

MUCH INTEREST FELT.

Mother of Young Estes Makes Statement Concerning the Killing.

Lynchburg, Va., April 24.—There is great interest throughout Nelson county in the case of former Judge W. C. Loving, who at Oak Ridge, Monday shot and killed Theodore Estes, whom he charged with wronging Miss Elizabeth Loving, the 19-year-old daughter of Judge Loving. Aubrey E. Strode, of Lynchburg, who conducted the prosecution before the Legislature some years ago in the impeachment trial of county Judge Campbell, has been retained by Judge Loving as counsel. The funeral of young Estes will take place tomorrow from the Estes home.

Mrs. Estes, mother of the victim, was quoted today as saying: "I hope Judge Loving is freed if he does not slander my son. If he does, we will fight to the bitter end." Several members of the Estes family and friends of the family have expressed their doubts of the story of the assault.

Estes' family claim that when he drove from his home in Lovington Monday morning to Oak Ridge, to attend to business, he went to the home where Miss Loving spent the night and volunteered to accompany her home. Saying she did not feel well, she did not go home with him, but remained there until her mother called for her and took her home.

Miss Loving, at the time she went for the drive during which she alleges the assault occurred, was visiting Miss Annie Kidd, daughter of County Clerk E. L. Kidd.

Novel Damage Suit.

A unique suit was that of Smith vs. Thomas, tried before Judge S. H. Hilton yesterday, wherein the plaintiff who claimed he lost a contract with the defendant to do a job of plastering under him by reason of being placed in jail, asked for a judgment of $26 from the defendant. This was estimated to be the amount he would have made on the deal. After the evidence was all in and the attorneys had argued the case at some length, Squire Hilton took a recess to think it over and straighten out the tangle. His decision, reached later in the day, was that the defendant had $4 coming to him. The negro had been arrested, but he had had ample time to do his work.—Charlotte Observer.

He Tired of Rambling.

Having grown tired of his experience with "hobo" life, Charles Carroll, a white boy about 14 years old, who ran away from his home in Asheville, N. C., several days ago, stopped a police officer on the street here and informed the blue-coat that he was a runaway. Carroll expressed a desire to return home and requested that the police communicate with his parents, which was done. R. Z. Carroll immediately forwarded a railway ticket and the boy returned to Asheville.

His parents, it is said, were broken-hearted over his actions.—Danville, Va., dispatch.

The Man who Waits.

"THE CLANSMAN" HONORED.

Selected as Historical Play for the Jamestown Exposition.

Looking over the whole field of American Theatricals, Manager Wells, of the Academy of Music, Norfolk, Va., finally selected "The Clansman" as the historical play to be presented during the Jamestown Exposition period. Many other dramatic productions of historical character were offered, but "The Clansman" was chosen because of its appropriateness and popularity. The opening of the engagement at the Academy on Monday evening, April 29, will be a gala event. Thomas Dixon, Jr., the author of the play, is expected to be present, and many eminent Southerners, some of whom participated in the Ku Klux days, will grace the occasion with their presence. Persons who have seen "The Clansman" played only in the smaller cities will find it here put on in a manner surpassing their highest expectations. The Northern and Southern companies will be consolidated, and there will be from seventy-five to a hundred persons on the large stage which will lend itself to the most sumptuous scenic effects. In fact, all of the scenery is being rebuilt. Sets of special beauty will be painted of the Cameron Place in Piedmont, S. C., and of the cave of the Ku Klux Klan.

Splendid government cavalry horses will be used as the mounts of the night-riders, the latter being several who actually took part in the thrilling events of the Reconstruction era. The new company will be in rehearsal all of this week and will have their lines and business perfect. Every attention will be given to visitors to the Jamestown Exposition from out of town. In their own interest they will find it advisable to mail orders in advance to Manager Otto Wells, Academy of Music, Norfolk, Va., enclosing remittance and stamped self-addressed envelope for prompt forwarding of seats. The price of reserved seats will range from 50 cents to $1.50 for the evening performances and 50 cents to $1.00 for the Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The best available seats of the class desired will in every case be sent.

"The Clansman" is on for an extensive run at the Tercentenary Exposition, as crowded houses will be the rule. Patrons are advised not to delay in the matter of sending in their mail orders. In fact, many of those who wait until their arrival in Norfolk to secure seats are likely to be disappointed.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

What is Taking Place Within the Borders of North Carolina.

Hannibal Leak, a negro who killed his wife last summer, in Rockingham, has been convicted and sentenced to 30 years in the penitentiary. The jury made a mistrial, standing 11 for murder in the second degree and one for murder in the first degree. The State agreed to a verdict of murder in the second degree.

In a case where a child under 12 years of age employed in a factory, was hurt, the supreme court has held that working a child under legal age is negligence in itself. Judge Connor said in delivering the opinion, that is the policy of North Carolina that children under 12 years shall be in school and not in the factories, and that this policy is wise, humane and fixed.

While off the coast of North Carolina the ship Bodo struck a heavy sea and shipped a large shark of the man-eating species. When the water receded the fish was left on deck and the crew had a hard battle before they succeeded in killing it.

It is reported that the flies are doing much damage to the tobacco crop in Stokes and adjoining counties. Farmers are spraying with paris green, sulphur, kerosene oil, etc.

Nathan Moore, of Wilson, who recently killed his son, will be held without bail until court meets. Revenue officers have discovered that Moore had a still in his kitchen and made liquor.

THE PENNSYLVANIA SENATOR

Is Not Very Communicative to Newspaper Men who ask Questions.

Washington, April 25.—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, whose name has been freely mentioned in connection with the giving away at a dinner of the details of an alleged conspiracy against President Roosevelt, was a visitor at the White House today. This is Senator Penrose's first visit to the White House since the publication of the story which he denied a day or two afterward.

When the Senator came out he was immediately surrounded by a group of newspaper men. The Senator was not at all communicative and declared again and again he had nothing to say of any consequence.

While Senator Penrose was at the executive office, Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon came in. He went direct to Secretary Loeb's office. Senator Bourne, it has been commonly reported, was the host at the dinner at which the details of the so-called conspiracy against the President were said to have been given out. Senator Bourne saw the President after Senator Penrose had left. He declared, however, that there had not been any conference between the President, Senator Penrose and himself and that he had not seen Mr. Penrose during his visit to the White House.
