

THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

WM. M. STUART, Ed. and Prop.
Published every Tuesday at 120 West Innes street.

Entered as second-class matter Jan. 19th, 1905, at the post office at Salisbury, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

Telephone No. 458.

SALISBURY, N. C., Aug. 31st, 1910

Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, announces that he is still in the race and that he "will go to victory or defeat." A very wise statement. No doubt he will be able to verify it later on.

A. L. Lingle, (Esq.) went down to Raleigh again Saturday to make the third or fourth attempt to break into the practice of law. In other words he has again stood an examination before the Supreme Court with that end in view. If persistence counts for anything we feel sure, sooner or later, Ab. will succeed in obtaining the desired parchment.

Editor Julian, of the Post, had to return to his home yesterday owing to illness. It is a wonder editors don't drop dead about twice per year. As a rule they expend more energy, both mental and physical, than several men employed in other occupations. The strain on an editor is something terrific and can only be properly appreciated by those who have experienced the strenuousness necessary to such a calling.

The contrariness of humanity is so manifest that most any kind of an aim can be started and obtain adherents. It matters not what its doctrines may be or to what its logical conclusions may lead, a little agitation is all that is necessary to cause it to flourish. A little police publicity, a row, a little newspaper notoriety and a little better-than-thou advertising fills their little cups to overflowing with joy and a kind of so-called martyr's success. This may mean that something is wrong or that there are some better things in store for humanity, but it does not prove that any of the old isms are wrong or any of the new ones to be right.

To read the intended post mortem statement of the man Allison, of Asheville, who killed Floyd McGee, it seems, if he told the truth, he had much to justify his course. He says: "And most every day after that when he (McGee) would pass me he would laugh at me and make remarks about it." Now just what any self-respecting man would do, when another persists in such a course, happened; just as Allison says: "Right then he was driving nails in his coffin, etc." If Allison, though he be a very bad man and ought to be hung on general principles, can substantiate this statement, he certainly should be given some consideration. No man has the right to outrage himself upon another, so saying nothing of attempts to ridicule, bulldoze and tyrannize him. A man who does such things should take the consequences, and a man who defends himself against such an offender should be justified in so doing.

FOR POPULAR RULE.

"Well, there is the New York issue," the Colonel said. "It is perfectly plain that I stand primarily for political cleanliness and decency and for popular rule. Some times I do not agree with all the people. I try my best to represent them as far as I can. I will do any thing for them except that which is wrong and that I will not do for any man."

"It is our duty to war against corruption in every form. Distrust the man who appeals to you on the ground that he is against the corruption of one particular class, but cannot see corruption in some one else. I know financiers and the papers that represent great financiers, who are bitter against corruption in small politicians, or in labor leaders, but who cannot see it in great business men or concerns."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Yos Teddy, it depends entirely upon whose ox is gored. That trait seems more common with politicians than any other class. They are constantly seeing the faults of their opponents, other candidates and men in the distance, out of Harm's way, but the fault's of their own candidates, their own schemes, themselves and the filth around their own doors, are either ignored or palliated. The most contemptible ass on the stump or tripod is the cowardly mugwump, the fellow who is constantly squealing mukkraker when he himself is a whited sepulcher full of rottenness and dead men's bones.

"An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure." Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea has been the "preventative" for thirty years. Nothing so good to keep you well and make you well. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Cornelison & Cook.

Harry Jones, Colored, Killed by Street Car.

Monday night, at 8:28 o'clock, as car No. 8 of the Salisbury-Spencer Street Railway was going north and just before making the curve south of the car barn, near the switch between Salisbury and Spencer, it hit and instantly killed Harry Jones, colored, of Wadesboro. The car was in charge of Fred Cable, mortorman, and Murray Smith, conductor and was running about at the usual speed. Jones was seen walking down the road, back to the car, but changed his course and when the car was within a very short distance of him stepped upon the track, too late for the motorman to stop although he did everything possible to do so. Jones had been drinking and was then probably quite drunk, but not so much so that he did not realize his situation at the last moment for he threw up his arm as in an effort to ward off the blow. His hand hit and broke the glass in the front of the car. His nose was split open, several cuts were made on his head and his neck was broken, causing death immediately. Jones seems to have been a quite, inoffensive kind of a man and a hard worker, but would drink whiskey, which was the cause of his death. He was going to his home in Spencer at the time of the accident. His remains were taken in charge by the Summersett Undertaking Co., where they remained all day yesterday and were viewed by the curious. His wife called about 9:30 and identified him.

