ALBEMARLE AND STANLY COUNTY.

Zeb Sanders and Game Warden Tomlinson are Having Trouble.

Stanly Enterprise, December 18th.
The presence of Game Warden Tomlinson, of Davidson county here this week, and his arrest of Attorney Zeb B. Sanders and Mr. Jones, foreman of the Index, under the Audubon law for hunting upon the land of O. H. Whitley without permission, has set the process of law in motion. Messrs. Sanders and Jones were released at the hearing before Esq. J. W. Bostian, who made a ruling that under section 8480 of the Revisal there was no violation of the law until a refusal to give permission to hunt had been declared. We are told that the State is not satisfied with Mr. Bostian's ruling and the case will go before the superior court upon a matter of law. In the meantime, Mr. Sanders' claims that his arrest was without authority, and he expects to make the game warden and the Audubon Society pay for it.

Our Uwharrie correspondent very plainly and boldly answers certain charges made through the Index by its Uwharrie correspondent. The fact that our worthy writer feels like throwing it in the faces of his Republican opponents that they solicited campaign funds from negroes, paid $47 to one man for a vote, while it may be an offset and an answer to the other man's charges yet we omit his letter because the battle is over and no good can come therefrom. There are a great many after-election notes that might even now prove interesting to many, but the end of campaign in this case was dropped on November 6th, and will not be taken up again except under extreme provocation.

With good night watchmen much devilment that is being carried on in certain parts of town late Saturday nights and early Sunday mornings would be stopped. And an enforcement of the ordinance against opening stores on Sunday, would relieve certain would-be store-keepers from entertaining on the Sabbath.

The damage by fire on the night of November 28th to the cotton warehouse of the Wiscasset Mills, in which a number of bales of cotton were burned, has been appraised at $2,500 and the underwriters will adjust the loss at these figures.

The court house is undergoing a much needed renovation. The fresco of dust and cobwebs will soon disappear. New stoves, repainting and repairs of windows and other improvements will take place.

The 5-year-old child of T. A. Latou came near drowning a few days ago by falling from a foot-log across Mountain creek.

Miss Odessa Austin spent last week in Salisbury having her eyes treated.

When to go Home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best, go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal, go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy, go home and light up the whole household." To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale by James Plummer, Salisbury, and Spencer Pharmacy, Spencer, N. C.

CONCORD AND CABARRUS COUNTY.

Concord Man Weds in Maine. Buchanan Confirmed as Postmaster.

Concord Times, December 14th.
John Kime, of Concord, was married last Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Miss Emma Milliken, at her home in Pine Point, Maine. The marriage was a quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Kime stopped in Boston one day on their way to Concord to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. G. W. Johnson. The family of Mr. Johnson and Miss Milliken formerly lived in Concord, and are pleasantly remembered by our people. Mr. and Mrs. Kime are expected to arrive here next Sunday.

M. L. Buchanan was on last Tuesday confirmed as postmaster for Concord. The nomination was held up on Monday, presumably at the instance of Jno. A. Sims, who was in Washington. It is probable also that Marion Butler's "fine Italian hand" is mixed up in the business.

Geo. H. Rutledge had the misfortune to get his ankle badly sprained while out hunting last Wednesday.

Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of Salem, will preach in the First Presbyterian church next Sunday night.

Rev. W. H. Bays, a former pastor of Central church here, was recently appointed Presiding Elder of the Sumter district, in the South Carolina Conference.

Lawrence W. Dry died at his home in Big Lick last Tuesday, aged 70 years. Mr. Dry was formerly a citizen Cabarrus, moved to Stanly county a few years ago. He was a good citizen and a Confederate soldier.

A Mecklenburg farmer warns farmers to be careful about feeding damaged corn and other damaged feed to horses. He says the damaged feed causes "blind staggers" among the stock and is killing many of them.

An operation was performed on A. B. Young at the Salisbury hospital last Sunday, and we are glad to note that it was successful, that Mr. Young is getting along nicely.

The fourteen-months-old daughter of R. L. Sloop, of the Gibson mill, died last Thursday, and the body was interred Friday at the Bala mill.

People take newspapers nowadays, read them and then throw them away. They never think what a source of pleasures and profit—or reminiscence and thought, a file or even a few numbers of such a paper would be to them twenty or thirty years afterwards. Pay for your papers and keep them.

