GOLD KNOB.

Oct. 18 '06.

At last the rains have ceased and the sky is once more taken its cerulean here.

Jack Frost visited us last Friday morning with his overcoat on, killing cotten and everything he could devour.

Mrs. Eva Trexler, who was hurt by falling off her piazza is improving slowly.

Mrs. Andrew Barger is slowly improving.

P. M. Phillips is placing lumber on the grounds for a large hay barn to be erected soon.

There was a lot of ice last Friday morning.

The school committee met on October 6th and did a lot of business. The services of Miss Lucy Barrier was obtained as principal of the school, and Miss Clara Proctor assistant.

On the 5th Sunday in [September, Rev. F. M. Harr, pastor of St. Peter's E. L. church tendered his resignation as pastor, to take effect October 31, '06. The council of this church with deepest regret weighing down upon them accepted his resignation. Mr. Harr will preach for us, until the second Sunday in November, thence he goes to take a charge at Gibsonville, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Goodman, of Cleveland, N. C., spent a few days with Mrs. Katie Earnheart of this place.

Mrs. G. W. Park is slowly improving at her home.

Sidney A. Trexler broke the ice for the corn shucking this year.

"The harvest is great and the laborers are few," is the song of the cotton farmers of this section. No one can be found who will pick for love or money. Ten years ago when a farmer needed help he could get it any where. Today help is a thing of the past, but take notice, when a man makes up his mind to do a thing himself it is sure to be done.

On Sunday, October 7th, at the residence of the bride's father, Enoch A. Goodman and Miss Frances J. Park, was bound in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. F. M. Harr officiating. The bride is the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Park, of this place, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Goodman, of near Garfield P. O. Mr. Goodman has for a number of years been engaged in the lumbering business and is still making a success of it. His mill is located now near Barber's Junction, at which place Mr. and Mrs. Goodman will make their home for a while. The wedding was a quiet one and but few friends were present, the parties in attendance being as follows: Henry G. Park and Miss Roxie L. Trexler, P. Hilbert Lyerly and Miss Maggie Park sister of the bride. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to St. Peter's church where many congratulations were extended them. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life and a smooth road in their journey.

Southbound Railway Assured.

The surveyors have completed their work of locating the line for the Southbound Railway between this city and Wadesboro. Four engineers will be put on the line to make the necessary arrangements for bids from contractors. The only delay in pushing the construction work is in rights of way, which are being secured as rapidly as possible. When owners of land demand exorbitant prices, condemnation proceedings are being instituted. The building of the Southbound is assured.—Winston-Salem special to the Charlotte Observer.

LYERLY.

Well, it seems as if summer time has deserted us, so we must just call on the jar heads to do a little work.

It seems that cotton has made a change in price. Time for it to do something for the frost has played its game.

The cold weather shows the effect of frost, probably the rabbits had a feast for they have a keen eye for the business.

Now is the season for the politicians. We can already feel some effects, for the wind has been blowing for quite a while.

Gee, Bro. Lee is somewhat of a politician if not a poet, for he displayed his acceptance some time ago in the WATCHMAN to Hon. A. L. Lingle. Seems as if he tried to take Shakespeare's metaphor. [We would caution our friend Hustler against getting Shakespeare mixed up with the Bible.—Ed.]

Say boys, if you can't go with the girls, I would just creep in the bushes and throw rocks at the ones who can.

John C. Goodman did not go to Florida, or Florida must be near home. He has a position with A. M. Eller as clerk in his store at Craven. Wish him a great success in his new undertaking.

Lewis M. Agner has stopped work for the Southern. He will enter school at Crescent by November 1st. Lewis, you must not visit Faith too much.

We have heard much talk of kisses. Who can give a definition of a kiss?

H. A. L. Klutz, one of our up-to-date farmers, has purchased another farm of 160 acres, the price being $2,000. That's a very good price, but he has the dough all O. K.

G. M. Barringer and C. C. Lyerly have gone to Statesville this week where they will attend court.

C. M. Lyerly is hauling shingles for his new dwelling.

Berry Basinger, had the pleasure of taking a journey on the Jr. O. U. A. M. goat last Saturday night. That's right, hold him fast.

G. A. Boger sold a bale of new cotton last week, if not the first. Right in the gang.

Rev. N. D. Bodie has purchased a fine young colt from Thos. Lyerly.

