

Impeachment Stands.

Montgomery, Ala., June 18.—The Supreme Court this afternoon denied the application of Frank Cazalas, impeached sheriff of Mobile county, for a new trial, thus making his impeachment final.

Cazalas was removed from the office by the Supreme Court on the charge of gross neglect in allowing Richard Robertson, a negro, to be taken from the Mobile county jail and lynched. In the original proceedings before the Supreme Court it was shown that notwithstanding rumors were current that an attempt would be made to lynch Robertson on the night of the occurrence, the sheriff took no steps to protect the negro.

The costs of the impeachment proceedings amounting to several thousand dollars, were assessed against the deposed sheriff. It is reported that Cazalas will be a candidate for re-election in 1910 to vindicate himself.

Women Who Are Envyed.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation, or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at all druggists.

North Carolina Textile School.

The Textile School of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has a complete equipment of machinery for instruction in Cotton Manufacturing. Young men who enter this school are taught to operate the different machines and to make all the calculations necessary to produce yarns and fabrics.

A completely equipped dye-house has been added to the school, and a thoroughly practical course in dyeing is now given.

Another interesting fact is that knitting machinery has been added to the equipment. The knitting industry is becoming very important in North Carolina and the addition of this machinery to the textile school is very timely and makes this school one of the best equipped in America.

Last year and again this year the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers awarded the Students' Medal to his school, which is the only Southern school to receive it. This association is composed of the leading mill men in America.

The school is under the direction of Thomas Nelson, who has had considerable mill experience in England and America.

New Jersey Sheriff's Plan Might Prove Worth an Extended Trial.

Burlington, N. J., June 18.—The "Bean Soup" remedy recently introduced by Sheriff William W. Worrell, as one of his famous reform plans, is not only saving Burlington county several hundred dollars monthly, but is making more real converts for temperance than any number of "gold cures."

Hoboes were the scourge of small cities and towns about the county when Worrell went into office. Past conditions at the jail had made it a handy Winter retreat for the "idle sons of the road." When Worrell made the tramps prisoners bathe, wash their cells and do all the work about the jail there was a bolt of free tramps to other counties.

The sheriff a few weeks ago began to apply the same plan to the "drunks" who are so frequently sent up that the prison officials regarded them as "steadies." When the tramps deserted, the jail work was given to the habitual drunkards, but in addition the sheriff prescribed a daily menu of "bean soup" for all prisoners. One experience under the "bean soup" menu, the police officials say, is keeping more men sober than the authority of the "flag commission," to which the recent legislature gave permission to publicly blacklist drunkards.

Howls of some of the prisoners over the unchanging diet of "bean soup" are reaching the outer world. One of these howls came to Police Captain Shumard, of Burlington. It was written from jail by a local "rounder" and in part read:

"Dear Cap:—I am writing to see if you can get some of my time taken off. I don't like the bean soup they serve over here now. They don't even use white beans any more. They make it out of yellow beans, but it's bean soup just the same, and nothing but bean soup every day. D— the beans I'm a sober man now and I can keep sober for months, for if you get me out I won't come back to beans very soon. Cap, if you ever done anything for me in your life, do it now."

Twenty tramps who say they see things in a different light since sentenced to the bath tub by Sheriff Worrell, are working as industrious farm hands in the county. Aversion of "drunks" to the bean soup gives promise of reforming several times the number of "habituals."

Got Enough of Winston.

The Winston Journal, of Sunday, contains the following concerning J. R. Doby, who moved up to Winston last week:

Mr. Doby has decided that he doesn't like Winston-Salem. He loaded his household belongings upon an immense dray, drawn by four horses, in Salisbury and had them brought to this city yesterday. The wagon broke down on Liberty street last night and the car line was blocked for a little matter of three hours or so.

Folks worked with the dray and they worked, but it was a long time before the wheel that was borrowed from the Shore Transfer Company could be put on. The wagon was taken to the Piedmont warehouse for the night. It, together with the household belongings, will be carried back to Salisbury. Mr. Doby got disgusted and decided he wanted no Winston-Salem in his. It cost him $30 to come and it will cost him $30 to go back."

Peculiar, if True.

A recent dispatch from Natchez, Miss., states that a man who was killed in a street duel on Monday, died on the following Friday.

Confesses to Murder of Engineer Holt.

Columbus, O., June 17.—Solomon Shepherd, alias William Thomas, a negro, yesterday confessed by accident to the Columbus police that he is wanted at Durham, N. C., for murder. He is held awaiting word from Durham. Shepherd was pawing a watch when the police arrested him. He began to deny that he had "killed the man." After some questioning as to what he meant, Shepherd said he was implicated in the killing of Engineer Holt, on the Southern between Greensboro and Durham last October. He said the engineer caught him riding the blind baggage and threw him off, whereupon he fired at the engineer.

The Durham Herald publishes the following in connection with the above dispatch:

"On the strength of the Columbus arrest the Barbee case, one of the important ones for which the special term of court was granted this county, may not be tried.

The State will ask for a continuance that there may be given time to investigate the Ohio story. In the natural order of things, the layman is guessing this is funny, but it is reasonable. The State is after the real murderer and Solicitor Fuller said last night that he thinks the investigation, purely in the interest of truth, should be carried to the end.