Mrs. Dave Beaver, an elderly lady of Landis, died last Saturday night at her home. The remains were laid to rest Sunday afternoon in the cemetery at Luther's Chapel.

Goes to Jamestown Island.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 11.—The committee appointed by Bishop Tuttle, senior bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America, to co-operate with a like committee of the Church of England appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, to arrange services in 1907, to commemorate the first planting of the church of the Anglo-Saxons in America, met here today. October 12th was fixed as the date upon which the general Episcopal convention shall go to Jamestown island for special services while the convention is in session at Richmond next year.

GEORGE HALL AGAIN.

The Supreme Court Has Not Yet Made Known Its Decision.

The Charlotte Observer has the following to say concerning the case of Geo. Hall, now before the Supreme Court of the State:

During the trial of Hall T. F. Klutz, one of his attorneys, filed a plea to the jurisdiction of the court, alleging that the same was illegally called, owing to the fact that Governor Glenn was out of the state when he issued the order for it. When the point was raised it happened that Governor Glenn was in Salisbury and Mr. Klutz had him subpoenaed and he appeared and said he was in Atlantic City when he issued the commission.

Judge Long overruled the plea, Hall was tried, convicted and sentenced. Mr. Klutz appealed the case to the Supreme court on the ground that it was illegally called, alleging that the Governor had no authority, the language of the constitution being: "The Governor being absent from the State all of his powers, duties and emoluments devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor."

The case was argued on the 7th of November, Walter Clark, Jr., representing the attorney general, and T. F. Klutz the defendant. If a decision has been reached it has not been reported, although six batches of cases has been handed down.

Owing to the fact that Hall was connected with the lynching of Nease Gillespie, John Gillespie and Jack Dillingham, the case is attracting considerable attention in the state, especially among the lawyers. The public should know soon what the result will be.

Bismarck Mystic Number.

Bismarck, writes a correspondent in reference to our paragraph on superstition, held, with Pythagoras, that not thirteen but three was the great and perfect number. Bismarck's associations with three were remarkable. He had three names—Bismarck, Schoenhansen and Laenburg. The arms of his family are a clover leaf and three oak leaves. He was concerned in three and signed three treaties of peace. In the Franco-Prussian war he had three horses killed under him. He brought about the meeting of three emperors, and was responsible for the triple alliance. He had three children; his family motto was in Trinitate Robur (Strength in Trinity); and contemporary caricature pictured him with three hairs on his head. Three was the beginning, the middle and the end of Bismarck.—London Chronicle.

Rights of Japan.

Washington, Dec. 12.—A resolution was laid before the Senate by the Vice-President, at the request of Senator Gearin, giving it as the consensus of opinion of the Senate that negotiations entered into with Japan to definitely define the rights of each country under the existing treaty.

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child" caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. THEY WANT MR. LINGLE.

The First Presbyterian Church of Atlanta to Extend the Call.

The First Presbyterian church of Atlanta, Ga., is about to call Rev. Walter Lingle, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Rock Hill, S. C., to take the place recently vacated by the retirement of the Rev. O. P. Bridgwell. A member of the committee appointed to take up the question of securing a pastor for the church said: "Nothing definite has been done, but I am practically certain that the subcommittee will present to the general committee the name of Dr. Lingle and I am equally certain that the general committee will endorse the suggestion."

Mr. Lingle is a native of Rowan county. He is president of the board of trustees of Davidson College. His church at Rock Hill has more than 300 members and it is said he is entirely contented with his work, though he may be induced to go to Atlanta on account of the larger field for his work.—Charlotte News.

The Right Training.

Our good friend, J. M. McLarty, a man who is noted for his kindness of heart, his broad sympathy with humanity in its varied phases, and his devoted Christianity, called us up by phone a few days ago to tell us that we are, apparently, right in opposing the laboratory for young criminals. Mr. McLarty does not know what we are going to use his name for in connection, but we feel sure that the approval of our neighbor and friend would be a great help to us.

and the man who had been mentioned in Friday's Landmark died early Friday morning at his home near Enola. Mr. Johnson was about 70 years of age and is survived by his wife and seven children. He was a hard working farmer and a good man.

Congress Will Have None of It.

President Roosevelt's simplified spelling order has been given a hard knock by the House committee on appropriations. In the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill, reported today, it was decided that hereafter in printing documents authorized by law, or ordered by either branch of Congress, the government printing office shall follow the rules of spelling by Webster's dictionary.

