PROCEEDINGS OF SUPERIOR COURT.

Barber Junction Cases Get Off Light, No Chain Gang Sentences.

The Rowan Superior Court disposed of quite a number of matters of various kinds last week and adjourned yesterday. Among the cases disposed of were the following:

The jury in the whiskey case found the leading defendants guilty. Thursday afternoon, after summarizing and expressing himself unqualifiedly against the violation of the State prohibition law for perhaps an hour and a half Judge Allen pronounced sentences in the cases. Among other things Judge Allen stated that Salisbury had a reputation elsewhere of being a strong liquor town. He had more evidence that it was being handled than he had seen in two years. Three witnesses he had observed who had testified during the court showed that they were drinking. He stated that the public says we judges, the courts and the officers are not doing their duty. "and we are not he added, "unless we see that the law is enforced." The light sentences follow: Pethel from Landis and Daucan from Granite Quarry three months in jail. Barber Junction Club a fine of $500 Judgment continued one year in the matter of the four defendants to prove their good behavior before the courts.

The case of Jim Howell, in which he was found guilty of larceny in the Rowan County Court some time ago and sentenced to four months on the roads but appealed to the Superior Court, was tried and cleared.

John R. Hanna, murder of John H. Hanna, plead guilty of manslaughter; sentenced to two years to be hired out.

Earl Cafe, W. H. Lyerly, forgery, plead guilty; judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Chas. Southern, breaking into dwelling, plead guilty; judgment suspended.

Jac. R. Hanna, carrying concealed weapon, plead guilty; judgment continued upon payment of costs.

Tom Miller, larceny, plead guilty of forcible trespass; judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Dave Hanna, larceny, not guilty.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

To the Hon. O. H. Allen, Salisbury, N. C.

We, the grand jury of May term, 1912, Superior Court of Rowan county, North Carolina, beg to report as follows:

We have disposed of all business brought us by the solicitor or received from other sources. We visited the county jail and find same to be in good sanitary condition and prisoners report good treatment and plenty of substantial food. In said jail we found the female department over-crowded and would recommend that not less than two cells be built in basement and same be padded to be used for the insane prisoners.

We have visited, by committees, both chain gangs and find same doing good work for the county, and their apartments to be commodious and sanitary, and prisoners report good treatment and plenty of food.

We have visited the county home, in a body, which is in charge of Mrs. Patterson, and find the rooms neat, clean and in good order. The inmates report good treatment and plenty to

STATE ODD FELLOWS.

Charles Dewey of Goldsboro Elected Grand Master.

Raleigh, May 8.—The North Carolina grand lodge of Odd Fellows voted this afternoon to hold its 1912 session in Greensboro and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: Charles Dewey, Goldsboro, grand master; M. L. Shipman Raleigh, deputy grand master; B. H. Woodell Raleigh grand secretary; J. R. Jones, Wilmington grand treasurer, and Frank Evans Greenville, grand warden. The only contest was over the grand warden, but opposition was withdrawn and Evans' election made unanimous when the plea was made that Evans was the first graduate of the Odd Fellows orphan home that had come in line for a grand lodge officer. In addition to Greensboro there were invitations from Asheville, Raleigh, Elizabeth City and Hendersonville for the next annual session.

There were four entries for the competitive presentation of the quitted work of Odd Fellowship for which the prize is the Gilmore Ward Bryant loving cup. The name of the winner will be announced Thursday morning. The four contestants were J. A. Boyce of Tyler; C. C. Morris, Washington; S. W. Eason, Raleigh, and W. H. Zimmerman, Asheville.

The class of orphans gave a concert for the grand lodge this morning. Tonight there was a joint social session of the grand lodge and the Rebekah assembly. Final sessions of both will be held Thursday.

May 17th, 18th and 20th "Rally Days for Aycock Monument."

To the People of North Carolina: It has been determined to have a quick, vigorous campaign in behalf of the monument to Charles B. Aycock.

All the energy and interest of the people will be concentrated in a great three-day rally to the cause, Friday and Saturday, May 17th and 18th, with a final effort on Monday, May 20th.

The dates are auspicious. May 17th and 18th for all the work that can be done, with the concluding effort on May 20th. May 20th is a legal holiday, a patriotic day in North Carolina history; and how better can our people show their patriotism than by honoring the memory of this great North Carolinian?