What is in the new story he doesn't pretend to say nor would it be less than a breach of the faith to speculate upon anything said. It is known however, that Shepherd was sometime ago in Petersburg, Va., and that he let drop the same remark. There appeared nobody to take it up and he passed on. The Southern Railway has been on his trail and it is noticed that the black man doesn't say that he killed the engineer but that he was with the man who did. The white man is the criminal that the Durham authorities are hunting now.

The defense in the Reuben Barbee case will insist upon trial this week. Barbee himself has grown weary of confinement and is anxious for a release which he hopes for with the same intensity as when he exclaimed upon arrest "false alarm!" He has been in jail practically the entire year and is tired. Before Judge Biggs, who is to hear the case, the matter will be brought up probably to-morrow or next day.

The course of the defence in demanding trial when another man assumes blame for the wickedness of one under capital charge, is unnatural because it just doesn't happen often. While it is the province of a paper to tell what folks are doing it isn't a good thing to spring this right now.

The mysterious hobbing up of Shepard in Columbus is the most interesting thing that has taken place here since the first accusation of murder was brought against any man."

Country Boys Succeed in Country.

Fewer boys are going to the city from the country than in former years, according to the president of a large corporation in New England. He said also that the country boy is better worth his wages than the city boy, and that the business of the cities will suffer unless the commercial high schools train the city boy in business methods and create in him a desire to succeed. The country boy is succeeding in the city, as he used to succeed in the city, largely for the reason that he has been taught that the way to get ahead is to give his whole attention to his work, and not allow himself to be distracted by other things.—Youth's Companion.

RATTLESNAKE ON THE FOURTH

It was Judge Harper's suggestion that Rattlesnake Creek celebrate the Fourth of July. The judge ran the biggest store in town and at the same time acted as justice of the peace when anybody wanted law in hanks and chunks, and one day in June he called for a public mass meeting. When the inhabitants had assembled on the public square he said:

"Feller Citizens—The Fourth ain't more'n three weeks away, and I have called ye together to talk about celebratin' it in a befitting manner. Rattlesnake Creek ain't never paid any attention to the day so far as I kin learn, but she's goin' to do it this time or bust. In fact, she's got to do it or let the town of Red Dog crow over her. Feller citizens, we fit and bled and died at Bunker Hill, we starved and cussed and shivered at Valley Forge, we went in and gave the British blazes at Yorktown and won our liberty, and the American eagle is foppin' his wings and askin' for a chance to scream. Shall we give it to him and put our heels on the tyrant's neck, or shall we loaf around and let the proud bird of freedom fly off with the crows and the tyrant yoke us up like so many oxen?"

It was promptly and unanimously decided to turn the American eagle loose and knock the tyrant out in the first round. Cheers were given and money contributed to accomplish the same, and the Fourth was celebrated in Rattlesnake Creek as follows:

When the momentous day arrived a salute was fired at sunrise, and there was general hilarity during the morning, with frequent cheers for Washington, Benedict Arnold, James J. Jeffries and others.

At high noon there was another salute, and, as one of the citizens remarked, most of the bullets were high-balls.

At 1 o'clock the procession formed and marched to the grove. There were general good feeling and whoops for liberty and the American eagle.

At 2 o'clock the judge delivered his address on "The Cradle of Liberty." He also incidentally mentioned that his store was the only place in Montana where fresh eggs could be had.

The balance of the afternoon was strictly devoted to the cause of liberty. Some of the patriots got Napoleon and John L. Sullivan mixed, but it was no time to be particular.

The fireworks were advertised to begin at dark, and just at sundown, as fuel was being carried to the square for a bonfire, the judge noticed a tenderfoot on the street and beckoned to him and asked:

"Stranger, are ye willin' to oblige?"
"As to how?"
"As to lettin' us pull ye up to a Mmb in the cause of liberty?"

"Blamed if I don't agree! I've been wantin' to git out of this blamed kentry fur a year, and this is the first chance offered me. Go ahead with your hangin', and hooray for liberty, freedom, Bunker Hill and any other old thing!"

And at 8 o'clock were a flight of rockets, a whiz of roman candles, and a pulling on the rope, and it was the judge who stood on the steps of his store two hours later and uncovered his head and said:

"Freedom, I greet thee! May the banner of liberty never cease to wave over a great nation! And now some of ye show me the cuss who dares git up and say that the town of Rattlesnake Creek ain't saved our glorious Union this day and got 'nuff money left over fur everybody to buy one of my famous sugar cured hams tomorrow!"—A. B. Lewis.

July 4 in American Wars.

The Fourth of July has been a big day in the wars of this republic. In 1801 July 4 was the first day of the extra session of congress, with eight states unrepresented.

On July 4, 1863, Vicksburg surrendered to General Grant.

On the same day news was sent over the country that the Federal forces had won at Gettysburg.

On July 4, 1864, Grant was gradually driving Lee back, though at a terrific cost of human life.

On July 4, 1898, we got the news that Cervera's entire Spanish fleet had been destroyed off Santiago by the United States fleet, that 900 Spaniards had been killed and drowned and 1,400 taken prisoners on the day before.

More Hopeful.

"It's a pretty serious and always difficult matter to raise a boy."
"That's right. But we are beginning to feel a good deal more hopeful about our youngster. We've got him safely past his ninth Fourth of July."
