

Backing Up the Purchaser

If we didn't have an eye to the future, and if we didn't care what you or anybody else was going to think of us, we could sell engines and other machines for much less money, but we could not put IHC quality into them. The kinks would start coming in right away, and soon there would be no market for IHC engines.

IHC engines stand for everything that is opposed to such a policy. The IHC way is to build always for the respect and good will of the American farmer, and to that end it has been successfully working for many years. The dealer who sells you an IHC engine expects on its merits to do business with you again. The purchaser of an buys security and safety with it. He banks on the many years of square dealing and the reputation back of all IHC machines. He knows it is the best engine bargain because it gives him efficient service in all kinds of farm work—pumping, sawing wood, spraying, running repair shop, grindstone, cream separator, etc. He knows that IHC responsibility for it lasts as long as the engine is in service on his farm.

IHC oil and gas engines operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, distillate, and alcohol. Sizes range from 1 to 50-horse power. They are built vertical, horizontal, portable, stationary, skidded, air-cooled and water-cooled. IHC oil tractors range in size from 6-12 to 30-60-horse power, for plowing, threshing, etc.

Look over an IHC engine at the local dealer's. Learn from him what it will do for you, or write for catalogues to

BARNUM & BAILEY AT HIGH POINT.

Great Spectacle of "Cleopatra" Begins Regular Performance.

The Barnum and Bailey Great Show on Earth and newly added spectacle of "Cleopatra" will exhibit in High Point on October 11th. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should fill the big tent at each performance and draw thousands of visitors from the surrounding districts. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property builders, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each day in the main tent. The circus proprietors have thus made it possible for those who live in contributory towns, even farmers and their families, to see the magnificent wordless play that is an immense attraction in the largest cities. It is enacted with a cast of 1,250 actors, a grand opera chorus, an orchestra of 100 soloists, a ballet of 850 dancing girls, 650 horses, five herds of elephants, caravans of camels, and a train-load of special devices, costumes, scenery and electrical mechanism for producing such effects as lightning, thunder, sand storms on the desert, volcanoes in action, sunrise, floods, and mirages.

The realism of the scenery is perfect. It is as though the audience was looking into the streets of Alexandria in the day of Ptolemy. The streets throb with their strange cosmopolitan life. In the middle distance flows the Nile, the mighty pyramids and the sphinx looking down from the past ages. Beyond them stretch endless wastes of sand. The laureate of a dead race speak from forgotten tombs. The walls of time fall down, and we see the court of Cleopatra during its years of extravagance and revelry, and hear the story of the betrayal of Rome and the undoing of Marco Antony, told in a vividly realistic way. The incidental music was arranged by Faltis Effendi, late bandmaster of the Khedive of Egypt. The ballet is under the direction of Ostokar Barik, balletmaster of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company.

The regular circus program is the finest the Barnum & Bailey management has ever offered. Thrilling acts are presented by Katie Sandwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman before the public; Mae Wirth, the greatest of all riders; a company of Japanese wrestlers, athletes, swordsmen and jiu jitsu experts, Winston's riding seals, and Victoria Codona, queen of high wire performers. There are 400 performers. In the menagerie will be found the only baby giraffe on exhibition in the world. There will be a parade at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The Greek authorities at Koritza, in Albania Monday seized the American mission school there where instruction is given to nearly 100 Albanian girls. The Greeks have also arrested and persecuted a large number of Albanians who recently returned to Koritza from America and other foreign countries, releasing them from detention only when the Albanians promised to join in the agitation for the incorporation of the district in Greece. The British Consul at Monastir has entered a vigorous protest with the Greek government on behalf of the Americans. Last week Greek officials at Koritza endeavored to take forcible possession of the American mission school building, but the housekeeper in charge refused to hand over the keys. The Greek soldiers beat her mercilessly and carried her off to prison. The mission is in charge of Phinney B. Kennedy, a native of New Jersey and a Princeton graduate.

A brief funeral service which was attended only by members of the Gaynor family, and few close friends was held Saturday at the Gaynor home in Brooklyn before the body was removed to the city hall where it laid in state. The Rev. Frank Page, of Fairfax, Va., former rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Brooklyn conducted the services. Historic Greenwood Cemetery, the resting place Brooklyn of many famous dead, received the body of New York's late mayor, William J. Gaynor Monday after funeral services in his honor that were without parallel in the history of the city. In the presence of the family, the honorary pall bearers, and city officials, among them Mayor Kluge, the flag-draped coffin was committed to the grave in the Gaynor family plot. The brief Episcopal service was read by Rev. Frank W. Page, former pastor of St. John's the church where the mayor worshipped. A million people, it is estimated, saw the funeral cortege move slowly first from the city hall, where thousands witnessed the body lying in state Sunday, to Trinity Church, where Bishop Greer conducted the solemn services.

Teach the English Language.

These are the days of the rejuvenation of our public schools all over the country. It has dawned upon the powers who impart knowledge to the young that there is something more needed in the preparation for life's battles than the flood of ologies and isms. For instance, as in the case of our own schools, domestic science and manual training are being rapidly added to the curriculum of the educational institutions. But, better still, our leading educators are awaking to the fact that there is a large field for better and more complete instruction in the art of reading, writing and speaking the English language.

We say it without fear of contradiction, that fully 60 per cent of supposedly educated people are notoriously bad spellers, poor grammarians and indifferent speakers. Any newspaper office in the country will relate on request the difficulties experienced in securing young men who can write and spell correctly. Many of the "experiments" made in newspaper offices with material that aspires to journalistic lustre lead distracted editors to the conclusion that English composition is a lost art.

The public school has surely failed in its mission when it fails to give a firm and satisfactory basis of an ordinary elementary education, reading, writing and spelling. Of what avail is the highest proficiency in foreign languages, alive or dead, when he who excels therein cannot speak his own tongue correctly?—Asheville Citizen.
