

THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

WM. H. STEWART, Ed. and Prop

Published every Wednesday at 120 West Innes Street.

Entered as second-class matter Jan. 15th, 1906, at the post office at Salisbury, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

SALISBURY, N. C. October 9, 1912.

A gentleman has shown us a statement by the board of aldermen of Spencer which looks somewhat like the application of some one for admission into the Aunias club.

THE WATCHMAN received a copy of Baptist Bits by Rev. C. A. G. Thomas, the popular pastor of the First Baptist Church of Salisbury. Rev. Thomas is a man of strong convictions, courageous and righteous, he is a safe leader and a wise counsellor and what he says is always worthwhile. He calls attention to numerous outrageous conditions existing here and he is everlastingly right in the assertion that, "If things do not change the discovery will be found and the city will be cleaned quickly." Amen.

A man's character should be his most valuable asset. Some men recognize this and some don't. Some have more wisdom than character and some have more character than wisdom. The latter kind are much the better citizen. A man's words and acts, no matter how well veiled show forth his character, but wisdom is an aid to character building. A man who allows himself to appear on both sides of a question at one and the same time has very little wisdom or character. No honest man, who knows the character of a candidate for office can consistently denounce that candidate's character, his failure to observe the oath of office and his moral unfitness for public position, and vote for such a candidate, or persuade others to do so. He is handling a boomerang which is sure to be true to its nature and rap its manipulator on the head. A man without character can't hope to present a very pleasing picture in the lime light, wisdom would teach him a better way, but such advice is worthless to the foolish. Some men mistake their spleen and hatred of others to be a call to arms in a just cause and only learn of their error after the public has learned of their lack of character and consistency.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

R E GIBSON DIES IN HOSPITAL.

Citizen of Concord and a Descendant of Rowan Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Concord, Oct. 4.—The people of Concord will learn with sincere sorrow the death of R. E. Gibson, one of the city's best-known citizens, which occurred suddenly this morning at St. Luke's Hospital in Richmond, where he went some time ago for treatment under Dr. McGuire a famous physician and a personal friend of Mr. Gibson's.

The death of Mr. Gibson marks the passing of a man who was closely identified with the business and social life of Concord for close to half a century. Mr. Gibson was a native of Concord, being a son of the late Dr. E. R. and Elizabeth Gibson of this city. When 17 years of age he volunteered in the Civil War, serving through the four years of the conflict in Ramsey's Battery.

He is survived by one brother, Dr. Phifer Gibson of Salisbury, and a large number of relatives in this city and throughout the State.

Mr. Gibson was a man of the highest integrity and honor and was in the truest sense a high tone courteous gentleman.

Mr. Gibson was a descendant of the Brandon and Gibson families of Rowan.

Meeting of Reformed Classis Committee.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Classis of the Reformed Church met yesterday afternoon in this city. Rev. W. B. Dutera is chairman of this committee and also president of Classis. The work before the committee was to dissolve pastoral relations existing between Rev. C. O. Wagoner and the Lincoln charge in Catawba County, and to confirm a call to him from the Bethel Mission at High Point, also to receive R. W. B. Werner from St. Joseph's Classis, Ohio Synod, and confirm a call to him from Trinity Reformed Church at Concord.

Food Should Be Cheaper.

"If the enormous crops that are reported as being harvested all over the country materialize, and I have no doubt they will for I have had ocular evidence that these reports are true, the price of food must necessarily fall," said R. D. Wainwright, a farmer of Oresco, Iowa.

"The biggest corn crop in the history of this country will be raised out in my section, and other crops are likewise abundant. With a big corn crop, there will be next year a large production of hogs, and beef cattle also will increase. I firmly believe that the price of beef, mutton and pork will fall materially inside of six months, and that by this time next year the prices for these necessities will be a third lower than they are today.

"But while beef and other meats are going down, the consumers will have to pay a higher price for turkeys and chickens than they have paid in several years. The Thanksgiving turkey is going to cost a heap more than it did last year, everywhere it is reported that turkeys will be scarce this year. In most places the young turkeys have been deplored so much that not more than one or two have been saved out of an entire brood. Some strangely fatal malady has attacked them, it seems, and nobody appears to know what it is or how to cure it.

"It is a hard task to raise young turkeys with the best of conditions, but when unlooked for diseases attacks them the work of raising them for market is almost impossible of accomplishment. Chickens are better off than turkeys, but the demand for them will be great, and has been great because many persons have gone to eating chicken instead of beef." —Washington Post.

RINGLING CIRCUS.

Great Spectacle of "Joan of Arc" Added to their Show.

Ringling Brothers' Circus and newly added $500,000 spectacle of "Joan of Arc," will exhibit in Charlotte, Friday, October 25. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should bring thousands of visitors from the surrounding country. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property-makers, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each morning in the main tent. Thus the circus proprietors have made it possible for those who live in contributory towns as well as in the large cities to see this magnificent wordless play with its cast of 1,000 characters, a ballet of 800 dancing girls, a grand opera chorus of 400 voices, 800 horses and a train load of special scenery, costumes, properties and mechanical devices for producing such stage effects as thunder, lightning, storms, fires and the sound of battle.

In the old market place of Rouen, France, there now stands a monument by which the French of today have sought to redeem their part in the execution of Joan of Arc, who on May 30, 1431, was burned to death on the false charge of heresy after having delivered her country from the English and having restored the crown to Charles VII. History records that the meager facts of this strange heroine of eighteen years, who led the armies of France victorious through English invasions and then, deserted by all, even the indolent monarch whom she preserved, died by the cruelest torture known with the name of the master upon her lips. Unsung in poetry the name of this simple peasant girl has come down through the ages to be revered as that of a saint, and whose wonderful powers and whose bravery are verily believed to have been of divine inspiration.

On the triumphant incidents the victorious engagements, the final defeat of the English armies, and the coronation of Charles VII, all achieved by the frail Maid of Orleans, has been founded the inspiring spectacle which gives Ringling Brothers' circus a new significance and makes an attraction such as the world in searching for amusement has never before found.

The regular circus program is more than ever attractive. Its company of 875 foreign artists, its double menagerie and its new street parade will prove a great surprise to those who attend from this city. The event is one that should not be missed.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use, at once, by you. Try it, today.

Mrs. G. H. WILLIAMS of Lynchburg, Va., writes: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work. My husband had to take care of me all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of Favorite Prescription and two of Golden Medical Discovery, and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine on earth."