The bill as reported was unanimously adopted.—Washington dispatch.

LEXINGTON AND DAVIDSON COUNTY.

Judge Phillips' Suggestion About Rabbit Hunting. Land Advances in Prices.

Lexington Dispatch, December 15th.
Rev. J. W. Clegg, the new minister in charge of the Linwood circuit, has moved his family to the parsonage here and is now fully installed.

Judge Phillips went rabbit hunting Friday in that cold wind, and when the reporter asked him how many he killed, he said "They killed two." "I became convinced along about 12 o'clock," he continued, "that rabbit hunting was no business for a man to engage in who had anything else to do."

Seven years ago Will V. Leonard offered for sale four acres of land two and one-fourth miles from town, at the price of $150 for the tract. Last week he sold it for $500. When he first offered it the land was covered with timber and now the timber is practically cut off. The incident is a good illustration of the increase in value that has taken place in values all over the country. David Grotz was the buyer, and he was seen to whom Leonard offered the piece of land seven years ago.

The mayor had before him Monday a white man named A. Watts for raising some disturbance at his boarding house. He had no money wherewith to pay his fine and his employer at the bio pipe factory "stood" for him. No sooner than he was released he commenced to run, apparently filled with the idea of putting a large space between himself and Lexington. The man who "stood" for him speedily reported took out after him and caught him, and then expressed his indignation.

According to George Beck, one of our Davidson farmers, there are fifteen snows due this winter. Eighteen snows were on the slate for the season, but three of them have already been checked off, two skiffs and one a larger, probably a skuff. Mr. Beck bases his predictions on the fogs of August. For every fog in August there will be a snow this winter. Mr. Beck says there were eighteen fogs. He has the utmost confidence in his prognostications and says they have made good for a number of years. He predicted two frosts in May of this year, and says there were two, because in January there were two fogs.

Monday morning about 8 o'clock Will V. Leonard, mail carrier on route 1, died suddenly at his home here. Heart failure caused his death. He attended church Sunday and Sunday night in his usual health. There was nothing to indicate that he was unwell. About three o'clock Monday morning he awoke and Mrs. Leonard awoke also. She had been suffering with headache the night before, and he inquired if she still suffered. He then made some remark about her work that day, and then turned over in the bed. Presently his wife made a peculiar sound and asked him what was the matter. Receiving no reply, she repeated her question, and as he did not answer she became alarmed and made a light. When she reached the bed again, he was breathing his last.

STATESVILLE AND IREDELL COUNTY.

Samuel Archer Will Move to Alabama. Death of Pink Horn.

Statesville Landmark, December 15th.
About two weeks ago the little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Edwards, who live near Claremont, Catawba county, was kicked on the head by a scold. His head was crushed on the right side of the frontal bone and was brought to the sanatorium here for treatment. A large piece of bone was removed but surgical skill could not avail. The little boy remained unconscious for many days after the injury and bore his suffering with wonderful patience, but his life ebbed away and Friday evening about seven o'clock he died. The remains were taken to Catawba county Saturday for burial.

Samuel Archer, who is best known in this section as "the sheep man," because he is an enthusiast on the subject of sheep husbandry, returned last week from a visit to Alabama. Mr. Archer recently sold his Iredell farm, where he has been growing sheep, and went to Alabama to look about. As a result of his visit he bought near Samson, Ala., a farm of 720 acres. With the farm he gets 1,000 sheep and a lot of improvements on the place, everything ready for business. The price paid was $10,000.

Clerk H. C. Cowles, Assistant Clerk H. V. Furcher and Assistant District Attorney A. L. Coble are with the Federal court at Charlotte. A most important case to be tried at this term is that of the cotton mill men who are charged with importing cotton mill operatives from England under contract in violation of the immigration laws.

John W. Guy, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, who was indisposed for several days last week, went to the sanatorium Saturday and underwent a slight operation. Mr. Guy's friends will be glad to know the operation was not serious, that he is getting on well and will probably be out in a few days.

F. M. Johnson, of Asheville, spent Sunday night here with his son, Ernest Johnson, leaving yesterday for Salisbury. From Salisbury Mr. Johnson will go to Brunswick, Ga., to do some work on the government building there. Ernest Johnson will go to Georgia in a few days to assist his father.
