

THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS

A. J. Hegler, of Mooresville was in the city yesterday morning.

J. C. Fraley, of Morgau township, was in the city Monday.

Dr. B. B. Flowe, a veterinary surgeon, formerly of Hickory, has located in Salisbury.

Mrs. I. C. Griffin, who is still at the sanatorium, is improving slowly.

An interesting revival meeting has been in progress for the past ten days at the First Baptist church.

The remains of Sam. Wallace, who committed suicide last week, were taken to Charlotte last Friday for interment.

Rev. S. S. Bost, Rector of St. Phillips Episcopal church, Durham, came over yesterday and will spend a few days in the city.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ridenhour died Saturday night. Pneumonia and whooping cough was the cause of death.

Gov. Kitchen has appointed Dr. R. M. Armstrong of this city, a member of the State Board of examiners for the Osteopathic school of medicine.

Postmaster Ramsay received a message last week notifying him of the death of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Nelson, at her home in Fanndale, Ala.

The ball game at Concord last week between Salisbury and Concord teams, was won by the boys of the latter team. The score was 11 to 6.

The grocery store of W. R. Cox on North Main Street, was visited by thieves last Friday night. Some small change and a quantity of goods was taken. So far there is no clue to the thief.

D. L. Cauble received news last Friday announcing the death of his father, at Webb City, Mo. The deceased moved from this county to Missouri several years ago.

Capt. R. W. Price met with an unlucky accident the other day. While cutting off a piece of beef at his place of business, the knife slipped and broke off the end of a finger.

The Spencer shops have taken on their old time appearance. The shops in the different departments are veritable hives of industry and an immense amount of work is being turned out daily.

Tom Leonard, a young man of Concord, was arrested by local officers last week and was taken to Concord by an officer from that town. Leonard was charged with having assaulted a man with a knife.

Dr. Chas. E. Smith has been elected Captain of the Rowan Rifles. He succeeds Capt. W. R. Cox, who was promoted recently. Captain Smith is a fine officer and the company will be excellently managed while in his hands.

At a recent meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held in Washington, D. C., Mrs. E. C. Gregory, of this city, was elected one of the ten vice-presidents who are chosen at each annual meeting of the organization.

On May 24th there will be another sale at auction of the property of the Yadkin Valley Fair Association. At a former sale the property brought $14,000 and there was a stipulation that this price could be increased at the next sale by ten per cent.

T. J. West and his family have returned to their former home in Cincinnati. Mr. West conducted the Climax barber shop here for several years, which he recently disposed of to Messrs Stewart and Fryar. Mr. West was a good citizen and leaves many friends in Salisbury who wish him good luck and prosperity.

Officers Elected.
The recently organized Salisbury Realty and Insurance Company, has elected officers as follows: President, J. K. Link; vice-president, N. B. McCannless; secretary and treasurer, A. L. Smoot. The directors are: J. K. Link, A. L. Smoot, N. B. McCannless, M. L. Jackson, W. B. Summersett, W. B. Smoot, W. Corl, T. J. Manpin, C. L. Welch.

MONUMENT UNVEILING.

Gen. Bennett Young, of Kentucky, the Orator. Mrs. Stonewall Jackson to be Present.

Mrs. W. H. Overman was busy this morning personally delivering special invitations to the unveiling of the Confederate soldiers' monument. THE WATCHMAN acknowledges its indebtedness to The Robert F. Hoke Chapter, U. D. C., for one of these invitations, the first one handed out. It reads:
The Robert F. Hoke Chapter, U. D. C.

request the honor of your presence at the unveiling of the monument to the memory of Rowan's Confederate Soldiers, Monday, May the tenth, nineteen hundred and nine, Salisbury, North Carolina.

As there has been several conflicting reports concerning the date of the unveiling, there will be no further reason for such. As will be seen by the above May 10th is the proper and final date.

General Bennett Young, of Louisville, Ky., a noted orator and one of the old heroes of the Confederate army, will be the orator of the occasion.

A. H. Boyden will call the roll of honor, which consists of all the soldiers who served in the Confederate army from Rowan county.

Mrs. Frances Tiernan, daughter of Col. Charles F. Fisher, will unveil the monument.

The Chas. F. Fisher Camp, U. C. V., will be present in a body, and Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson will also be present.

This will be an occasion of a life time and no doubt an unusually large crowd will be present.

Concord Interested.

T. H. Vanderford, Sr., and T. J. Jerome, Esq., were in Concord a few days ago in the interest of the new railroad, mention of which has already been made in the columns of this paper. A meeting was held which was attended by a large number of citizens of Concord and Cabarrus county. Considerable work is being done along the route of the proposed road in order to get enthusiasm aroused.

A Compliment.

The election of Mrs. E. C. Gregory, daughter of Senator Lee S. Overman, as one of the vice presidents general of the Daughters of the American Revolution by a lead of one hundred votes over any other candidate, was a handsome compliment and one that puts this State in a more than ordinarily good humor with the D. A. R.'s. In continuing this honor to North Carolina, the Daughters of the American Revolution were happy in their selection of the one who was to wear it.—Charlotte Observer.

Goes to Georgia.

