Twelve Things to do This Month.

1. Get the land ready for plauting staple crops. Don't stop with plowing, but harrow and re-harrow until a perfectly pulverized seed bed is made. The best paying work is done before planting.
2. Get good seeds for planting all crops. Don't depend on just what you can pick up and don't wait till planting to buy or select.
3. Select, prepare and plant special "seed patches" for your seed corn and cotton another year.
4. Get the harrows and weeders out and begin using them. The new H's—"Horse and Harrows" will do twice the work of the old H's—"Hired Hoe Hands."
5. Keep the fire out of the fields. As Dr. Knapp says, "Use more sense and less fire." The greatest need of our Southern soils is humus, the most expensive fertilizer is nitrogen; rotting trash and grass supply both.
6. Keep the garden going. Don't forget that almost everything from radishes to beans and from lettuce to corn should be planted this month.
7. Spray and prune and cultivate your orchard. Don't turn it over to the fungus diseases and insect pests, even if it is a little late to start fighting them.
8. Arrange a series of lots for hog pasturing. With Southern pasturing crops we can make pork more cheaply than Western farmers can, but we can't compete using corn alone.
9. Get busy in the poultry yard. Don't have chicks hatched with no provision made to take care of them and don't put it off until late weather.
10. Give the work stock special care. Don't allow them to get poor or have them suffering from sore backs and shoulders.
11. Screen doors and windows, clean up the back yard and about the barn, get rid of stagnant water about the house. Flies carry typhoid; mosquitoes cause malaria. Keep them out.
12. Fix up the house and yard. Don't allow your home to be looking in that beauty which is its inherent right.—Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

Steel Horse Collars Give Satisfaction.

Messrs Editors: In reading Dr. Butler's advice in regard to preparation for the rush of spring work, and his remarks in regard to horse collars and their fitting, reminded me that perhaps some readers of The Progressive Farmer and Gazette would like to know something in regard to the merits of the steel horse collars. As I bought one of them three years ago and have had it in constant use ever since, I consider that it has passed the experimental stage with me. I have found it to be a great improvement over the leather collar. Being adjustable to three or four sizes it can be used on horses with different sized necks, if you wish to do so, and can be made to fit any one horse far better than a leather collar, as it may be made wider or narrower at top or bottom, as desired.

The surface that comes in contact with the horse's shoulders is perfectly smooth, and as it cannot wrinkle, as a leather collar would, there is no danger of a galled shoulder from that cause.

Just be sure that the steel collar fits perfectly and you are all right. Do not expect it to do what is impossible in any collar—that is, to work all right if it does not fit. Put yourself in the horse's place, and wear a collar a size too small one day. When once you get the steel collar adjusted to fit the horse, it takes only an instant to put it on or take it off. It is easily kept clean by wiping off the inner surface with a rag moistened in kerosene, or by brushing off with a horse-brush as soon as it is removed from the horse. It is cooler in summer than a leather collar, and as warm in winter. After being used for three years mine shows very little sign of wear, and you need not be afraid you will pull it out of shape.

To all who are looking for a collar that is practically indestructible, and that will save hours of time during a twelve months which would be otherwise spent in tying lame strings, I would say, try one of these.

Why does Great Britain buy its oatmeal of us?

Certainly it seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to speak of exporting oatmeal to Scotland and yet, every year the Quaker Oats Company sends hundreds of thousands of cases of Quaker Oats to Great Britain and Europe.

The reason is simple; while the English and Scotch have for centuries eaten oatmeal in quantities and with a regularity that has made them the most rugged physically, and active mentally of all people, the American has been eating oatmeal and trying all the time to improve the methods of manufacture so that he might get that desirable foreign trade.

How well he has succeeded would be seen at a glance at the export reports on Quaker Oats. This brand is without a rival; it is packed in regular packages, and in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

Jack and Stallion.—I have a fine dark bay Percheron horse and black Spanish Jack, either of which can be found, at any time during the season, at my house, except on Saturdays the horse will be in Salisbury. Call on or write to Moses Eagle, rural No. 3, box 84 Salisbury, N. C. 3-30 ft

Dr. Cook in Dire Straits.

Dr. William H. Axtell, who was a personal friend of Frederick A. Cook, to-day received a letter from Mrs. Cook, dated Valparaiso, Chile, in which she says the explorer is broken in health, without funds and unable to continue his fight to establish his claim that he discovered the pole. Dr. Axtell said today:

"Mrs. Cook tells me in her letter that Cook made considerable money out of his trip when he first arrived in New York, but that he spent it in defending himself against bitter attacks from his enemies before the Copenhagen decision was made public.

"Cook left New York later to escape contumely, says Mrs. Cook, and to go before the board of inquiry at Copenhagen as his own representative. Then Mrs. Cook followed him, met him in England, found him a nervous wreck and very ill.

"She writes that it was her fault that Cook did not appear publicly at the time he was unfavorably reported on. She says she took him to Holland, France, Italy, and then to Spain, where they embarked for Buenos Ayres.

"From Buenos Ayres they went around Cape Horn to Chile. Cook is still very ill and will be in no condition to take up his fight for the honors, which he still says should have been his."

Dr. Axtell added that according to the letter the explorer and his family will arrive quietly in New York and settle down for a quiet life.

"Mrs. Cook says," he continued, "that her husband has no funds with which to go to the Arctic regions after the proofs required by the University of Copenhagen and that if he had the necessary cash he knows of no one he could trust to do the work for him."—Bellingham, Wash., 23rd.
