

PUBLIC IS FLEECD.

How the Tariff Favors the at the Expense of Americans. The tariff has always been an question in presidential but never more im this year. Hun have poured into the National Commit- at the auditoring the fallacies ve tariff league. voted the Repub many years write for the election of ings Bryan on ac- e tariff as exploited by the Republican party. Investigations show that our American machinery and other exportations can be bought for just half the price asked in our country, on the Mexican border.

These astounding revelations have caused thousands of Republicans to flock under the banner of Bryanism. O. B. Steen of Los Angeles, Cal., has made a study of the tariff question as it is carried on under the Republican regime.

Mr. Steen has undisputed proof on this matter and in speaking of the tariff question said:

"One phase of the tariff question that seems of sufficient importance to demand publicity in this campaign is the alleged bar- ance of trade claimed by the protective tariff league and officially confirmed by government reports.

"When you ask why that balance of trade was not apparent in the shape of gold imports from abroad, the stereotyped reply has been that it was carried as credit balances in Europe which we could draw against when needed. Republicans have been painfully silent in regard to this mythical balance, due us since the panic began.

The attention of the public was first called to this fallacy in June, 1907, when we borrowed some millions of gold from France, practically hypothecating future exports of American wheat that had not been harvested. Since that time we have imported many millions of gold, all of which have been borrowed. My investigations show that an American typewriter appears upon our list of exports at the American price, $105, and is sold in Mexico for $62.50, the difference being a part of our balance of trade that does not exist except for campaign purposes.

I am credibly informed, by those in position that the same rule applies in our exports to other countries. Many men predicted their plans for business enterprises upon the official statements that enormous sums were due us from foreign nations, and in consequence, the real business interests of the country have suffered. As a Republican I used to believe in protection, and I may say I do yet when necessary to protect American labor; but I do not believe in that kind of protection to American labor that pays an American woman two cents for making a shirt and a Chinaman ten cents for washing it. I do not believe in that kind of protection that charges an American girl $105 for a typewriter and sells a Mexican banker one of the same make for $60. I do not believe in that kind of protection that enables the Mexican farmer to buy American wire and nails 40 per cent cheaper than the American farmer, living almost within the shadow of the factory where they are made."

Gov. Haskell Not Done.

In a supplementary statement issued by Governor Haskell this morning he says: "If President Roosevelt's statements are correctly quoted, he has crawled into a hole scarcely big enough for him to turn around in, and before he gets through with me I will be the hole. Roosevelt, in his habit of practicing double standards, has placed me in a position where I want him to be sorry for it."

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

Southern Railway southbound passenger train No. 41, from Charlotte to Seneca, ran into an open switch one mile and a half south of Welford, a station twelve miles south of this city, tonight about 8:45 and Engineer W. J. Fonville, of Greenville, and his colored fireman were killed. The baggagemaster had a leg broken. None of the passengers suffered more than being shaken up. The engine and tender turned completely over. Dr. Earl, of Greenville, rushed to the scene in an automobile and rendered aid to the injured baggagemaster. A wrecking crew left here at midnight. It is believed by officials of the road that the switch was thrown by some miscreant.—Spartanburg, S. C., special to Charlotte Observer.

KANSAS GETS THE PRIZE.

Some Interesting Stories of the Corn Grown in That State.

The veracity of the Kansas farmer is never doubted, hence the State Board of Agriculture is making preparations to hire men to assist in the harvesting of the greatest crop of grain the State has ever known. In addition to common harvest hands, the department is looking for 10,000 good axmen, who according to reports, are needed to a sist in harvesting the crop. The yield is a little above the average, with stalks running from three to five feet through, and ears of corn anywhere from nine feet to twenty feet in length. In fact the corn crop is so heavy that it has narrowly escaped causing a lot of casualties.

At Garden City, Bill Sincaller and his family had a narrow escape from death. A stalk of corn growing in the yard was blown over by the wind and crashed through the roof of his house, almost completely demolishing the building. Bill was pinned in bed, but his eldest son, Frank, chopped away the stalk after an hour of hard work and extricated the old man.

