

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS

A Salisbury base ball team crossed bats with a team from Statesville at the fair grounds Tuesday and were well beaten for their trouble, the score being 12 to 2. Rain broke up the game in the seventh inning.

The Salisbury District Conference, with a long list of pastors and delegates present, will meet here to-morrow morning in the First Methodist church, Rev. S. B. Turrentine, pastor. The meeting will have an introductory service to-night by a class of orphans from the new Methodist orphanage near Winston.

The fair grounds and buildings are being arranged for a pleasure park. A dancing hall and a theatre are being arranged, the building and grounds are to be lighted by electricity and the opening will take place Monday, August 1st. Cars will run on regular schedule, only one fare will be charged either from Chestnut Hill or Spencer.

Mrs. Sallie Lowder, aged 78 years, died at Morganton Tuesday and her remains were brought to Salisbury that night. They were taken out to Bethel church, at Franklin this morning, where the funeral and interment took place. Mrs. Lowder was the mother of Mrs. J. E. Briggs and Mrs. Harvey Winecoff, of this county; Mrs. L. M. Rousche, of Salisbury, and John and Joseph Lowder, of Franklin Township.

Barn and Stock Destroyed by Lightning.

Tuesday night lightning struck the barn belonging to H. A. Holshouser, near Bethany, Gold Hill Township, a Southern freight depot employee residing in Salisbury, set fire to it and destroyed the building and contents. The contents which were destroyed were roughness, feed stuff, farming tools, two cows, two horses, a calf and a hog, part of which belonged to Mr. Holshouser and part to his renter, James Mesimore. The barn was of considerable size and the loss is quite heavy. A small amount of insurance was carried.

Small Child Struck by Freight Train at China Grove.

The 18 months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hinson, of China Grove, was dangerously injured yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock by being struck by a moving freight train. The parents of the child live only a short distance from the railroad track and yesterday morning the little fellow crawled up the embankment opposite the home and was sitting on the track watching No. 11 pass by, when a freight train came along on the new double track and struck the child, knocking him off the track. He is very dangerously injured and it is almost a miracle that he was not instantly killed. The little boy was standing on the extreme edge of the track when struck by the engine and this is given as the reason he escaped being killed. The child was given prompt medical attention and the physicians state he will recover.—Charlotte Observer.

MEETING OF CITY ALDERMEN.

An Ordinance to Prevent the Unnecessary Blowing of Whistles. Firemen Helped.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen met in the city hall last Thursday night and transacted the following business:

The Salisbury-Spencer Railway was given permission to place a temporary switch at the court house, connecting the main line and the line to the fair grounds. This permission was given for 90 days until the new special switch connection arrives. The company was required to give a bond of $500 for the proper carrying out of the grant.

The following ordinance passed its second and final reading: Any person operating any locomotive engine who shall blow the whistle thereof within the corporate limits, or within the municipal jurisdiction of the city of Salisbury, except such signals as may be necessary to prevent accidents, and furnished by the rules of the railroad company shall upon conviction be fined $500. Any person operating any stationary engine within the city's jurisdiction who shall blow the whistle thereof more than 20 seconds shall on conviction be fined $500.

City Clerk Stable Lion immediately notified R. L. Avery, superintendent of the Salisbury-Spencer terminal, of the action of the board, and has received a reply with assurances of cordial cooperation. The engineers have been notified accordingly.

An ordinance also passed its final reading that no trains shall stop on any street crossing in the city longer than 10 minutes at any one time, and the railroad notified.

Condemnation proceedings were started to condemn certain properties to extend South Lee street to the public drive way from Main street to the national cemetery. This is a splendid idea. The city firemen were given $150 to help defray their expenses to the State meeting and tournament at Newbern this week.

Alderman W. A. Daniel was appointed trustee of the State Firemen's fund.

Mayor A. L. Smoot and Chairman Ed. L. Heilig of the street committee were delegated to confer with the board of county commissioners in regard to macadamizing West Innes street.

Bruner, of Raleigh. Mr. Boyden married Miss Davis, daughter of Mrs. Hayne Davis of this city, and has been making his home in Summerville for a number of years. His remains will be brought to Salisbury and interment will be made in Chestnut Hill cemetery Friday.

Another Threat to Take Away Personal Liberty.

A Florida Negro, crazed with cocaine, killed three members of his family the other day, wounded two other negroes who got in his way, shot a policeman and then committed suicide. Cocaine is no doubt responsible for a great many of the crimes committed by negroes. Its use, at first pleasing, gradually turns the negro into a demon without any restraint to his fury or passions. It is undoubtedly one of the greatest menaces to the negro race, and the Negro who uses it is a menace to the community. Most of the states and cities, realizing its danger, have passed strict laws regarding its sale, but it still gets into the hands of those who use it and gains recruits every day. It is a menace that needs the most careful watching and the most rigid enforcement of law, to prevent its spread, to say nothing of stamping it out.—Raleigh Times.

Stedman Wins out in the Fifth District.

