

SALISBURY AND ROWAN COUNTY LOCALS

The State Funeral Directors and Embalmers' Association held their annual convention in Winston-Salem last week and had a very interesting meeting. T. W. Summersett, of Salisbury, was elected a delegate to the convention. The association will meet in Henderson next year.

There were 105 old veterans to take dinner at the annual reunion here last Wednesday. They all say they enjoyed themselves very much.

The Salisbury District Conference of the Methodist Church will be held in the South Main Street Church, Rev. G. W. Stamper, pastor, on July 14th, 15th and 16th. This church has just had a large addition built to it for a Sunday school room.

There were 44 men initiated into the Spencer Council of the Junior Order United American Mechanics one night last week. This is going some.

Rev. H. G. Dorsett, a brother of Jas. D. Dorsett, of Spencer, who has been practicing law here during the past year, has accepted the pastorate of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, also the Mt. Zion Church in the country near Mebane. Mr. Dorsett is a splendid young man and has many friends who wish him much success as a minister.

The new street sweeper is giving great satisfaction and many more of our streets are swept owing to the enlarged capacity of the machine over the hand method. A few more innovations of this kind and the present board of aldermen will immortalize itself.

Charles P. Shuping, having disposed of his interests in the firm of Taylor & Co., has purchased from J. G. Heilig, the stock of goods recently owned by W. M. Harris. Mr. Shuping has taken charge of the new business and will continue in the Heilig building across the street from the Watchman office.

The remains of Jacob R. Trolinger, who committed suicide in Lynchburg, Va., last Thursday, passed through Salisbury, en route to his old home in Catawba County for interment. Mr. Trolinger has some relatives in Salisbury.

A young man by the name of Russell addressed Mrs. McGee, a member of a vaudeville troupe playing here last week, as "chick-on." The young woman slapped his face for him and later her husband gave him an extra dose. Next morning, Friday, they were in court for an affray and Russell was taxed with $25 and costs. Glory be.

Rev. J. C. Rowe, pastor of the Central Church at Asheville, who is well remembered and much loved here, stopped in Salisbury a short while Saturday. He was returning from Charlotte where he had been to conduct a funeral.

The resolutions on mormonism offered by C. A. G. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist Church and R. J. Bryon Clark of the First Presbyterian Church, during Chautauque week, were forwarded to the President, our Senators and Representative. Acknowledgment of their receipt was prompt, Mr. Thomas having heard from the President, through the secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, this week.

Max L. Barker, who is now living in Macon, Ga., is confined to his bed with an attack of typhoid fever.

The Board of Aldermen will meet Monday night and elect the various city officials, clerk, treasurer, policeman, etc.

V. Wallace & Sons have arranged to erect another large building on East Fisher Street to accommodate their growing wholesale business. The building is to be three stories high and the material will be white pressed brick.

J. Will Proctor went down to Charlotte this morning with seven other members of his band where they will take part in the celebration there today. Mr. Proctor has a splendid band and will make Charlotte set up and take notice.

Globe Trotter Here.

As will be noticed by a cut on the front page of this issue, Bill Brown, claiming to be from Rome, Ala., blew into the city Monday afternoon. He has attempted to give a list of the communities which he has visited, but makes some very long jumps as he goes along, skipping several states at a time. He says though, he has postmarks and signatures in his book that will keep his record straight whether he does or not. He is putting up at Mahaley's stable.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

"My sister's husband had an attack of rheumatism in his arm," writes a well known resident of New York. "I gave him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment which he applied to his arm and on the next morning the rheumatism was gone." For chronic muscular rheumatism you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment.

DEATHS

Val R. Nicholas, son of Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Nicholas of this city, died Sunday morning at Buchanan, Va., where he had been ill for some days. The remains were brought to Salisbury Sunday night and conveyed to the residence, corner Ellis and Horah streets, from which place the funeral was held Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. M. M. Kinard, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church and the interment was in Chestnut Hill cemetery. The deceased was 21 years old and was the second child of Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Nicholas. Mr. Nicholas was traveling with an amusement company and was taken ill at Buchanan, Va., and his brother Henry who was traveling with him, had been at his bedside some days. His parents were summoned last week had been with him since Friday. He was conscious and sat up in bed short time before he died. His trouble was a throat affection which suddenly became acute.

