Entered as second-class matter Jan. 19th, 1906, at the post office at Salisbury, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

SALISBURY, N. C., JULY, 24th, '07.

T. K. Bruner, secretary of the State Agricultural Department, left for Europe last week in search of foreigners to come to North Carolina to help our people attend to their business. We are glad that Mr. Bruner has been selected for this service, but we sincerely hope that the object of his trip will be a complete failure in every particular.

It seems that there is going to be something doing hereabouts in the way of a fight for reduced telephone rates. Several years ago the Bell Telephone Company bought out the Salisbury exchange, and began at once to "improve" the service and incidentally of course to raise the price to those who use the phones. The rates for the old phones were $2.00 for business phones and $1.50 for residence. This was sufficient for a home company to make something, but wherever or whenever a new phone was put in the price hopped up to $8.50 for business and $2.00 for residence. This additional charge was for the "improved" service. The scent for the increased rate has almost become so perfected that the Bell people can tell when a man is thinking of moving. The old phone is pulled out without order, or notice, so quickly one would think the building was on fire and such haste was necessary to save the building, or rather only the phone.

The folks hereabouts have about arrived at the conclusion that a home company might also put in some improved service and at the same time save considerable by doing so. Let's all pull for a home telephone system!

We never took much stock in the 2-1-4 cent rate law passed by the last legislature. No considerable number of people were clamoring for reduced passenger rates, while nearly every business man in the State was hoping and praying for relief from unjust and discriminating freight charges. Hence we are of the opinion that the legislature did something it ought not to have done and neglected to do that which it should have done. However this may be, a law was passed and no one company or all of them combined, should have refused to abide by it, at least not without first giving it a fair trial and ascertaining their ability to do business under its provisions. In this matter as well as in others, we realize the likelihood of authority-drunk weaklings doing property interests great injustice, and that we often become quite rebellious and somewhat disposed to do some tall kicking, yet, such conduct will not do when it comes to dealing with the fundamental rights of a sovereign State. But, should one so far forget himself and do said tall kicking, the chances are he has injured rather than helped his cause. We feel sure that the railway companies that have been instrumental in having the federal court issue an injunction against the operation of this rate law, have greatly injured their cause in North Carolina for years to come. We hope, however, some mutually agreeable solution of the difficulty may be reached.

TROUTMAN, GIDEON, son of Lawson Troutman, of Garfield, this county, who went to Marion last week to work on the railroad, died last Friday from the effects of typhoid fever. Mr. Troutman was about 25 years of age and leaves a wife and two children who live at Granite Quarry. Owing to the condition of the remains the interment took place at Marion.

BRITTON, W. H., a business man of Anniston, Ala., died at the Whitehead-Stokes Sanatorium last Wednesday morning, the result of being thrown from a buggy drawn by a runaway horse. The accident occurred near Kanopolis, Cabarrus county, and he was sent here for treatment. His skull was fractured. He was about 85 years of age and his remains were carried to his old home at Marion, Va., accompanied by his brothers, for interment.

MARRIAGES.
CRAWFORD-SEAY.—The ceremony that made Miss Leona Crawford, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Capt. Jas. R. Crawford, and Leon Ernest Seay, now of Charlotte, man and wife, was performed in the Methodist church in this city Tuesday night, July 10th. Only a few friends and relations were present. Rev. E. K. McLarty officiated. Mr. Seay conducted a photograph studio here for a number of years, but is now similarly engaged in Charlotte, where he and Mrs. Seay will make their future home.

MOORE-MCCANLESS.—The marriage of Miss Jessie Moore and W. A. McCanless Sunday was quite a surprise to the friends and relatives of the couple. The ceremony took place in the parsonage of the First Methodist church and Rev. E. K. McLarty officiated. Mrs. McCanless is a daughter of Judge Moore, of Stuart, Va., and was on a visit here at the home of Geo. R. Martin. Mr. McCanless is a son of N. B. McCanless.

CALLOWAY, infant of W. J. Calloway, died at its home on Chestnut Hill last night. The funeral will be held in the morning.

HOWELL, PAT H., died from the effects of heart failure last Sunday. Mr. Howell was for many years a resident of Salisbury, but for the past few years has been making his home in Oklahoma. His remains are expected to reach here by to-morrow for interment. Mr. Howell was about 27 years of age, a baker by trade and a much liked and industrious young man.

BOST'S MILL.
Farmers are about through laying by their crops. Corn is looking fine, cotton has come out wonderfully.

Threshing wheat is in order now.

We are having fine rains at this writing.

A terrible wind-storm passed through this section last week doing some damage. The roof of the Ex-Postmaster's baggy-shed, at Manning was turned up side down by the wind. S. B. Colley's cotton seed ware house was demolished. Losses are not known yet.

