One Negro Kills Another.

Monday evening about 7 o'clock a South Carolina negro having recently come into this community and known as "Tiddy" Boston, shot and almost instantly killed Frank Harris, usually a peaceably inclined resident of this city. The trouble began when Col. Harris called at the Busy Bee restaurant on Council street and invited Col. Boston out. Col. Boston said he was busy and could not come out then, but was finally persuaded to go to Col. Harris' brother's shoeshop in the rear of N. J. Boyd's barbershop. As Col. Boston entered the shoe shop words, a shoe knife and a few hot bullets took part in proceedings vulgarly called a rough house. When the sound had died away and the smoke of battle had cleared Col. Harris lay wounded from the effects of a few hot bullets which were suddenly stuck in between his ribs and died soon afterwards. Col. Boston bore numerous wounds about the head and face as evidence of Col. Harris' skill in handling a shoe knife. It is said, as is usual in such cases among the colored brethren, a "woman was the cause of it all." Col. Boston was arrested, given a preliminary hearing and set to jail to await the next term of Rowan Superior Court. There is no talk of lynching the Colonel.

Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. MODERN METHODS.

How They Have Improved a Standard Remedy.

In the 17th Century a wave of excitement swept over England and France when the medical profession discovered such wonderful curative elements in the cod liver.

In the 18th Century cod liver oil was imported and used extensively by physicians in this country, but it was found to be adulterated to a great extent, and useless heavy oil which enveloped the medicinal elements, a great hindrance to its medicinal value.

In 1855 a famous physician from the Hague went to Norway and after two years of experiment and research produced a light brown oil from the cod's livers which was said to be more valuable than the pale yellow oil, but the taste and odor was so repulsive that it frequently caused such nausea that it made it unpopular.

The most valuable discovery, however, was later made by two eminent French chemists, who after years of research discovered an extractive and concentrating process, by which all of the medicinal, healing and body building elements of the cod's liver are separated from the useless and nauseating all, these recovered medicinal elements combined with peptonate-of-iron make Vinol the most scientific and valuable and liver preparation which the world has ever known.

Vinol is so rich in the elements of life that it imparts vigor to all debilitated and feeble conditions and is unexcelled as a remedy for all pulmonary troubles. Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction. The T. W. Grimes Drug Co., Salisbury, N. C.

Of Greater Food Value

Whole wheat is of greater food value than any other cereal. It contains all of the fourteen elements necessary for the sustenance of the human body. The most important of these (the nitrogenous principles and salts) lie near the surface of the grain and are only partly utilized in the manufacture of the present-day wheat flour.

DR. PRICE'S WHEAT FLAKE CELERY FOOD

presents Whole Wheat in a most acceptable form. It is flavored with celery after being cooked, flaked and slowly baked for a sufficient time to render the starches easy of digestion.

Palatable - Nutritious - Easy of Digestion and ready to Eat
Can be served hot. Put in a hot oven for a few minutes; or cook in boiling milk.