The many friends of Mrs. Lucy A. Horah, widow of the late Joseph Horah, who died in 1903, will regret to learn of her death which took place at the Whitehead-Stokes Sanatorium Saturday morning. Mrs. Horah after having assisted in serving dinner to the old soldiers at the graded school last Wednesday, was taken quite ill and was removed to the sanatorium for an operation after which she died. Mrs. Horah was nearly 66 years old, a devout Christian and loyal member of the First Presbyterian Church, from which the funeral took place Monday morning. Rev. Bryan Clark, the pastor, officiating. Mrs. Horah was a native of Virginia, and leaves two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Haynes, of Pennsylvania, and Miss Elizabeth James of Salisbury, and one brother, E. K. James of Salisbury. The interment was in Chestnut Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah J. Barnhardt, a native of Rowan, died at her home in High Point Monday night at the age of 23. Her remains were brought here and then taken to Trading Ford. The funeral was held from Trading Ford Baptist Church yesterday, being conducted by Rev. J. Lee Kirk and the interment was in the cemetery there. Mrs. Barnhardt was a daughter of W. C. Feazer.

Floyd Alexander Goes Free.

Floyd Alexander, who was tried last week as an accomplice of Sid Finger in the murder of Preston Lyerly at Barber in February, was dismissed in the Rowan Superior Court last week. The indications, as has been previously mentioned, led all to believe that Finger alone was the murderer, this Finger confessed to. After giving Alexander his liberty, Judge Harding ordered the doors of the court house locked and instructed the sheriff to permit no one to leave. This was done as a precautionary measure although there had been no threats of lynching and no one seemed to want such a thing to take place. Finger was taken to Raleigh last Wednesday and will be electrocuted on June 19th.

Note From Miss Sifford

To the readers of the Watchman and Record who helped me in the contest, I want to thank each one of you. I appreciate it more than I can tell you. I also want to thank our editor, Mr. Stewart, and his assistants for their kindness during the contest and also for the beautiful watch, I feel that I am fully repaid for my work. MARY SIFFORD.

Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

CONGRESS FACES A PROHIBITION VOTE

Although Having Strong Opponents Were Nominated in Saturday's Primary.

The County Democratic primaries were held throughout the county Saturday and seems to have been quite emphatic as to certain candidates. A large vote is said to have been polled and while sufficient returns have not been received to give any accurate figures it is known that Messrs. J. S. Krieger and J. Frank Miller, the candidates for sheriff, has more than enough votes to give him the nomination over his opponents, J. S. Hall and J. Frank Miller. The vote for J. Frank Miller, clerk of the court, was a surprise to all. He also will be named on the first ballot, receiving more than the combined vote of his opponents, A. L. Smoot and Robert Van Poole. The opponents of J. C. Kesler, county treasurer, Wm. M. Erwin and Geo. H. Shaver, did not develop enough strength to defeat him. C. M. C. Barger, though opposed by strong men, Harry Uzze and Ed Canble landed the Salisbury Township collectorship easily. The vote for registrar of deeds was badly split up, there being six candidates for this office. J. C. Deaton leads with almost enough to nomination on first ballot, with J. W. Riddout a good second. Those who had no opponents of course will be ratified promptly by the convention. The vote on commissioners is badly divided and it will be necessary for the convention to make the nominations. H. C. Trott will probably be named as the candidate from Salisbury Township, although W. L. Klutitz received a splendid vote.

The Electoral Votes of the Precincts.

The following is a list of the precinct votes in the county convention which will be held here Saturday and complete the nomination of the various candidates. The electoral vote is based on the vote for governor cast at the last election at the ratio of 1 to 25 or major fraction over 25, that is if the vote was 33, it would only entitle the precinct to one vote in the convention; but if the vote was 40 it would be entitled to 2 votes in the convention. Fractions, or one-half votes do not count.

Re-surfacing North Main.

L. B. Barleigh, representing the Barret Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia, is here to superintend the re-surfacing of North Main street with tarmac which is to be done on both sides of the street from Franklin to Steele Street, a distance of three blocks. This stretch was put down with the convict force, proved unsatisfactory, is wearing badly and is too soft in warm weather. The company who manufactures tarmac is putting on the re-surfacing at its own expense. A large force will be used and the work will be pushed to completion. This will be one of the finest streets in the city when the re-surfacing is completed.

