Hon Lays Unusual Sized Eggs. Young Lady Found Dead in Bed.

Statesville Landmark, June 19th.

Miss Irene Kestler, aged 24 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kestler, was found dead in bed at their home in Cool Spring township Sunday morning. Miss Kestler had not been well for years. Her condition for several days before her death was hardly as good as usual and she had been confined to her bed part of the time, but there was nothing alarming about her condition. She retired in her usual health Saturday night.

R. V. Brawley has bought from J. P. Phifer for $4,000 the vacant property between Hotel Iredell and the St. Charles Hotel and will build on it a handsome three-story building with pressed brick front. The first floor will be fitted up for a storeroom and the third and fourth stories will be arranged for offices.

P. W. Eagle, of Sharpesburg township, who suffered a severe attack of pneumonia in the early spring and was in a critical condition for some time, was in town Friday and his Statesville friends were glad to see him.

Master Baxter Overcash, son of L. K. Overcash, found at his home on west Front street a few days ago three hen eggs in a nest. This find was not unusual, but the eggs were. One was the average size, the second about the size of a marble and the third was about the size of a pea.

James, the little son of John E. Sloop, has been seriously ill for about ten days and is reported in a very critical condition this morning. The mother of the child died only a few weeks ago and the father is almost prostrated with grief.

J. A. Lackey, an employe of the Statesville furniture factory, was operating a hand-jointer at the factory Saturday when his hand caught in the machine. The end of his left thumb was torn off and a flesh wound made in the palm of his hand.

A. C. Goodin and Miss Lizzie W. Wilson, N. G. Goodin and Miss Fannie L. Wilson will be married tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. F. Mitchiner.

The State Normal and Industrial College.

The total enrollment for the year, including students in the Training School, was 845. The faculty will be increased for the coming year, and additional dormitory accommodations will be provided in time for the opening of the fall term, September 18, 1907.

Tuition is free to students who take the pledge to become teachers in North Carolina for at least two years after leaving college. Board is furnished at actual cost, but, owing to limited accommodations, not all free-tuition students can secure board in the college dormitories. Therefore all free-tuition applications should be in the hands of the president before July 15th, so that (in case the large number of applicants from any county should make it necessary) a competitive examination may be arranged for one-half the dormitory space is reserved for tuition-paying students. Applications from those who do not take the pledge to teach but intend to pay tuition, are filed and dormitory reservations made as the applications are received.

PROHIBITION FIGHT.

The Anti-Liquor People Preparing for a Hard Battle.

Asheville, June 12.—If the present plans of the Asheville prohibitionists carry, a stiff fight against liquor will be waged here this mid-summer or early fall. It was learned today that several papers have been circulated recently for signatures of voters for the purpose of getting a line of local sentiment relative to prohibition and the liberal signing of these papers, it is alleged, by men of almost every walk in life has had the effect of greatly encouraging the temperance people and to make practically certain the calling for an election on the whiskey question. A well-attended meeting of temperance people was held in the First Baptist church last night when the matter was discussed at some length and in an enthusiastic manner. Col. V. S. Lusk was made temporary chairman of the movement and plans are making for a great temperance rally in the near future. It is understood that Gov. R. B. Glenn has been tendered an invitation to speak here on Sunday, June 30, in the cause of temperance. Governor Glenn, it is said will speak to the people of Asheville from the pulpit of the First Baptist church on Sunday morning, June 30, and at the auditorium on Haywood street that night. The following Tuesday night it is proposed to hold a big prohibition meeting for the purpose of organization and the inauguration of a temperance campaign. The ministers of the city are taking considerable interest in the movement already and it is understood that at the meeting last night a number of the divines of the city were present.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

SEVERE STORM IN STANLY.

The Worst Wind and Hail Storm Ever Witnessed in and Near Norwood.

Norwood, June 12.—The worst wind and hail storm ever witnessed by our people visited this section Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The little town of Norwood was in the centre of the worst and the damage was considerable. Hail fell as large as a man's fist. Six hundred and fifty window lights were broken from the cotton mill windows. All work was stopped, and the wind, hail, glass, lint and screaming operatives made the scene terrible to witness.

Gardens and all vegetation, including corn and cotton for a distance of perhaps one-half or three-quarters of a mile wide and several miles long being completely demolished. Wheat, and oats ripe and ready for harvesting, lie flat on the ground. Horses and cattle that were out, were badly bruised and many chickens were killed.