W. H. and F. Missionary Society Elects Officers.

The 25th annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod, which has been in session in St. John's Lutheran church during the past week, adjourned Monday night after a most successful and profitable meeting in every particular. The attendance was unusually large, the subjects well handled and great interest and enthusiasm was manifested throughout the entire session. Saturday evening the election of officers for the next term was gone into and the following is the result: Mrs. J. A. Linn, Rockwell, president. Mrs. J. Q. Wertz, Salisbury, 1st vice president. Mrs. R. L. Patterson, Charlotte 2nd vice president. Miss Constance Cline, Concord, 3rd vice president. Miss Mattie Miller, Salisbury, recording secretary. Miss Mary E. Brown, Barber, corresponding secretary. Mrs. A. W. Winecoff, Salisbury, treasurer. Mrs. P. N. Heilig, Salisbury, honorary treasurer. Mrs. R. C. Holland, Charlotte, secretary of the children's society. The following delegates were elected Monday evening to the missionary convention in Richmond, which meets next Tuesday, during the meeting of the United Synod in that city: Mrs. G. D. Bernheim, Mrs. R. C. Holland, Mrs. J. D. Shenk, Mrs. J. A. Linn, Miss Marie Yeager. Alternates: Mrs. E. A. Shenk, Mrs. J. Q. Wertz, Mrs. J. A. Thom, Mrs. J. W. Efrid, Miss Agnes Phifer. Mrs. J. Q. Wertz was elected a delegate also to the South Carolina Woman's convention which meets in November.

W. HENRY HOBSON POSTMASTER.

James H. Ramsay, the Best Postmaster Salisbury Ever Had. Succeeded by Assistant.

As soon as the required bond is approved and his commissioner arrives W. Henry Hobson, a popular young man of this city and the present assistant postmaster, will become postmaster, and Jas. H. Ramsay, the present official and the best postmaster Salisbury has ever had, will turn over the office and its responsibilities to his successor. Mr. Hobson has been assistant postmaster for several years, by appointment of Mr. Ramsay, and is most likely fully competent to take charge and conduct the office satisfactorily to the patrons thereof. Mr. Hobson is a native of Davis county, a relative of Congressman R. Pearson Hobson and A. H. Price, Esq., of Salisbury.

Mr. Ramsay has served as postmaster for about 20 years in all and has conducted the office in a uniform accommodating, courteous and pleasing manner to all, and it is with much regret his many friends, among all classes and parties, will learn of his retirement.

The following interesting information was furnished the local correspondent of The Charlotte Observer by Mr. Ramsay:

The first postmaster ever appointed for the Salisbury office was George Lauman, who was appointed March 20, 1798 but it is thought that he ever qualified, as the records show William Winder was appointed twelve days later, April 1, 1798. The postmasters after that and the dates of their appointments were: Samuel Dayton, August 10, 1798; Andrew Balfour, March 31, 1799, he having served longer than any other man who ever held the position, a period of twenty-six years; Samuel Reeves, January 7, 1822; H. W. Connor, February 18, 1838; Benjamin Julian, February 8, 1841; J. Weirman, May 18, 1858; M. A. Smith, January 14, 1858; Lewis Beard, April 18, 1861. However, his war came on and Beard never filled the office, the Confederate government took charge of the office and M. A. Smith, father of Leroy Smith, one of the present mail carriers; holding on and having the distinction of serving as postmaster under two governments. Anthony Bencini was appointed July 19, 1865; H. H. Helper, March 8, 1871; D. L. Bringle, October 7, 1871; James H. Ramsay, August 16, 1882; A. H. Boyden, June 15, 1885; James H. Ramsay, July 18, 1889; A. H. Boyden, June 12, 1899; James H. Ramsay, October 18, 1897, the latter having held the office continuously ever since.

All told, Mr. Ramsay has held the office for nearly twenty years. When he first became postmaster in 1882 the office was located in a little frame shack on the corner where the Ford hotel now stands, and in addition to the postmaster there was only one clerk employed, in the office, he being Richard Graham.

When Andrew Balfour was postmaster his mother attended to the duties of the office for her son.

In 1790 there were only 75 post-offices in the United States and of this number four were in North Carolina. They were Edenton, Washington, Newbern and Wilmington. The Salisbury postoffice was established three years later and the first office was located in a small wood-house which stood where Capt. R. W. Price now lives, on East Innes street. The Salisbury office became presidential on March 20, 1807, and second class on July 1, 1809. The free delivery service was established September 1, 1902.