Let the canvass be organized, promptly, thoroughly, systematically, in every town and county. There should not be one or two canvassers, but a dozen or more in every place; and let the gifts be liberal. No county should attempt to raise less than $1,000, and the larger counties much more. We should get $50,000, not only enough for a monument, but for a permanent educational memorial.

North Carolina has heretofore complained that her great men are not recognized abroad; but if great Virginians, for example, are known the Nation over, it is because first of all Virginia has cherished their memory. The Nation appreciates Aycock; let North Carolina show that she does. We shall honor ourselves in so doing.

Let every North Carolinian, regardless of party or creed, help the State honor itself by honoring its great "Educational Governor." And let each county seek to outdo others in liberality May 17th, 18th, and 20th.

Very respectfully,
Geo. C. ROYALL, president,
Aycock Memorial Association,
Goldsboro, N. C.

Government to Mint Three-Cent and Half-Cent Pieces.

Washington, May 10.—The design of the nickel is to be changed, whether or not the Balkley bill authorizing the coin of one-half cent and three-cent pieces passes. The twenty-five year period during which the design of United States coins must remain the same, according to act of congress, has expired as far as the nickel is concerned. The new design will show a buffalo on one side and possibly an Indian head on the other.

The designs for the new coins have not yet been fully decided upon. There is a plan to have a hole in the center of the three-cent piece. The half-cent piece will probably have an escalloped head. Both will be of the same composition as the nickel. The three-cent piece will be larger than the nickel and the half-cent piece smaller than the dime. The composition of the penny is to be changed to that of the nickel, 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel.

ST. JOHN'S GETS NEXT SYNOD.

No New College at this Time. Mt. Pleasant Holds the Seminary.

With the acceptance of the hearty invitation to meet next year with St. John's Cabarrus congregation, and the reception and disposition of several important but routine reports, the North Carolina Lutheran Synod completed its business sessions yesterday, and many of the visiting clergymen left for their homes.

This evening the formal close of the 109th session will occur after the ordination of M. L. Kester to the ministry. Rev. V. Y. Bozzer of Lexington will preach the ordination sermon, and the other clergy taking part in the service will be Reverends M. M. Kinard, G. H. Cox and T. C. Parker.

The Synod enjoyed yesterday afternoon the privilege of hearing a brief but most interesting address from Rev. G. H. Gerberding, professor of practical theology in the Chicago Lutheran Seminary and one of the most widely read authors in the Lutheran Church. After expressing his pleasure at being present at this session, Dr. Gerberding congratulated the Synod upon the active interest it is displaying in the cause of Christian education which he considers fundamental to all Christian progress. In Dr. Gerberding's view the Protestant churches today face four dangers, namely, the prevalence of agnostic, materialistic utilitarian, the wave of crime which has followed in its wake, the spread of an utterly godless socialism and the encroachments of Romanism. No weak-kneed Protestantism will suffice to cope with these dangers. There must be a return to the faith which saved Europe in the sixteenth century and if Lutheranism is to take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded the cause of education must be looked to with most diligent care.

On motion of Dr. R. C. Holland the Synod adopted resolutions tendering thanks to President C. B. King of Elizabeth College for the delightful musical and social entertainments enjoyed on Friday evening, expressing the gratification of Synod at the splendid work now being done by the college, and heartily commending the institution to all Lutheran parents having daughters to send to college. As the last action of Synod before adjournment in the afternoon, Rev. R. A. Goodman of Mount Pleasant offered resolutions thanking the congregation, choir and pastor of St. Mark's for the abundant and cordial hospitality with which Synod has been entertained, the newspapers for the clear and accurate accounts of proceedings which have been published; the Greater Charlotte Club for the pleasure derived from the trolley ride and all others to whom Synod is indebted for kindness. These resolutions were adopted by a rising vote.

In pursuance of a resolution adopted Friday President Kinard announced the appointment of a commission to confer with the South Carolina Synod upon the joint establishment of a college for women. This commission will consist of Rev. R. L. Patterson, J. L. Morgan and O. W. Adersholt and laymen G. M. Thompson, J. S. Eard and O. M. Van Pooles.

