Salisbury, N. C., Nov 18, 1908.

Has anyone made any guesses yet on the next postmaster of Salisbury, or the U. S. District Attorney for this district? We don't mind saying in strict confidence that Jas. H. Ramsay will probably be postmaster under the Taft administration.

There is evidently something wrong with the people in various sections of the country. It has been a long time since one heard of so many murders and shootings as have taken place lately.

The WATCHMAN does not know who was the aggressor in the recent street duel in Nashville, Tenn., in which Ex-Senator Carmack was killed.

There is an element of fiendishness and atrocious cold bloodedness in that Waynesville killing which is really appalling.

It has been stated in more than one newspaper of the State recently, that a bill will be introduced in the next legislature to grant communities the right of local self-government.

A FATAL FALL.

Son of Henry Watterson Meets Death by Unusual Accident.

Harvey W. Watterson, a lawyer, and younger son of Henry Watterson, editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal, plunged to his death from the nineteenth floor of his office building at 37 Wall Street late today.

While there were no eye-witnesses to the tragedy, evidently it was entirely accidental. Mr. Watterson's hat and overcoat were on his closed desk.

Mr. Watterson was 30 years old and married. He was junior member of the law firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson. Shortly before 4 o'clock Mr. Watterson left the office library, remarking that he was going home.

A few minutes later the superintendent of the building rushed in and informed Thos. E. Wing, senior member of the firm, that he believed Mr. Watterson had fallen from the window and looked down from the window.

The body was removed to the Watterson home, after the coroner had declared that the death of Mr. Watterson was due entirely to accident.

A peculiar feature of the case was that Mr. Watterson's watch and cigarette case in one pocket, and a pipe in another, were not damaged by the fall.

Comes to Salisbury.

Ellis Pugh and family left Monday for Salisbury to make their future home. Mr. Pugh has a position as foreman in a cotton mill there.

An Interesting Occasion.

"You have no doubt felt the need of better equipped teachers for our Sunday schools. The privilege to hear this question discussed will be offered to the Sunday Schools next Thursday night on the 19th at 7:30 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The speaker is a gentleman well qualified to discuss his subject in an able and instructive manner.

SPORTS LOCAL ITEMS

The First Baptist church, which has been without a regular pastor since the resignation of Rev. R. E. Neighbor, has extended a call to Rev. J. L. Motley, of Atlanta, Ga. It is not known yet whether Mr. Motley will accept.

Dr. C. M. Poole, who has had much trouble with his eyes lately, so much, in fact, that he was unable to give attention to his medical practice, is much improved.

Harry Morton, a fireman, had the misfortune a few nights ago to fall into a cinder pit near the roundhouse, in the Southern yards at Spencer. He received a painful wound on the head.

A Sunday school has been organized for the Hebrew children of the city. The services will be held in the rooms occupied by the Merchants' Association.

Sheriff-elect McKenzie went to Greensboro last Friday to bring home his daughter, Miss Mary Wood. She is a student of the State Normal and is very ill with typhoid fever.

The scarlet fever situation here is reported as being well under control. There have been very few fatal cases and there are no new cases developing.

The official programme for the North Carolina Day exercises is in the hands of Supt. Kizer. Any of the teachers in the county who want a copy of the programme can secure it by calling at the office of the superintendent.

The excavation at Main and Innis streets, on the site of the Old Mansion House, is about ready for the foundation for the building which is to be erected there.

Miss Belle Reeves and J. W. Teal were married last Tuesday afternoon by D. M. Miller, Esq.

Sam Massey didn't become hilarious over the news that the governor had granted him a respite until December 4th. He merely said, "Much obliged."

Some of the members of the North Carolina Corporation Commission visited Spencer last week and looked over the shops.

The Bagley Council, Daughters of Liberty, had eighteen candidates for initiation last Saturday night.

Thomas Rothrock, a native of Rowan, is now located at Fort Mackenzie, Wyo. He is connected with the hospital corps.

Dr. O. D. King, a well-known physician of Albemarle, died last Thursday morning. Bright's disease was the cause of death.

J. R. Price, Esq., an attorney of Albemarle, was here last week on business.

We have recently received a very much appreciated letter from A. H. Caldwell, a native of this city, now located at Brevard, N. C. Mr. Caldwell is roadmaster and trainmaster of the Transylvania division of the Southern Railway. Mr. Caldwell is making a record for himself in the railroad world and is giving great satisfaction to the higher officials in his splendid and able management of the property in his hands.

His many friends here will be glad to learn of his success.

A Full Force may be put to Work. For a long time there has been considerable speculation as to when the Southern Railway Company would restore its Spencer shop force to its former proportion, and there has been various rumors afloat as to what the company would do and when it would be done.

The most reliable information on the subject came the other day from General Manager Ackert himself, who was in the city for a short time. He stated in substance, that if the condition of business justified such a step, that most of the men who were laid off some time ago would be put to work by the first of the year.

Such an increase in the force as this would be, would mean much to the business men of Salisbury.

Preacher Charged With Murder.

Detective Hurricane Branch tonight arrested Rev. Ernest Lyons, at Reid's Ferry, Va., on the charge of murdering his predecessor, Rev. Jas. L. Smith, who has been mysteriously missing since August 1st, and for whom detectives have been searching for weeks.

Smith, an exponent of the "sanctified" or "free love" band was mentioned in connection with a woman, whose reputation was questioned. There had a difficulty shortly before Smith's disappearance.

Last week a body was found floating on Nansemond river, and was buried as an unknown. Today it was disinterred and positively identified by the clothing and a finger ring. The autopsy brought out the fact that death did not result from drowning, but from a blow which fractured the temple. Detectives say Smith's body was first buried and then thrown into the river.—Suffolk, Va., dispatch.

Postoffice Robbed.

The postoffice in East Spencer was robbed last Wednesday night and the thieves secured about $9.00 in money and $2.00 in stamps. The office is located in the store of Esq. C. E. Fesperman and he is out a quantity of merchandise of various kinds, just how much, he has not been able to determine.

The thief evidently had his nerve with him. He entered the residence of Mr. Fesperman and going into his room he secured a watch and the key of the store from the pockets of Mr. Fesperman, who was sleeping soundly.

The perpetrator of the robbery is beyond doubt one who is quite familiar with both Mr. Fesperman's residence and his store. The officers believe they have a clue to the guilty party, but they are not giving out any information.

Bishop Cheshire at St. Luke's.

There was a large congregation at St. Luke's Episcopal church last Sunday morning. Bishop Cheshire was present and administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of seventeen. This is one of the most solemn and impressive, as well as one of the most beneficial rites of the church and the audience, many of whom were not Episcopalians, showed a marked degree of interest. After concluding this portion of the service the Bishop preached an able and highly instructive sermon from 1st Samuel, 12:22: "For the Lord will not forsake his people for His great name's sake; because it hath pleased the Lord to make you his people."

The sermon was devoted largely to an outline of the history of the church, the part it had played and the mighty influence it had exerted upon English speaking people. The Bishop stated that that was the first sermon of the kind he had ever prepared during his ministry.

Walter Exum, the negro who stole an overcoat from a Mr. Kesler last week, played in hard luck. He was arrested, and in the mayor's court he was given a choice between the chain gang and a whipping. He chose the latter and it was administered by Capt. Cauble. Exum is quite young and the whipping may be what he needed most.
