Entered as second-class matter Jan. 10th, 1905, at the post office at Salisbury, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

We understand A. H. Boyden is now in Raleigh endeavoring to persuade the legislature to allow the aldermen to issue $50,000 in bonds to pay off floating indebtedness. Is it possible?

We occasionally hear of some weak-minded fellow proudly asking: "If you have a good horse, why swap it for one whose qualities are unknown?" This is too silly, if applicable to the present mayoralty contest, to receive any considerable attention. This is a plea more suitable in the domain of some despot than in Democratic America where rotation in office from the presidency down to township guano inspector is a cardinal virtue in all parties, especially where service is limited to three terms. If we must have a phrase of this kind applicable to the present emergency, why not word it thus: "Being unfortunately the possessor of an inferior broncho, why not swap it for a thoroughbred?"

So little Johnny Julian in a column article tells how he and Walter Murphy attempted to sneak through the legislature "An act" to establish a Recorder's court for Salisbury against the wishes of the people, without their knowledge or consent, without letting the public know what said bill contained, without the privilege to vote for said official, limited to the city and with an expensive salary attached. This he has fully and freely confessed, but further, he also confesses, that whatever virtue there is in this bill, if there is any virtue in passing "an act" uncalled for by the people and merely to satisfy one or two politicians, has been put in it by our able and talented young Senator, Whitehead Klutz, All honor to Mr. Klutz.

We have constantly, steadfastly and consistently opposed A. H. Boyden for mayor of Salisbury. His record of pomposity, indiscreet financing, reckless disregard of the laws of the land and rights of others, his subjection to personal whims and petty spite, his traitorous characteristics and contempt for righteousness was so emphatic and patent to all of even slight acquaintance, that they were the factors which gave us reason to oppose his election to any position where even handed justice should be rightly expected, to a position where all our citizens would be compelled to go, on occasion, for a square deal whether he had voted for or against such official. We knew that one who harbored malice, bitter hatred, wicked demagoguery and petty tyranny could not properly fill such a position without yielding to these characteristics more or less. These things are as true today as they ever were, in fact every scintilla of the above has been magnified and caused our original convictions to be strengthened in innumerable ways. With these things in full view and confessed of all men, what are we to think of men who have opposed him for these reasons and are now supporting him? What are we to think of any man who wishes to see conservatism, sagaciousness, economy and justice the dominant features in our chief magistrate, giving their support to such a man? Are they true to themselves and the community? What pliability one's conscience must have to cry in one breath, "Save the boys! Save the boys!" and in the next: "Hurrah for Baldy and the boys!" There might be something in the statement that "some men have no conscience."

ANOTHER VOLLEY.

Mr. Vanderford Calls Attention to Some Serious Things. Are They True?

Salisbury, N. C., March 4, 1907. To the Citizens of Salisbury:

The laws should be fairly and impartially enforced.

There should be no distinction between the rich and the poor, between the powerful and the obscure.

Every man accused of wrongdoing should have a fair and impartial trial, and equal justice should be done to all.

These principles will govern me if I am elected Mayor.

Has Mr. Boyden violated these principles, or any of them?

I propose to answer this question, by giving a few glaring instances, out of a great many, of his unfairness to those he styles "his people," his mismanagement of City affairs, and his partiality to the rich and strong, while careless of the rights of the weak and unfortunate.

A young white man, 28 years old, of good reputation, (proof of his good character is in my possession) a cotton spinner in his blue overalls, and perfectly sober, was arrested for vagrancy, taken to the calaboose, kept there all night and by Mr. Boyden's order, was sent to the chain gang, without a trial, and kept there for over 80 days, in chains and stripes. He demanded a trial, BUT NEVER GOT TO SEE MR. BOYDEN.

This young man was POOR, HUMBLE, AND OBSCURE.

Again, a prominent and wealthy citizen, from a neighboring town, was arrested as drunk and disorderly, and was so violent that he had to be taken, by two policemen, late at night, to the City Hall. Mr. Boyden came there, and directed one of the City firemen, (paid to stay there and answer fire calls,) to leave his post of duty, and escort this "drunk and disorderly" home on the train.

THIS MAN WAS WEALTHY, PROUD, AND PROMINENT.

Uncle Sam is rich and powerful. His retail liquor laws are respected. No one can sell whiskey in Salisbury or elsewhere without paying him a $25 license. Two, and perhaps three, bawdy houses in Salisbury, pay this government license.