A number of amendments to the constitution of Synod were presented by a committee appointed at the 1911 session. These with two exceptions were chiefly in the interest of greater clearness in the document. One of the important amendments abolished the office of statistical secretary handing his duties over to the regular secretary; the other provided that ministers who have ceased active ministerial work shall be carried upon the rolls of Synod only in cases where the action has been occasioned providentially, and further that any minister who engages upon secular occupation to the neglect of pastoral work shall be dropped from the Synod's roll.

Synod decided to accept an invitation from St. John's Cabarrus congregation to hold its 1912 session in that church. It is of interest to note that this country congregation has furnished more ministers than any other in the North Carolina Synod, that it was one of the three oldest Lutheran churches in this region having been founded in 1778 and that in all human probability three of its sons will come before Synod next year for ordination. These facts make the acceptance of the invitation at this time peculiarly appropriate.

Synod throughout the day gave close attention to the reading of a considerable number of reports from standing committees. The approach of services in home churches which could not be passed over caused somewhat of a depletion in the ranks of the body but this did not cause Synod to relax its acute attention to the business going forward. Whatever reports included more than a single feature the body acted upon them item by item, thus necessitating intelligent understanding by the entire body before any matter was acted upon.

Among the items of interest resolved upon might be mentioned the determination to hold in July a Sunday school normal jointly with the Tennessee Synod at Leaning College, Hickory, and the appointment of Rev. Charles B. King as archivist of Synod.

Speaking of the contest over the location of the school the Concord Times says:

Mount Pleasant Seminary will be rebuilt at Mount Pleasant. This action was decided upon at the afternoon session of the Lutheran Synod in Charlotte Friday by practically a unanimous vote.

For several months this has been the one absorbing question not only among Lutherans of this section but the people generally. No sooner had the smoke died away from the burning building, which went up in flames November 30th of last year, than there arose a movement to locate the school elsewhere. A special meeting of the Synod was called to decide upon rebuilding the institution.

Five towns took the matter up and made bids for the school. A committee was appointed for the purpose of selecting a location and a spirited contest was started.

All of the five towns, Salisbury, Landis, Lexington, China Grove and Mount Pleasant, made attractive offers of suitable sites and a sum of money. Citizens of the towns have made vigorous campaigns to raise funds and great interest was aroused. Soon after the fight was started it was known by those familiar with the situation that the contest was between Salisbury and Mount Pleasant.

The committee visited the various places and decided by a vote of 5 to 4 to locate the school in Salisbury. This caused all of the other towns to drop out with the exception of Mount Pleasant. The citizens there refused to be discouraged by the adverse report and kept their courageous efforts to the last, knowing that the committee's report would have to be passed upon by the Synod and that the matter would be finally disposed of by that body.

Mr. Heilig read a detailed financial statement showing receipts for the past year. This paper showed that the treasurer had received about $11,000, some $4,000 of which was devoted to the cause of home and foreign missions.

At this point upon motion of Rev. R. L. Patterson, Rev. Edward Fullenwider of Newberry, S. C., was received as fraternal delegate from the South Carolina Synod and the following ministers as advisory members of Synod: Revs. W. H. Greever, of Columbia, S. C., C. K. Bell, of King's Mountain, R. H. Cline, of Stanley Creek, N. S. Bodie, of Saluda, S. C. W. A. Lutz, of Statesville and A. J. Stirewalt of the

HINTS TO MOTHERS.

"Cleanliness is Next to Godliness" in Feeding Babies.

Your baby came from a world of perfect cleanliness. He has been used to perfectly pure and wholesome food. He has a right to expect it after his arrival in this world. If the mother can furnish it herself, the baby is fortunate, for he will then be served in the most approved and sanitary way.

If however, he must be a "bottle fed baby," remember that his life may depend upon absolute cleanliness.

Use only the cleanest, purest and freshest of milk. See that it is clean and cool when you get it. Put it on ice immediately. During hot weather ice is absolutely essential for the preservation of milk. A little money spent for ice may save a large doctor's bill later. Never allow a dirty, or used, your baby, his food, or his bottle.

As soon as the bottle of milk is finished wash it thoroughly with cold water, using a bottle brush. Then clean with hot water and borax (a teaspoonful of borax to a pint of water), and turn it upside down in a clean, sunny place away from flies.

