotel here yesterday and decided it would be unwise to bring Bryan into Ohio this campaign. Their decision was unanimous, and Harvey L. Garber, chairman of the Democratic State committee, was delegated to notify Bryan of the action. Bryan now says he will come when wanted.

Ohio is the first State in the Union to notify Bryan that his services were not desired. The action is significant in view of the sentiment of the rank and file of the party for Bryan before the latter returned from his trip around the world.—Columbus, O., special to New York Sun.

Jones has Been Located.

Willie A. Jones, the missing Hope Mills bank cashier, has at last been located and all rumors heretofore in circulation as to his whereabouts are set at rest. J. S. Jones, of Red Springs, father of the missing young man, writes the bank officials that he has at last heard from his son. He received a letter from him yesterday dated Petersburg, Va. In explanation of his strange conduct young Jones says that he went to Richmond, intending to return in time to be at the bank Tuesday morning after the legal holiday Monday, but that he got left in Richmond and fearing that he would be discharged from his place at the bank, sought another job. He obtained a position as telegraph operator for the Norfolk and Western at Petersburg, where he is now located.—Fayetteville special to Charlotte Observer.

The School Loan Fund.

A statement prepared in the office of the state superintendent of public instructions of the "loan fund" by the legislature two years ago to aid in the erection of public school houses $266,712.50 has been loaned in eighty-four counties.

These loans have assured the erection of new school houses in 636 school districts, valued at $954,885. The loans are made in such a way that each is thoroughly secured and there has not been a single default by any county or school district in meeting the payment on interest or principal.—Raleigh Times.

Negroes Sues for Damages.

Through Attorney G. W. Garland, of this city, the heirs of Fuller Porter, colored, have instituted proceedings against the Southern Railway Company, and the Southern Bell Telephone Company, on account of the killing of Porter at Spencer last February. Porter was literally burned alive by an electric wire dangling from a pole on one of the principal streets. Damages in the amount of $5,000 are wanted. Porter's life was insured for $1,000, and it is learned action will be brought to force settlement it being alleged by the company that he was killed by a voluntary act of taking hold of the wire, thus invalidating the policy.—Charlotte Observer.

Suicide in Guilford.

Walter Matthews, white man aged about 25 years and residing at Deep River, committed suicide by hanging himself. Going to his room in the back of the house, he tied a plow line to the rafters and then around his neck, jumping to his death. He was found about an hour later. No note or anything was left to throw light on the suicide. Matthews has been hard of hearing for some time and lately had become almost deaf. He was a young man of rather peculiar disposition and, on being aroused, was almost unmanageable. Saturday afternoon he engaged in a quarrel with a negro, who struck him in the face. This so angered the young man that he secured his gun and would have killed the negro had he not been restrained. Fear that he would be arrested, coupled with other things which he brooded over, probably caused him to commit the rash act.—High Point special to Charlotte Observer.

Death of a Newspaper Man.

Claude A. Matthews, city editor of the Charlotte News for a number of years, died at Asheville last Thursday where he had gone to recuperate his shattered health. Mr. Matthews was one of the best known newspaper men of the State, and was very highly esteemed by those who knew him. His death is a distinct loss to the newspaper with which he was connected so long, and for which he labored so faithfully and so intelligently. He leaves a widow and one child.