Soaring Higher and Higher.

Harva, Aug. 29.—Leon Moran, the French aviator, today broke the world's record of altitude at the aviation meet now in progress in this city. His monoplane attained a height of 6,889 feet.

August Delivery Reaches Twenty Cents on New York Market.

New York, August 29.—August cotton sold at 20 cents a pound in the New York cotton market today on urgent demand from speculative shippers who had postponed covering until the last moment in the hope that the increasing new drop movement in the Southwest might break the control of the bull leaders. This price, the highest reached by cotton for any delivery since the civil war, and exceeded by nearly 21 cents per pound the highest figure reached in the famous full year of 1903-04 which it had stood as a standard of comparison, was regarded by many as the culminating point of the bull movement in progress here for the last six months, during a session which when it ends next Thursday, will go down as the most spectacular in the annals of the cotton trade since war times.

COTTON SOARING HIGH.

Not a great many bales—perhaps 15,000—actually changed hands on the advance from 16 82, the closing price of last week to 20 cents for August this morning. At 20 cents an offer from W. F. Brown, one of the bull leaders, to sell 100,000 bales, checked the upward movement, and it was the general impression around the ring that this was a level fixed in the open market as a basis for settlement of the entire August interest remaining.

COTTON MARKET.

New York, Aug. 30.—Galveston, tone quiet; middling 145-8; net receipts 3,881; gross receipts 17,880; sales 1,851; stock 89,710; coastwise 2,657.

Life on Panama Canal has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble—that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cures stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and prevent typhoid. 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

City Property for Sale.

Under and by virtue of an order of the superior court of Rowan county, made in the special proceeding entitled John J. Stewart, administrator of M. M. Woodward against Catherine J. Woodward, Lena W. Ulmer and husband Frank Ulmer, the same being No. 9 upon the special proceeding docket of said court, the undersigned commissioner will, on Saturday, the 24th day of September, 1910, at about 12 o'clock noon, at the court house door in Salisbury, North Carolina, offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash the late home of M. M. Woodward lying and being in the city of Salisbury, Rowan county, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:—Beginning at a stake on the N. C. Railroad, 200 ft. from the edge of Bank St., and running with said railroad 44 1/2 ft. to a stake; thence southeast parallel with Bank St. 189 ft. to R. J. Holmes' line; thence with said Holmes' line northeast 44 1/2 ft. to a stake; Lee Heit's corner; thence northwest parallel with Bank St., 189 ft. to the beginning. For further particulars, back title, etc. see deed registered in book of deeds No. 117, page 453, etc., Register's office for Rowan county.

This is a 4-room cottage on Southern Railway between Bank and Horah streets. It is a chance for some one to get a good home at a reasonable price. Further information may be secured by calling or addressing the undersigned.

JOHN J. STEWART, commissioner August 20th, 1910

Brittain & Campbell, SHOE TALK!

WINTER will soon be here and the question of buying shoes will be up, and also the question where can we buy the best shoes? This question will be asked only by those who haven't tried Hamilton Brown shoes, for those who have tried them know, and you couldn't get them to buy any other, for they are satisfied that they are getting the best—and the best is always the cheapest.

Good, solid leather, costs but a trifle more than a saoe that has composition insoles and counters (shoes that are made to sell and not to wear).

We sell only solid leather shoes, and we make good on every pair where there are any defects in material or workmanship. We handle the celebrated and that name on a pair of shoes is a sufficient guarantee of an all leather shoe. This Hardware and Rock of Gibraltar shoe, with a six months' written guarantee, are the greatest shoes ever made for long wear and hard service. The Rock of Gibraltar shoe has the Bessimere sole with the green colored bottom—one sole of this leather is supposed to wear as long as three ordinary soles—ask to see it.

Hardware Shoes

for women that are waterproof, and we believe that if well taken care of they will wear 12 to 18 months.

We also have a good line of Pine Knot shoes for women and children—shoes that will wear all winter. Big line of household shoes for men, women and children. These shoes are as solid as leather can make them, and if you want to save money on your shoe bills this winter shoe your family with Household shoes. We also carry a line of the American Lady, American Gentlemen and Security school shoes. A watch guarantee for 12 months for 50 cents with a pair of Security school shoes.