A recent issue of the Charlotte News says:

"Rev. J. K. Coit, in charge of the city mission work of the First Presbyterian church of Rock Hill, S. C., is in the city to-day with Mrs. Coit and Master John McIver Coit. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Banks to-day and left this afternoon for home. Mrs. Coit has been visiting Mr. Coit's mother, in Salisbury.

"Mr. Coit has accepted a call to take charge of the Mountain work of Athens Presbyterian church in North-east Georgia, and will leave the first of May for his new field. He will be located at Nacoochee Institute. Mr. Coit is a brother of Rev. R. T. Coit, lately gone as a missionary to Korea."

Gambler Caught.

A very smooth article in the way of a gambler, who has been evading the officers for some months, was captured here, last Friday, by Sheriff McKenzie and Deputy Kridler. This is a young man, but an expert gambler and has been wanted in Virginia for some time. He made repeated efforts to escape after taken by the Sheriff.

Presentation Made.

Last Tuesday Hon. John S. Henderson was in Raleigh, where he had gone to be present at the presentation to the Supreme court of a portrait of his relative, the late Chief Justice Leonard Henderson. The speech of presentation was made by Judge R. W. Winston and the speech of acceptance by chief justice Walter Clark.

Bought strouse clothing co's bankrupt stock, nice clothing cheap advertise

J Feldman.

MONEY TRANSFERRED BY TELEGRAPH. CABLE OFFICE.

We are quite proud to announce that we can offer you more bargains of new spring merchandise than any other store in this section of North Carolina. The telegram above will tell you the reason for doing so. Our buyers bought the stock from Strauss Clothing Co. who went bankrupt. We offer you the entire stock at less than 50 cents on the dollar. The goods are all fresh new styles made to sell this season.

We herewith show you a likeness of Mr. J. Feldman who has built up this wonderful clothing business. We have established one of the most successful clothing businesses in the South, because we give the public better values than most other good stores.

We are one concern of a very few of the South who have buyers located in the world's metropolis always searching for bargains for the people. We are known as bargain givers through the entire Piedmont section of North Carolina.

We offer you at this time the Strauss bankrupt stock at less than 50 cents on the dollar. We want you to come and see these goods. We don't ask you to buy, as there is no trouble for us to show goods.

J. FELDMAN

125 South Main Street,

Salisbury, N. C.

Completely Lost His Mind.

A young white man named Coy Squire, is now in jail here and is a raving maniac. For some time he was employed by the Southern as clerk at Spencer, but he left that place something over a year ago to go with the Salvation Army. It is believed that religious frenzy is responsible for his present condition. Sheriff McKenzie has to look after him very closely as he is liable to do himself serious injury if he has a chance. An effort will be made to send him to Morganton.

Something Extraordinary.

For the first time in any newspaper ever printed in Rowan county there appear on page 5 an original telegram. This message was sent by the buyers of J. Feldman who secured the famous Strauss Bankrupt Stock for less than 50 cents on the dollar. These goods have arrived in Salisbury and are being offered at 125 South Main St., at prices never heard of before. Feldman wants you to see this merchandise, as he says no trouble to show goods. Read his half-page advertisement in today's WATCHMAN.

Prof. Coon Heard from.

Warrants were issued by the city authorities to-day against Rebecca Barnes and Superintendent C. L. Coon, of the city schools. A moving picture show distributed free tickets to a lot of school children and Professor Coon learning of it demanded them of the children and destroyed them. Mr. Barnes, being told of his action, looked up Mr. Coon and the following is given by Daniel Reed, the only eye-witness:
Mr. Barnes went up to Mr. Coon and demanded to know why he took the tickets away from his children and received the reply, "Because I wanted to." Mr. Barnes then said, "You must either pay the value of these tickets or take a whipping." Mr. Coon replied, "I am not going to pay for the tickets and there is no better time than right now to settle the matter." Mr. Barnes then struck at Mr. Coon and they went together and made matters kinder warm until Reed separated them and persuaded Mr. Barnes to get in his buggy and go away.—Winston, N. C., dispatch.

Our voting contest closes May 1.

New Advertisements.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Dr. M. J. Ragland, veterinarian. Dr. Ragland was formerly in the government service and has now located here permanently for the practice of veterinary medicine and has fine record of successes to his credit.

22 Farmers Unions in the County.

S. B. Byrnes, county organizer for the Farmer's Union was in the city yesterday. He says that he has just closed his first month's work and that he had instituted 22 in the county. He thinks that he will be able to institute several others and that Rowan will be a strong union county soon. He will remain in the county for several weeks yet.

Up Before the Bar.

M. H. Brown, an attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., writes: "We have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them." For Chills, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Headache they work wonders, 25c. All druggists.

Salisbury Loses Another Good Citizen.

Yesterday morning Edwin Shaver died at his home on West Indies street. He had been in bad health for some months, and was very ill for nearly a week preceding his death. The deceased was a native of this city and had spent his 68 years of life here. He was a member of the company of the late Hon. Kerr Craige, in the Confederate armies during the civil war and did service as a soldier until taken prisoner. Mr. Shaver was noted for his charitable disposition and his many acts of benevolence. He possessed abundant means, but seemed to regard himself more as a steward than owner, for he gave generously to every worthy cause. Many persons in Salisbury and others who are now dead, had cause more than once to bless him for his warm-heartedness. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church and the funeral will be held there this afternoon, the pastor, Rev. Byron Clark, officiating.