Lingle Bros. have sold their threshing outfit to Klutz and Co., of Steele Township, having decided to go out of business.

Rev. L. W. Sifford and wife, of Clarksburg, W. Va., are visiting his father at the old home. He preached an excellent sermon last Sunday at Salem to a very large congregation. He will return to Clarksburg about the 28th, where he will take up his new mission work again with new energy.

Otho Cauble is still in a critical condition.

The school at Salem started last Monday with twenty-eight pupils. The health of the community is good.

Rev. Walter Sifford will preach in Salisbury on the fourth Sunday.

GOLD KNOB.
July 22nd.
Please give us the floor for a few seconds, and listen.

It has been sometime since we have been with the P. P. A.'s so our news ripened and fell off, but we have the pleasure of reporting crops in a very good condition. Corn is looking fine since our good rain, cotton is a little short, but will pull through if you give it a little chance, peas have been sowed and are coming up nicely. Most people have layed by some, and a few are through.

The Barger-Trexler, threshing machine company, began threshing Thursday, July 11th.

Capt. J. M. Proctor, superintendent of the Southern Mining Co., at Gold Hill, is having his stamp mill moved from the Gold Knob property down to the Gold Hill Mine and will have it crushing ore in several weeks. This ore is proving to be very rich and we congratulate the company in securing the services of Capt. Proctor.

Clarence E. and Bob L. Phillips have returned home from the Trinity Park School at Durham.

Misses Lucy Barner, Clara and Jessie Proctor attended the teachers institute last week in Salisbury.

There will be an election by the congregation at St. Peter's church, on Sunday, July 21st, for the purpose of calling a pastor. The congregation had only hired Rev. J. A. Linn as a supply, but since the congregation of St. James, at Rockwell, has been organized and both St. Peter's and St. James' has become a charge, it becomes necessary to call Bro. Linn as a regular pastor.

Harvey Park, who is engaged at work in Burlington, spent a few days at home last week.

The fourth of July cotton blooms were as scarce as hen teeth in this section.

Geo. W. Holshouser is confined to his bed with fever. Dr. C. M. Poole is his attending physician.

A few issues back Bro. Bartlette, denounced the farmer's as a class of people who would not stick together, speaking of an organization. If the readers of this paper will remember Bro. Bartlette some time ago tried to organize a threshing machine union, or something to that effect, and but few responded. Later Bro. Bartlette wrote an item in which he said that the farmers would not stick together. If they would they would be the back-bone of the world. Now we feel that our Bro. did the farmers a great injustice by expressing himself thus. The farmer is, without a single organization, the back-bone of the country. When the farm stops, the world stops. Think about making wheat and corn with machinery. Think of raising wheat and corn without farming. The farmers we'll admit are looked down on as a weak, ignorant, degraded class by some people. There are people in this world who would rather wear the felons stripes than to stoop so low as to even speak to a farmer. But you ask those people where they get their daily bread. Ask them if it was made by machinery or grown on the farm. The farmers, as a whole, are a little behind the society world, he cannot live in a mansion, he cannot wear a Prince Albert suit; but he can wear his overalls and enjoy the rain and the blessed sunshine more than any man on the face of God's green earth. So there now, my dear Bro. The farmer lives an honest, honorable life, he lives by fulfilling the scriptures and earns his living by the sweat of his brow. By this living we are not ashamed to kneel down and ask the creator of all things to bless the soils and thereby prosper the tiller. The farmer is an independent man whether organized or not.

BRO. LEE.

CHRISTIANA.
July 22nd.

Corn and cotton are growing nicely now, and the smile of contentment is seen on the face of every farmer.

The Providence Township Sunday School Convention which meets at St. Luke's will be held Thursday, August 1st, instead of Saturday August 3rd. A meeting of the Fire Insurance Co., being the cause of the change.

The Missionary Day at Union last Sunday was a grand success.

We had the misfortune to see some boys stone a poor old helpless, yet ever faithful, dog so near to death, last week, that it died after suffering with intense agony for many hours. Boys let us act more humanely toward the dumb animals which God has placed in our charge, lest in the day of judgment their mouths shall be opened and condemn us by repeating their sufferings which we needlessly inflicted upon them.

There is a law against cruelty to animals and persons guilty of such needless cruelty can be severely dealt with.—Ed. WATCHMAN.

Geo. F. Brown sold his horse last week to Jno. Walton of Salisbury.

L. A. Thomas, who fell to sleep last Sunday evening while sitting in a rocking chair, has constantly been dreaming ever since. His is a very peculiar case indeed.

The sick people in this community are beginning to improve.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Missionary Day exercises at Christians, July 28.