"Jeems" and "Becky Ann" were not damaged at all except by the heavy rain, but could see the terrible destruction going on half a mile south of their little farm. One of their daughters, Miss Flonnie, who has a position in the Norwood cotton mill, is quite sick from the fright yesterday.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

Mrs. Nation Pays 29th Penalty.

Washington, June 18.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was fined $25 in police court here today on the charge of creating a disturbance at a saloon last night. She paid the fine and said it was the 29th penalty that had been imposed upon her by the courts of the country.

CONCORD AND CABARRUS COUNTY.

Man Sells Hired Buggy. Town Will try to get rid of Mosquitos.

Concord Times, June 11th.

An effort should be made by the people of Concord to rid the city of the mosquito, and this effort should be entitled to the consideration and aid of all citizens. Indeed, there can be only measurable success without general co-operation. If house-holders permit rain barrels and pools of standing water and open cesspools in their lots, then mosquitoes cannot be exterminated, and a whole neighborhood will suffer from the neglect or indifference of one person. It has been shown that mosquitos do not travel far, and if people will clean up their premises and keep them clean, the breeding places around the houses will be made unproductive. A trifling amount of work in keeping gutters free from pools, of emptying water from vessels in the yard and the use each week of a few cents' worth of oil are all that is required.

A man giving his name as W. E. West, of Spencer, came to Concord last Friday and hired a horse and buggy from Brown Bros., liverymen, saying he wanted to go three or four miles in the country. As he did not return by night the Messrs. Brown became anxious about the safety of their animal and began making inquiries about its whereabouts, and Saturday morning M. L. Brown telephoned some parties in Charlotte asking them to look for the outfit. He was called up later by Shakespeare Harris, who told him that his horse and buggy was in Charlotte, that the buggy had been sold, but the horse was at the stable. Mr. Brown asked Mr. Harris to take charge of them for him, which he did.

It is said Police Justice McConnell's announcement that he would endeavor to enforce the vagrant act, has done good already, as a number of those who have been in the habit of "sojourn" around the public square and other places in town, have gone to work or somewhere else.

We hear of some robberies recently committed in this county, in which money was the chief object sought. We again advise our people against keeping money anywhere except in a good bank, where money is always safe and can be had whenever desired.

Miss Hattie Alexander, who has been quite ill for some time with appendicitis, is reported much better. Her mother, Mrs. D. L. Alexander, has been confined to her room for some time, being almost an invalid.

Prof. Karl B. Patterson, of Chippewa Grove, who is a member of the music faculty of Lenoir College at Hickory, is now at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, pursuing an advanced course of study of the violin.

School of Politeness for Dogs.

Education of the dog is now a fad, and one woman in town has a studio where dogs are taught how to behave when driving and calling. Every dog that comes under this teacher's care is made to walk a figurative chalk line. She has hope that within a few generations the inculcation of politeness will tell, and dogs that bark unnecessarily and show bad tempers will be out of style. It is a beautiful prospect.—New York Press.

Badly Mixed up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble, but none of them helped me, so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, 50c.

AN OLD HERO GONE.

Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, Dies at His Home in Washington.

Washington, June 11.—United States Senator John Tyler Morgan, of Alabama, for 80 years a member of the upper house of Congress, chairman of the Senate committee on inter-oceanic canals and prominent as a Brig. General in the Confederate army, died at his home here to-night. Senator Morgan had been in bad health for a number of years, but had more or less regularly attended the sessions of Congress. He suffered from angina pectoris, which was the cause of death. He passed away at 11:15 o'clock. At the bedside were his daughters, Misses Mary and Cornelia Morgan, both of this city, and his secretary, J. O. Jones.

Mr. Morgan attended to his congressional duties at his home here until about a week ago. Since that time he has been confined to his bed. He was able, however, to sit up for awhile today and talk over some official matters with his secretary. He began failing during the evening, however, and his physicians were summoned.

Mr. Morgan was a Democrat and was born in Athens, Tenn., June 20, 1824. His home in Alabama was at Selma, where the funeral will take place, the body probably being taken from here Thursday. Mr. Morgan had held a number of important offices beside that of Senator, including membership in the Hawaiian laws commission and arbitrator on the Bering Sea fisheries. His chief active interest in the Senate in recent years had been in connection with the Isthmian Canal question. He was a persistent advocate of the Nicaragua route and made a number of notable speeches during his long, but unsuccessful fight for the adoption of a Nicaraguan waterway. In the hearings on the canal question in committee and on the floor Mr. Morgan took an active part, despite his great age and failing strength.