Experiments conducted by the Metropolitan Water Company at Medicine Lodge, Kan., with the reinforced cornstalk pipes have proven successful, and a company to manufacture them has been organized. It is estimated that pipe can be placed on the market at one-tenth the cost of cast iron pipe, and the new material will outwear the iron. The supply of raw material is inexhaustible. The company will be stocked for $5,000,000.

Great excitement was caused at Fort Riley when Troop N, Sixteenth cavalry, which had been participating in the maneuvers he night before, failed to report in camp. A scout learned that they were hemmed in by immense cornstalks and unable to get out, and hastened into camp with the news. The seige batteries were ordered out with the engineer battalion, and after working all night chopping and dynamiting they got a trail cut through and the troops returned to camp this morning.

A fast stock train on the B. & M. was wrecked a mile east of Enterprise by a cornstalk which had fallen across the track. The engine was demolished. Several similar accidents have narrowly been averted near here recently, and the trains have been given slow orders when passing corn fields.

Col. John Golong, of Exeter township, has captured the $500 prize offered by the County Fair association for a unique corn exhibit. Taking his plowing engine, he hitched 46 farm wagons in double column behind it and then ran the train along his cornfield by means of block and tackle arrangements he loaded on his train one of the largest stalks. Hauling this to the fair grounds, he unloaded it on the midway and had it hollowed out. In each of the sections he displayed some of the products of his 7,500-acre farm, and in the middle section furnished up comfortable quarters for his family during fair week.

With the denuding of the forests and the continual increase in the price of lumber, a new industry has sprung up at Leoti, Kan., in the manufacture of weather boarding, fencing and such material out of the cornstalks. The cornstalk timber has been found to wear as well as wood, and the market is rapidly growing.—Unknown liar.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

A Great Movement Now on Foot to Exterminate Tuberculosis.

For the next three weeks the national capital will be the scene of such a crusade as, perhaps, never before has been witnessed against humanity's common foe—the white plague. It will be an educational campaign, world-wide in the scope, the ultimate object of which is to eradicate, if possible, from the ends of the earth a disease which statistical experts declare, cuts short the lives of from one-tenth to one-eighth of the civilized population. Such distinguished foreigners as Drs. Robert Koch, of Berlin; Bang, of Copenhagen; A. Calmette, of Lille, France; N. Theodore Tondeloc, of Leyden; R. W. Phillip, of Edinburgh; C. von Pirquet, of Vienna; G. Sims Woodhead, of Cambridge; Lydia Rabinowitsch, of Berlin; Camilo Callejo, of Valladolid, Spain; T. Ishigami, of Osaka, Japan, and noted American physicians and scientists and others who have devoted their lives in an effort to solve this problem, will actively participate.

The campaign will be carried on by the coming International Congress on Tuberculosis in its sixth annual session which will meet in the United States for the first time at the new national museum in this city. The congress, which might fittingly be called a real world's congress on tuberculosis, will mark an epoch in the anti-tuberculosis movement in this country.

The initial step will be taken tomorrow night when there will be a public opening at the new National Museum, in connection with the congress, a tuberculosis exposition. It will be one of the largest, the most important and in every way the most comprehensive exhibit ever assembled and it will be illustrative of what is being done throughout the world in the fight against tuberculosis. While the display is connected with the congress, it is not so closely related to be taken as the official opening of the congress. That important event will occur one week later, September 28th.—Washington, D. C., dispatch.

Three thousand dollars could not be spent more wisely than in the doing of this thing; and we hope the burden of giving this money will grow so heavy on some Christian's heart that he will yield, and enjoy the richest experience of his life.—Charity and Children.

Sons of Old Age.

The editor of The Sun incidentally mentioned the fact that he was born when his mother was well on towards 47 years of age. Our townsman, D. T. McLean, who was standing by, and a perfectly reliable man he is, said his father was born after his father and mother was 65 years old. The family lived on Green river in Polk county. We recall no other case like this. Jenny Lind, we think, gave birth to her only child, a little daughter, when near 56. These instances are rare.—Rutherfordton, S. C.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves". Any way, lost the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by Cornelison & Cook.