Never let the baby nurse again from the milk remaining in a bottle after he has finished it once. Stale milk curds in the bottle will become poisonous in a few hours, and may contaminate fresh milk coming in contact with them.

Always boil the bottle thoroughly in water to which a little soda has been added, before putting fresh food into it. The easiest way is to have as many bottles as the number of daily nursings, so that all may be sterilized together.

The simpler the nipple the better. Never use a nipple to which a long tube is attached. It can not be kept clean and will certainly cause bowel trouble. As soon as the bottle is finished, remove the nipple, turn it inside out over the finger, and clean with a brush, used only for this purpose. After use, always boil the brush.

Keep the clean nipples in a covered glass filled with fresh borax water. Always rinse the nipples, as well as the bottles, in boiling water before using again.

Do not put the nipple in your mouth to determine the warmth of the milk. Let a few drops fall from the bottle on your wrist, if the milk is too hot for your wrist, it is too hot for the baby.

Always observe the utmost care for cleanliness in all details. Because other babies have survived filth and filth is no reason that yours will. Bear in mind that eternal vigilance is the price of cleanliness, and baby's health is the reward for both.

President Kinard announced chairmen of standing committees as follows: On president's report, Rev. J. L. Morgan, of Raleigh; on the state of the Church, Rev. E. A. Shenk, of Winston-Salem; on church institutions, Rev. W. A. Snyder, of Wilmington; on the report of the executive committee, Rev. R. C. Holland, of Salem, Va.; on minutes of last meeting, Rev. C. L. Morgan, of Burlington; on letters and petitions, Rev. Dr. A. G. Voigt, of Columbia, S. C.; on finance, C. M. Thompson, of Lexington; on appropriations, Rev. V. Y. Bozzer, of Lexington; on appointments, Rev. G. H. Cox, of Spencer; on pastoral distributions, Rev. L. B. Spracher, of Salisbury; examining committee, Rev. G. H. Cox, of Spencer.

TRIAL OF FLOYD ALLEN.

Two Sons Take the Stand in Defense of "Pap"

Wytheville, Va., May 10.—Two sons of Floyd Allen today took the stand in defense of their "pap" as they called him, on trial for shooting up Carroll county court, Victor and Claude Allen, both jointly indicted with their father for the attack on Judge Massie's tribunal were sworn by the defense. One of them, Claude, admitted having shot during the fracas in the court room.

"When father got up," testified Claude, "I saw Clerk Goad standing with his gun pointed at pap. I believed he was a-goin to shoot pap and I reached for my gun. Before I got it out pap fell and I started shooting at Goad."

Claude declared that he saw Sidna Allen, his uncle, who is still at large in the mountains, firing just about the time he saw Goad fire. Wesley Edwards who is with Sidney Allen, was firing from a bench through a window of the court room just after the shooting began, according to Victor Allen's testimony.

Victor was anxious to prove that he had no revolver when he was in the court room and he asserted that the shooting with his gun had been done by Claude Allen, who had taken the weapon as the two were leaving their hotel in Hillsville the morning of the tragedy. Claude verified his story.

In the cross-examination of witnesses called during the morning session the prosecution endeavored to show a motive for the shooting up of Judge Massie's court. That Judge Massie had reprimanded Floyd Allen and his brother for intimidating witnesses and had announced his intention of enforcing the law even if he found it necessary to call out the militia, was elicited.

Several indictments against members of the Allen clan pending at the time of the shooting were also mentioned in the course of the testimony.

Bill-Of-Lading Measure Gets Favorable Report.

Washington, May 10.—The senate interstate commerce committee today reported favorably the Clapp bill-of-lading measure establishing a rule of evidence as to greater liability of railroads. Senator Townsend gave notice he would file a minority report and Senator Cameron announced he would press his substitute bill, which is a code of laws on bills of lading.

Under the measure reported every railroad or other common carrier in the United States engaged in interstate or foreign commerce would be liable on bills of lading issued by the authorized agents, notwithstanding the agents had not received the goods.

At present the railroads are not liable under such circumstances and bankers and consignees complain that they are defrauded out of money advanced on the strength of the bills of lading.

Cotton men are especially interested in this legislation.

are mosquitos. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucoma, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50 cts. at all druggists.