If you are not through making hay Jack Frost will make it for you.

R. L. Roseman visited C. C. Lyerly Sunday evening.

The good time is coming. The 'possums' getting right, if nothing more than corn shucking nights.

G. W. Bringle, we hear, will move to Burlington October 22nd, where he will make his future home.

A. L. Lyerly will haul another car load of fertilizer this week.

There will be a Junior Order sermon preached at Union sometime in the near future. We are unable to name the date at this time.

THE HUSTLER.

Engineer Roneche at Baltimore.

Saturday night Engineer P. D. Roneche passed through here on his way to Baltimore to enter John Hopkins Hospital. He was accompanied by a trained nurse and Will Low, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. A telegram was received by relatives here Sunday, stated that Mr. Roneche reached Baltimore all right. A later telegram from Baltimore states that an operation has been performed and that the condition of Mr. Roneche is very favorable.

FAITH.

We had a big killing frost here October 11th and farmers are now digging their sweet potatoes.

The little one-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Fink, died October 10th. The funeral was preached by Rev. C. P. Fisher to a large congregation of relatives and friends.

A young gentleman merchant at the central telephone office the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Farmer.

A young granite contractor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barger.

All the cotton gins here are running on the new cotton crop.

Ed. Brown is having his residence painted.

Painters are at work on Lawson Ludwig's new residence.

George Peeler has another fine mule to haul granite to the railroad.

The painters have just finished painting L. M. Peeler's new residence.

W. S. Earnhardt, the builder and contractor, is building a new house for Adolphus Bame.

The big road between Salisbury and Faith needs work badly in some places, and the people are glad to know that they have a chance to get a county commissioner out on our side one time. If our man don't get there, he will almost, Watch and see.

The Latest in Cooking.

Pat Cotton, of Montgomery county, is one of a family of five children: Three brothers and one sister. The father was dead and their mother and sister were not in the best of health. It therefore devolved on the boys to do the cooking for the family. It was decided by common consent that one of the boys was to do the cooking each week.

According to lot it fell to Pat to do the cooking for the first week. He had heard that rice was one of the easiest dishes cooked, so he made up his mind that he would give the family rice for the first meal. After considerable trouble he managed to find a gallon measure full of rice in the pantry, and this he put in a large two-gallon pot, filled the pot up with water and placed it on the stove. By adding water from time to time, putting more pots and a dishpan in service, the family had the honor of sitting down to Pat's first meal, which consisted of four two-gallon pots, two dishpans and seven half-gallon jars of rice.—Charlotte Observer.

The Invitation Declined.

The chairman of the Rowan County Democratic Executive Committee, has received a communication from the vice chairman of the Republican County Committee, declining the request of the former for a point canvass between the county candidates.

ROCK.

October 15th, 1906.

Since it has stopped raining the farmers are going about, picking cotton, gathering corn, sowing oats, etc.

Corn crop, nothing extra. Cotton crop, short, and the recent frosts may cut the crop 1-8 more short. The sweet potato crop is good; the Irish potato crop poor.

Robt. Josay is still rolling at his house—takes grit to stick to a thing so long.

Politicians of all parties ought to distribute their literature so as to keep the people interested.

SAW.

This is the season of decay and weakened vitality. Nature is being shorn of its beauty and bloom. If you would retain yours, fortify your system with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 85 cents. Tea or tablets.—T. W. Grimes Drug Co.

The Tobacco That Made Chewing Popular

Man's fondness for chewing tobacco is created and popularized by the tobacco produced in the famous Piedmont tobacco belt. Only choice selections of this well matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind—and that's why SCHNAPPS has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

There are many imitations of SCHNAPPS claiming to be "just as good," but without the flavor or quality that has made SCHNAPPS sales more than all similar tobaccos.

Schnapps

It is made in the Reynolds factories, famous for producing the best chewing tobaccos, by clean, sanitary processes, under the same direction, since 1875, of men who have made the business a life study. They are the largest and best equipped flat plug factories in the world and are situated in the very center of the world's greatest chewing tobacco district.

If you've never chewed SCHNAPPS, now is the time to get acquainted with the cleanest, most healthful, stimulating, satisfying and wholesome form in which tobacco can be used. Do not accept imitations.