Kills His Baby Sister
Grover, June 14.—The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Turney shot and killed his baby sister early this morning. The parents of the children whose home is over a mile from Grover, were in town doing some shopping and left the lad and an older sister to take care of the baby, seven months old. The boy managed to get hold of a gun from its rack over a door and in playing with the weapon it was discharged, the entire load entering the baby's side and nearly severing its arm from the body. The child died in ten minutes after the accident.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

LEXINGTON AND DAVIDSON COUNTY.

Calf That Looks Like Sheep. Harvest will be Later Than Usual.

Lexington Dispatch, June 12th.

Wheat harvest is pretty close, but will doubtless be somewhat later than usual, owing to the weather conditions. Farmers have been buying supplies for the harvest for several days.

A letter from Frederick N. Booz, of Germantown, Pa., to Capt. C. W. Trice, tells of the records made by 198 homing pigeons liberated by Capt. Trice for Germantown fanciers. The letter is very complimentary to Capt. Trice as to his care of the birds. Capt. Trice has for years liberated hundreds of pigeons for northern fanciers. The birds reached his speed of 98 yards per minute in some cases, in their flight of 400 miles. Others were lower than this, but all made good time.

The negro murderer, told of in Thomasville correspondence, was brought to jail here Sunday. He has two balls in him, one in the hip and one in the knee, which he claims the dead negro put in him. The talk is that he put them there himself. A physician was called in to examine him, but decided on no operation. He is a bad negro, they say, and we hear that the negroes in Thomasville talked a good deal about lynching him. Clay Thomas, another negro was with him, it is said, and he is out on a $100 bond.

Carl Maynard, a young white fellow, son of Jake Maynard, of High Point, and a brakeman on the Southern, was arrested last week late one night on complaint of Mollie Everhardt, of this place, who charged attempted assault. The scene of the alleged crime was right in town, close to where the carnival was running. The young fellow was placed in jail and given a hearing next morning. He had no lawyer, introduced no witnesses and left the testimony of the woman uncontradicted. In view of this, the mayor held him without bail. Later, however, he allowed him to give bond in the sum of $1,000, which he gave Sunday, and was then released.

B. F. Everhardt, of the Arnold neighborhood, brought in a curiosity last week in the shape of a calf whose hair was wool, not all wool and not a yard wide, but partly wool, regular sheep wool, and many witnesses can testify to it. The calf is of Jersey extraction and is three months old, and a very likely looking critter of the male persuasion. It is white and brown spotted, and wherever there is brown, there is the wool. The white is hair, but much finer and silkier than ordinary calves wear in this part of the country. The carnival people offered the owner $15 for the unusual calf but Mr. Everhardt asked $100. He does not account for the strange dress of the animal and nobody else does.

No Trace of Missing Boy.

New Orleans, La., June 13.—Walter Lamana was not found today, although in search for his kidnaper's hundreds of Italian homes were raided in New Orleans and surrounding towns. Bands of angry Italians made many of these searches. The usual threats of lynching the kidnapers if caught, have been made, but the police apparently have the situation under control.
Harvey's Canal, a few miles from the city, was practically unguarded for several hours while the police and deputies searched 200 homes. In this search two Italians were arrested.

MIDSHIPMEN DROWNED.

A Terrible Calamity Occurs in Hampton Roads Costing 12 Lives.

Washington, June 11.—A telegram received at the Navy Department today from Rear Admiral Evans at Norfolk, Va., says: "Minnesota steam launch after going to exposition last night is still missing and grave fears are entertained that she was run down and sunk. She had a crew of five men, and as passengers Midshipmen Field, Stevenson, Holden, Ulrich, Murfin and Holcomb. Search has been made, but without success."

The Navy Department tonight received a dispatch from Rear Admiral Evans, in command of the United States fleet in Hampton Roads, which says: "A ditty-box belonging to fireman of the Minnesota's missing launch has been picked up afloat near berth 27, and I am forced to conclude that launch with all on board is lost. Have ordered board of investigation. Steamer last seen at exposition pier about midnight last night."

