The Beattie Appeal.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—Lawyer for Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., under death sentence for the murder of his young wife have filed with the supreme court of appeals, a petition for a writ of error. This constitutes an appeal from the judgment of the court at Chesterfield, which sentenced Beattie to be electrocuted November 24. Unless the court gives a decision before the day set for Beattie's execution, this move will act as a stay.

The points of the appeal are "in the breast of the court." All that can be learned is there are eleven points. Judge Keith will consider and pass it on, with whatever recommendations he makes, to the members of the bench, Buchanan, Caldwell, Harrison and Whittle. Usually the other judges with the one who takes the first impression of an appeal.

Should the court decide to issue the writ it will fix the date for hearing the appeal. Meanwhile the execution of the death sentence is suspended. Beattie remains imprisoned in Richmond city jail, instead of being carried to the condemned cell of the penitentiary.

That Winston will have a regular salaried inspector of milk and meat was decided virtually Friday night by the board of aldermen, when they appointed a committee, headed by Mayor Dalton, to recommend the best ways and means to secure this much needed safeguard of the health of the community.

new life in the case which looks like a hopeless one.

The farmers of our community are about through seeding. A large crop of wheat is being sown and the farmers in our county are beginning to take better interest in farming.

Every body seems to be in a prosperous condition. Hands are scarce and hard to get. Every body seems to have plenty of work and more than they can do. We are glad to see times this way as it makes people happy and scatters happiness throughout our country. CLOD HOPPER.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICHER, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

AMBITION TALKS

BY HARLAN READ

Be the Right Kind of a "Tight Wad."

Almost to a unit the people who spend money on themselves with lavish hand, including others only when they are present and can't be dodged, call a person stingy who refuses to do this, saving his money for more noble purposes.

The "good fellow" who rubs his stomach against the bar until there is a worn streak just above the belt line and orders drinks for whoever happens to be near, expecting a return of the courtesy, calls the thrifty man who has no part in the performance a "tight wad."

The town sport who lets loose of a three-dollar bill every time he feels like a buggy for pool or cigars.

There seems to be a general inclination on the part of men and women who spend money extravagantly on themselves to class as stingy those who save their money and spend it on somebody else or to provide against misfortune to their loved ones.

We will come to a higher and nobler understanding of the great question of generosity when we fasten in our minds, with rivets spread at both ends, the following definitions:

A stingy man is one who spends his money on himself or not at all.
A generous man is one who spends his money on others.
The matter of economy has nothing to do with either.
There is a high and mighty air about the prodigal that is calculated to make a thoughtful man ashamed of his prudence. And it often does, for many a man with a backbone like a piece of spaghetti is unable to stand the fire of the caustic criticism to which he is subjected by male bipeds of the sport class for watching his money carefully. But the man who is independent enough to keep from spending a dollar unless he or some one dear to him is going to get a dollar's worth of benefit out of it is the man who will some time be called on every 80 days to give the other his pay check and decide whether he shall ever get another like it.

The people of this community can congratulate themselves upon having such a splendid miller, in the person of W. A. Shaping, proprietor of the Shaping Roller Mills. Mr. Shaping is doing a splendid milling business besides the vast amount of meal grain cleaned by his splendid cleaning process. The writer will venture to say that he is one of the cleanest millers in the state of North Carolina.

What has become of the railroad which was so much talked of a few months ago. Since the Hon. A. L. Lingle would make some more speeches for the railroad, he could put