Greensboro, 27.—Major Charles M. Stedman, a veteran of North Carolina Democracy and a favorite son of Guilford county finally squeezed from the fifth district the nomination for Congress, the 488th ballot taken at 11 o'clock this morning giving him the necessary majority over the other two candidates, Gen. B. F. Royster and Judge E. B. Jones. And at that moment the curtain was drawn on one of the most intensely interesting and thoroughly dramatic political unrollings the State witnessed in recent years.

Overshadowing any similar convention ever held in the fifth district both in time consumed, general interest displayed and tenacity of the candidates, having lasted for six days and nights, it is doubtful if there has ever been a more memorable congressional convention held in North Carolina. For whatever the fifth district does on the political stage of the State, it catches at once the eyes of the people.—Charlotte Observer.

Wan's Second Primary.

Wilmington, July 27.—The first move since the stormy convention at Wrightsville Beach one week ago was made to-day when Congressman Godwin addressed a letter to O. L. Clark, who was nominated for Congress at Wrightsville, favoring leaving the matter to a primary, and the reply of Mr. Clark to the letter. Mayor Wright of Wrightsville Beach also comes out in a statement taking full responsibility for the appearance of police at Lumbus, where the convention was held. Both candidates, and their leaders from nearly every county in the district are in Wilmington.

The letter of Mr. Godwin appeared in the afternoon paper, and although he does not say just what course he will pursue in case the executive committee should decide against him the letter is regarded as intimating that in case a primary is not called that he will proceed to make the race for Congress, regardless of the executive committee.—Charlotte Observer.

Cotton Takes Big Jump.

New York, July 27.—At the opening of the cotton market to-day Frank P. Hayne, one of the New Orleans bull leaders, bid 15.80 for 50,000 bales of July and then 15.85 for 25,000 bales. This started a rush of covering by belated shorts and inside of the first half hour July cotton had sold at 16.10, or 78 points above the closing figures of last night. The shorts found very little cotton for sale and are estimated to have secured less than 1,000 bales on the advance.

The rest of the market was also very excited, and business was very active with August and new crop positions selling at 25 to 27 points above last night's prices on general buying, covering by recent selling as a result of continued dry, hot weather in Texas, bullish crop reports and talk of a better trade demand.

Trading in July will be over at noon next Friday and it is estimated that by the end of the month the bull leaders will have taken up at least 200,000 bales of cotton on July contracts in addition to the large amount of cotton they received during May.

At night there will be exercises given by the Literary Club. There will be dinner on the grounds and the public in general is invited to come and bring baskets and spend the day with us. A large crowd and a delightful day is expected and hoped for.

Death of Mrs. Margaret Algood.

Mrs. Margaret Louise Algood, aged 74, a splendid woman of China Grove, died at her home from the effects of catarrh of the stomach, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The funeral services were held Sunday from Lutheran Chapel E. L. Church, Rev. C. A. Brown, her pastor, officiating. Mrs. Algood's husband was killed during the war, her only son died a few years ago and she leaves to mourn her death, two daughters, a number of grand children and a host of relatives and friends.

Soldier's Graves Opened.

Three graves, believed to be those of Confederate soldiers, were opened Tuesday by the big steam shovel a short distance out on the Southern Railway, where the cut is being widened to make room for switches. The coffins were practically decayed and the bones were so brittle that they crumbled at the slightest touch. The brass buttons made it certain that the men were soldiers, but the bits of uniform were so badly faded that it was impossible to determine exactly the original shade. The workmen, however, believe the uniforms were gray. There were no exterior signs of a graveyard, and nobody has been found who has the least idea as to the identity of the dead soldiers.—Winston-Journal.

Firemen's Big Day at New Bern.

New Bern, July 27.—This, the third day of New Bern's centennial week, offered a program of multifold interest in which the firemen had the right of way, though they shared honors with the German-Americans and the social climax of the day's festivities, the grand colonial ball, which took place to-night at the court house. With their annual parade, the largest and most elaborate pageant in the history of the State association, the firemen furnished the divers on for the festivities in the morning.—Charlotte Observer.

FREEDOM.

Here in the forest now. As on that old July When first our fathers took the vow. The bluebird, stained with earth and sky, Shouts from a bleeding bough In green aerial freedom, wild and high. And now, when the bluebird Out on the uncertain brink Of the swaying maple swings, Learing his song out link by golden link, While over the wood his proclamation rings, A daring boast that would unkingdom kings! Even so the wild birds sang on bough and wall That day the bell of independence hall Thunders upon the world the word of man. The word God uttered when the world began: That day when liberty began to be, And mighty hopes were out on land and sea. But Freedom calls her conscripts now, as then: It is an endless battle to be free. As the old dangers lessen from the skies New dangers rise. Down the long centuries eternally. Again, again, will rise Thermopylae; Again, again, a new Leonidas Must hold for God the impertiled pass. As the long ages run New Lexington will rise on Lexington And many a valorous Warren fall Upon the impertiled wall. Man is the conscript of an endless quest. A long divine adventure without rest. A holy war, a battle yet unwon When he shall climb beyond the burnt out sun. Each hard earned freedom withers to a bond: Freedom forever is beyond—beyond!— Edwin Markham in Independent.
