SALISBURY, N. C., Dec 9, 1908.

Lynchburg, Va., has joined the ranks of the dry towns. Look out for Richmond now. Virginia's soil might not prove so favorable after all to those who are seeking a new location in order to conduct a liquor business.

We haven't the time to call attention to each of our advertise separately this week, but do so in this general way. Practically every ad. in this paper is a plea to you to do our trading at home, among your merchants, and it is hoped, after a perusal of THE WATCHMAN'S advertising columns, that those who cordially invite your patronage will be given a fair showing by you. Home patronage makes it possible for home institutions to succeed. Trade at home.

"Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth." The troubles over the turnpike question in Kentucky no doubt was an encouragement to the tobacco growers, the night-riding portion of whom have kept the whole State in a ferment for some time. The fever spread to the adjoining State of Tennessee and the Rankin-Taylor episode followed. Now on the heels of this comes a man who has threatened the barns of farmers if they sell peanuts for less than one dollar a bushel, and he is under arrest. No doubt others will take up the fight and we will soon hear of more outrages. Can any one see the end of this business?

One day last week there was a Civic League organized here. Its object, as stated, is for the purpose of improving and beautifying the city. A very praiseworthy cause. Any good citizen should be glad to assist in such efforts, but as such efforts would necessarily mean the undoing of about 50 per cent. of the improvements made by the mayor and city officials during the past few years, and some of the same officials seem to be engineering the league, and, as it seems to be more of a political campaign committee for the re-election of some of the same city officials, we fear the beautification of the city through such a source is predestined to failure. In saying that much of the improvements made here in the last few years will need to be undone, we refer to the narrowing of the streets, the zigzag arrangement of the curbing, the lack of sufficient drainage, and the failure to establish correct property lines. Harmony and regularity of the streets, sidewalk and curbing are, to us, among the first requisites of the city beautiful. So, while much has been done, without the least reference to these basic principles, (if there are more than two blocks here laid off in line and to match in proportion, we have not seen them,) we re-iterate the necessity of undoing, and at a greater cost than would have been the original cost, much that has been done.

An Opportunity.

We are organizing an International Bible reading association at the Dunn's Mountain Baptist church, for the purpose of promoting Christian fellowship and social intercourse. We want a charter membership of at least twenty-five people. We extend you a cordial invitation to join us. Come to class next Sunday evening at 2 o'clock and get acquainted. If you cannot come next Sunday, and want to become a charter member, just send us your name. A visit to our class is an hour well spent. Nothing to lose much to gain.

Very truly yours,
WALTER L. LOFTIN,

PUT HIM OUT OF BUSINESS.

A Man's Lack of Civility Sets Him into a Most Serious Plight.

Readers of the papers no doubt noticed, not long since, a very short dispatch from Spartanburg, S. C., regarding a heavy sentence imposed upon a man for bringing liquor into the State surreptitiously. He was found guilty and sentenced for three years. Back of this there is quite an interesting little story which THE WATCHMAN happened upon in an accidental way.

A baggage man was approached by a man at a certain station and was requested to carefully handle his trunk, which had just been taken on the train. The railroad man asked him to point out his trunk and the passenger did so, at the same time showing his baggage check. The citizen had spoken in a rather gruff and uncivil way and the baggage man did not take to his style a little bit, so he merely told him his trunk would be given the same attention the other baggage would get. The passenger got on the train and the trunk manipulator went ahead with his usual work. In arranging some of the local baggage so it could be put off conveniently at the points to which it was checked, he had occasion to handle the particular trunk he had been asked to treat tenderly. He noticed that it was exceedingly heavy for a trunk of its size, and on shaking it about a little he heard a noise very much like water or some sort of liquid slashing around. He became suspicious and did some hard thinking. The more he thought, the more suspicious he became, and being of a jovial, companionable disposition, and a trifle curious as well, he took advantage of a brief lull in business to walk through the train and see if he could find the owner of the trunk. He soon spied him and going to where he was, asked: "Look here, partner, what have you got in that trunk of yours in the baggage car?"

"Why do you ask that?" said the other.

"Because," was the reply, "the trunk is very heavy and I was wondering if you had gold or something in the metallic line in it."

"Well, its nothing to you what is in that trunk, all you have to do with it is to see that it is properly checked and delivered at its destination."

The other admitted the truth of this remark and told the man that he meant no offence and asked the question merely as a joke.

The passenger, who did not seem at all pleased at the question, finally remarked in a surly tone: "There's nothing in that trunk but my clothes, though I don't see that it is any business of yours."

"Well, my friend, all I can say is that you must wear mighty heavy clothes," and the baggage man went back to his car.

At the next station he wired to Spartanburg asking that a policeman come at once to the baggage car when the train arrived. When the train pulled in at the depot at that place there were several policemen on hand. On asking what was up the baggage man pointed out the trunk and told the officers he had reason to believe it was a sort of wholesale blind tiger. The baggage was set out and just then the owner of the trunk came up. "There's the man who has the check for this trunk, perhaps he can tell you what's in it," said the baggage man to the officers. The minions of the law at once besieged the man for the desired information, but he declined to loosen up. The officers managed to get hold of his keys and opened the trunk. They found fifteen gallons of liquor and the protesting owner was marched off to the lock-up.

The point of this is that if the owner of the trunk had been decently civil, he would probably have escaped the trouble which attended his advent into Spartanburg.

Officers Take oath.

The officers elected at the November election were sworn in last Monday and are now performing the duties of their respective offices. When the new board of county commissioners was organized, P. B. Beard was selected as chairman and it was he who administered oath of office to the recently elected officers. Sheriff McKenzie succeeds J. H. Krider, Messrs. Bear, Peeler and Barber are the new members of the board of county commissioners, Messrs. Miller, Nicholas, Miller and Dorsett are their own successors in the offices, respectfully, of register of deeds, treasurer, surveyor and coroner.

Lynchburg Goes Dry.

Lynchburg voted against liquor license today by a majority of 195 out of a total vote of 1,858. The election passed off quietly. The only unusual features was coffee and prayer rooms maintained by the W. C. T. U. near each precinct; all day prayer service at one church, and marching and singing of 250 well organized children. There seems to be no chance of a contest and if not the thirty-four saloons will close March 5th next.—Lynchburg, Va., dispatch.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by Cornelison & Cook.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS

After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.
