SALISBURY, N. C., Jan. 29th, 1908.

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE IN DANGER OF BEING
EATEN ALIVE.

Mr. Adams, special Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, Friday wrote as follows:

"No sooner had Chairman Dowd, of Mecklenburg, rapped for order when Representative Julian, of Rowan, arose, and in the most forceful and emphatic terms refuted the aspersions which he declared had been cast upon the good name and fame of Salisbury by Solicitor Clarkson, of Charlotte, in the course of his speech in the afternoon, advocating a favorable report by the committee on the bill. Solicitor Clarkson's remarks in substance was that Salisbury was polluting the adjacent towns by means of its liquor traffic which was a stench in the nostrils of the good people of that section. Representative Julian declared himself so emphatically that no one following him had the nerve to so much as even mention or refer to Salisbury either directly or indirectly."

When Ethen Allen, atheist that he was, rushed into the officers quarters of Fort Ticonderoga and with sword in hand commanded the British General, Bradley, to surrender "in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress," you can imagine the cowl and prayerful attitude which crept over the once proud, goldbraided, strutting Britisher. This was playing the burlesque for all it might bring, and in a good cause, but when we read such biased drivel as quoted above, one feels that the day of small things and weakling is, like the flies of Egypt, taking the land.
It is shame enough for the grand old county of Rown to be represented as she is, but for a great paper that ought to know the conditions and is blame worthy if it does not, to imagine for a moment, or publish a line that insults any one member, (laughing at the possibility of this particular individual) found in any wise high the mouth and dispel the courage of the legislature's most puny member. Of course the personnel of that body did not take the matter seriously.

We have had a very estimable opinion of the Observer's fairness in general, and do not now complain of its editorial expressions, but we, as do many of our good citizens, feels that this city and the prohibition question has been handled in a very biased manner by its correspondents here and in Raleigh. False colors, and, it seems, in some instances, deliberate misrepresentations have been indulged in. As for Mr. Clarkson's charges, every sane man knows that the habitual use of whiskey is debauching, every posted man in North Carolina knows and the court records of our adjoining cities and counties bear indisputable testimony to the fact that whiskey has been, and will continue to be made and sold here as it is made and sold here. This has become such a fixture and notorious fact that certain trains going out from Salisbury, for the last several years, owing to the great quantity of whiskey hauled, have become known as the "booze specials." Our dram loving authorities being indebted for their positions to the whiskey ring, have stood with open arms to all comers, receiving the driven-outs from Charlotte, Greensboro, Statesville, Georgia and Alabama, until we have been overpowered and beyond redemption without outside help. Had as well say the inhabitants of Smithtown are engaged in evangelizing the heathen and its pig paths, gulleys and bubbling slops are necessary parts of the new Jerusalem. Prohibition become a necessity here, if morality and virtue are to longer remain. Of course there are people who care not for these things and there are others whose vision is obscured by factional strife, the money in the business and the lack of personal liberty. Under ordinary conditions we think the people should decide such matters by ballot, but in this particular case much strife and ill will would have been prevented if the legislature would have acted favorably to Salisbury's petitioners; such was done by this legislature for other places and could have been done for us with as much propriety.

However, all things come to those who wait, even death.

But didn't Mr. Vann fan the would-be bully to a finish? Why, we wonder, were not his remarks also given conspicuously!

It is the members of the legislature who refused to act who are losing ground. They may cough and point at Glenn, but time will show who is in the saddle. Mark ye this.

Senator Overman may have stumped the county for prohibition in 1881, but those who are seeking relief from the debauching whiskey traffic are keenly aware of the fact that he is now giving them no aid and no hope of any.

The House of Representatives has passed a bill authorizing a State election on prohibition to be held on the last Thursday in April and providing that the saloons and distilleries shall close up on January 1st, 1907, should the election be successful. In our opinion it would be much better to have them close prior to the November election.

Probably some people would like to have the passenger fares on the railroads made 5 cents per mile and have it made compulsory for every citizen to take at least four trips a year. Or, if the success of everything in the State depends upon the passenger rates, why not make them 10 cents per mile, notwithstanding the roads are willing to do the same work at 2 1-2c.

Gov. Glenn may have been disappointed by the inconsistency of the Legislature, which practically dried three-fourths of the State by statutory enactment at its last session, in refusing to dry the other one-fourth, but he is not going to be near so lonesome as some of the Smart Alex who denied the people the right of petition at Raleigh Tuesday night a week.

The conduct of the House caucus made thousands of prohibition and independent voters.

Daughter Shoots Her Sweetheart's Eye Out.

Near Advance, Davie county, last evening, Charles Hege, aged 20, was accidentally shot by his sweetheart, Miss Annie Livingood.
The girl was handling her lover's pistol and not knowing it was loaded, pointed it at Hege, pulling the trigger, the ball entering his left eye and coming out above the temple. Physicians say he will recover, but the sight of the eye is destroyed.—Winston-Salem dispatch, 27th.

The Election in April.

Raleigh, Jan. 27.—The House of Representatives tonight decided to hold the prohibition election the last Thursday in April instead of the first Thursday in August.
The bill as amended, modifying several of its provisions in slight particulars, was adopted after a session lasting until midnight.
The most important of the amendments was that eliminating the greater part of the definition of what constitutes intoxicants as found in Section 2. Adjournment was taken on the stroke of the clock, with 82 for the bill and 8 against it. Those voting against the bill were Representatives Albright, of Surry; Grant, of Davie, and Morton, of New Hanover. The session was a stormy one, was good natured in the extreme and the members departed in the best of fellowship.—

It Does the Business.

Mr. E. F. Chamberlain of Clunton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them; used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed without leaving a scar behind." 25c, at all druggists.

Thaw Case In Jury By Friday.

New York, Jan. 28.— With no attempt on the part of the State to combat with scientific testimony the claim of insanity urged in behalf of Harry K. Thaw, the taking of evidence in the second hearing of the famous Madison Square Garden murder trial ended to-day. To-morrow morning Martin W. Littleton will begin his plea for the defendant and is expected to occupy both morning and afternoon sessions. District Attorney Jerome will speak Thursday. He has promised to be brief, and Justice Dowling may hand the case over to the jury on Thursday afternoon. That court announced, however, that he probably would not deliver his charge until Friday morning.

The marriage of Miss Cordie Blackwelder, sister of Rev. L. W.
Blackwelder, and Fred Lentz, an employee at H. P. Thompson's wood working plant, took place at the Methodist parsonage, in East Spencer, Sunday evening.
Rev. C. M. Short officiating. The couple will make their home with Mr. Lentz's mother on North Main street. These young people are quite popular and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.