The loss at one time of five bright young midshipmen fresh from the Academy at Annapolis, a young marine officer very recently appointed, a coxswain and four other enlisted men attached to the big battleship Minnesota, eleven men altogether, as was reported briefly to the Navy Department today, was one of the most severe blows that has fallen upon the personnel of the navy since the Spanish war, in the estimation of the officials. The first news of the calamity reached the department through the Associated Press dispatches from Norfolk. Acting Secretary Newberry and Admiral Brownson, chief of the navigation bureau, and the seasoned naval officers who make up the staff, hoped there had been a mistake because no word had been received from Admiral Evans. A wireless message was dispatched from the station at the Washington Navy Yard directed to the fleet lying in the Roads, inquiring into the accuracy of the report. Within half an hour the answer given above came from Admiral Evans, and it dissipated the last hope that had been cherished.

The following are the names of the Midshipmen drowned:
Henry C. Murfin, Jr., was a native of Ohio, and a member of the second class at the Naval Academy. Like the others he had been sent aboard the battleship Minnesota for a summer course of instruction, to afford the practical education necessary to supplement the theoretical work at the Naval Academy.
Philip H. Field was a midshipman from Colorado, who belonged to the first class of the Academy.
Walter C. Ulrich, of the second class, was from Wisconsin.
W. H. Stephenson, of North Carolina, was a member of the second class, and Henry L. Holden, of Wisconsin, was a member of the same class.
F. P. Holcomb, of Delaware, was a member of the second class.

Told the Farmer Why.

An exchange says that a farmer arrived in town one morning by 7 o'clock, having already been up several hours, finished feeding and had driven several miles to town. He found the stores all closed and few people out on the streets. He had business at home and wanted to get back as soon as his trading was done. He asked what was the matter with everybody in town, and the paper told him next issue. It was this: town people work or play all day, at night go to carnivals, shows, meetings of all sorts and do a thousand other things till the wee sma' hours, and it is a wonder some of them ever get up at all.

ALBEMARLE AND STANLY COUNTY.

Safe Robbers at Work. Storm Plays Havoc With Mill Windows.

Stanly Enterprise, June 13th.

Safe crackers entered the store of B. H. Sinclair & Company on Monday night, at Norwood. Entrance was effected through the front door and the safe blown open, indications being that it was done by persons familiar with that kind of work. Mr. Sinclair collected some money Monday for the Baptist Sunday school and this was left in the safe, amounting to $20. The Norwood Telephone Company had about $40 in the safe. Sixty dollars represented the greater part of the loss, the firm having deposited its funds with the bank during that day. Two suspicious characters were seen at Norwood that evening, and they are supposed to have been the same pair that crossed Allenton ferry very early the next morning. There is no clue as to the guilty parties.

On Monday afternoon, continuing into the night, one of the heaviest storms that has struck this section for a long while did considerable damage to crops and property. A heavy rain, accompanied by hail and electricity, fell for several hours. At Norwood, Mr. Coulson, our townsman, tells us that the window lights to the cotton mill there were nearly all wrecked on the west side of the building, and the northbound passenger coach from Norwood suffered in a like way, to the extent that passengers had to stand up during the trip.

Dr. Geo. H. Cox will preach in the Lutheran church next Sunday morning and night. This being his last regular appointment here, he will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday night.

Prof. W. N. Shackelford left Monday afternoon. He will spend six weeks at the University of Virginia school of methods, after which he will visit Jamestown.

STATE MOURNS HIM.

Alabama Sorrow Over Death of Morgan. Bankhead to Succeed Him.

Montgomery, Ala., June 12.—The State ceased business today to mourn the death of Senator Morgan, who died in Washington last night. The flag on the capitol is at half-mast and the Governor has issued a proclamation reciting the Senator's virtues, his service to the State and long public career. The death of the Senator was reported to the Governor by Senator Pettus, his colleague.

By primary last summer Congressman J. H. Bankhead was nominated for any vacancy that might occur by death or incapacity of either of the Senators. This endorsement is for appointment to an unexpired term and does not apply to an election, as the platform of the primary referred to stipulated such appointment would be only to the next regular or adjourned term of the legislature.

Many prominent men are mentioned for election by the legislature which assembles in July. It has been suggested that the name of Governor Comer might be presented. There is, however, a constitutional provision prohibiting the election of any man while Governor, or for a year after he retires from the Governorship.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by James Plummer and all druggists.