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The gripe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result. We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. P. S. Stop scratching, our Saxo Salve stops itching. We guarantee it. CONGRESS FACES A PROHIBITION VOTE

Washington, May 10.—With the Panama Canal toll exemption debate running strong in the Senate, and the House facing a record vote on the proposed Constitutional amendment for Nationwide prohibition, Congress promises to be fairly busy during the present week, though there may be no development in the Mexican situation to revive talk of war.

House Democrats will hold a party caucus Tuesday night to determine a legislative program for the remainder of the present session with adjournment early in July in view. Present plans of leaders contemplate passage of the necessary appropriation bills, enactment of several anti-trust measures, the rural credits bill and a vote on the prohibition amendment. All these subjects with the exception of the amendment will come up in the caucus and an effort may be made to discover sentiment on prohibition at that time.

Senator majority leaders have not yet formed plans for a party conference on a legislative program but there is a strong sentiment for the enactment of legislation such as the House is expected to approve, without however, a vote on prohibition.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee will conclude its hearings on the trade commission anti-trust bill early in the week and a report may be made shortly. There is a feeling on the part of some Democratic Senators that this legislation should not be taken up at the present session on their side of the capital and that action by the House will be sufficient until next winter.

To Reconstruct Langley's "Aeroplane."

With the purpose of demonstrating the fact that a practical heavier-than air flying machine was actually built by the late Prof. S. P. Langley Glenn Curtiss proposes to build and Lincoln Beachy to fly an exact duplicate of the original Langley machine. It will be copied from the "aerodrome" of 11 years ago which is preserved in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, with the exception of the engine. The motive power for the replica of the now historic air craft will be an 80 hp. Gnome motor.

In June number of Popular Mechanics Magazine appears a page view of the Langley aerodrome, as it will appear in flight when reproduced by Curtiss and Beachy and equipped with a modern motor. For purposes of comparison the artist also shows one of the latest type of Curtiss flying boats.

Both Curtiss and Beachy believe that Professor Langley had solved the problem of flight by heavier-than-air machines. Both feel that aircraft justice would be done by showing the world at this time that only a succession of untoward accidents prevented the Langley machine from actual flight in 1903. Equipped with a modern motor, instead of the steam engine with which Langley achieved such remarkable power in his day, they both feel assured that the machine will soar successfully, vindicating the genius of the man who was laughed to death by the news paper of his day.

Prof. Samuel Langley, for many years secretary of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, died in 1906 at the age of 72, heartbroken by the ridicule heaped upon him by the press because of the repeated failures of his big aeroplane to fly. For fifteen years he had devoted his time and his genius to the study of the underlying principle of flight. He devised new methods, built ingenious registering machines, recorded countless experiments, overturned old theories and developed mathematically the principles upon which heavier than-air machines must fly. Indeed, on the 6th of May, 1896, his first model, containing a steam engine of less than 2 hp, did make two flights above the Potomac River from the roof of the houseboat where he was conducting his experiments, and photographs were taken of the machine in the air by Prof. Alexander Graham Bell.

MR. LEWIS A. RIFFLE tells his experience with coughs and colds that lead to nervousness and debility.

Colds are often aggravated during the summer because of inactive bowels and a stomach out of order are prime causes in keeping a cold from getting well. Pe-ru-na has very beneficial laxative qualities that neutralize such conditions. Its tonic ingredients tone up the system, and thus invigorate the stomach's functions to normal activity.

Mr. Riffle's experience is especially interesting at this time of the year because it shows the close relationship there is between a nervous breakdown and a neglected cold.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the home at all times, that a cold upon its first appearance may be treated promptly and successfully. This often saves money and time, and what is more important, a great deal of vitality.

Mr. Riffle, of 753 Gautenbein Ave., Portland, Ore., writes: "I have found Pe-ru-na a most remarkable medicine for building up the system and for curing coughs and colds."

"I took it for four weeks a few months ago when I was all run down, nervous and debilitated, and it quickly restored my health."

"I always keep it on hand, as a few doses will cure a cold if taken in time."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Pe-ru-na Tablets.