The City of Salisbury, compared to Uncle Sam, is poor and weak. Her laws, it seems, are violated with impunity. These bawdy houses pay no City license. It is of common information that whiskey is sold in nearly all the bawdy houses in town, every day and Sunday too, in violation of the City ordinances. The saloons pay license. These bawdy houses do not. The majority of our people are in favor of high license, and want the saloon men protected in their business. To be consistent, Mr. Boyden should either make the bawdy houses pay license, or exact no license from the saloon men. Does Mr. Boyden know this? He has been repeatedly appealed to, in person, to put a stop to the sale of liquor in these houses, and has paid no attention to these requests. Will he deny this? If so, let him name time and place, AND THE MAN WHO MADE THESE REQUESTS WILL CONFRONT HIM.

One more instance! A locomotive engineer, poor and unfortunate, who had been working at Whitney, was locked up in the calaboose a few nights ago. When searched, $81.75 was found on him, and this money the police officer carefully counted, and placed in the prisoner's pocket. He was then locked up in a cell, where both he and his money were presumably safe. The next morning he was there, but thirty dollars of his money was gone. When he told Mr. Boyden, in the police court, of his loss, the only consolation he received was:

"If you have been robbed, you had better leave town."

This man was not only poor and without influence, but he was a stranger here. SUPPOSE HE HAD BEEN ONE OF THE RICH AND PROMINENT MEN WHOM MR. BOYDEN CALLS "HIS FRIENDS?"

Very Respectfully,
T. H. VANDERFORD.
P. S.—DO YOU THINK MR. BOYDEN SHOULD HAVE A FOURTH TERM?

OUR VOTING CONTEST.

Big Interest Being Manifest. Now Is Your Chance.

As may be seen by our "honor roll" published elsewhere in this paper the subscribers are coming in satisfactorily, but few are, as yet casting any votes. The contest, however, bids fair to be one of the liveliest we have ever conducted. We hope to have your name in our honor roll next week.

Right Eye Removed.

J. S. Wrenn, an employe of the Southern shops at Spencer, who had one of his eyes painfully injured not long since, went to his home in Danville, Va., to rest and recover from his wound. His condition became so much worse that it was found necessary to remove the ball of the eye. Dr. R. V. Brawley went to Danville Sunday and performed this delicate operation. Mr. Wrenn is reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

Bailey Won't Talk.

Washington, March 8.—Senator Bailey, of Texas, who has just returned from that state, was in his place in the Senate today for the first time during the present session. He received hearty welcome by his colleagues on both sides of the chamber. He said he would make no statement in the Senate concerning his recent eventful campaign.

Shaw Gets $25,000 a Year.

It is reported yesterday that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will receive a salary of $25,000 a year as president of the Carnegie Trust Co. The salary is high for a new institution, but it is said that the secretary would not accept the place at a lower figure. Mr. Shaw's closest associate in the enterprise is R. B. Armstrong, formerly an assistant secretary of the treasury, and it was said yesterday that Mr. Shaw might also become connected with other companies in which Mr. Armstrong is interested.—New York Commercial.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste closely matches old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by N. P. Murphy.

A good looking young lady, giving her name as Miss Lynch, of Columbus, Ohio, went to Upper Sandusky, Ohio, one day last week and bought the leading hotel of the city, paying cash. She then ordered everybody in the hotel to get out, and had the house shut up. Her strange action cannot be explained.

Legislators Busy.

Raleigh, March 4.—Fervid activity characterizes the closing days of the legislature. Effort is being made to clear the legislative slate by the end of the week. The sixty days expire Saturday and the members are loath to remain longer. Three sessions are being held daily, one in the morning, another in the afternoon and a third at night. Committee meetings are going on all the time. Delegations from the different sections are continuously coming in and going out. Scores of bills are being passed and many others introduced. No individuals in either chamber are worked harder than the reading clerks, who are kept busy from early morning until far in the night. One viewing either house from the gallery is reminded of a moving picture show, dramatic personae and scenes being shifted with such lightning rapidity.

The legislature has a heavy budget for the week. There are pending the railroad bills, the corporation commission bill, all of the appropriation bills, the revenue and machinery, the anti-trust bills, the bill to establish the county of Lee, the bill to charter the East Training School and the Spray School of Technology and others. Many of these, in fact, a majority of them, have passed one house and are now being held up in the other. Their consideration will come this week, at which time it will be determined whether or not they, or a majority of them, will be placed upon the statute books of the State.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Pleasant.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers.

Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by James Plummer, Salisbury, and Spencer Pharmacy, Spencer, N. C.

Peleg Pritchard, a farmer living near Elizabeth City, killed two large bald eagles last week at one shot. They were on the ground engaged in mortal combat, and their talons were fixed in each other's body. They measured eight feet from tip to tip of their wings.

Run-down People

NEED VINOL
the modern strength creator and body builder

Many people right here in this vicinity are all run down and hardly able to drag about—don't know what ails them.
"Such people need Vinol, our cod liver preparation without oil, which contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod's livers, but from which the useless oil is eliminated and tonic iron added."
We ask every man, woman and child in this vicinity who is run down, tired and debilitated to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails.
