Story of the Young Girl Abducted From Barber.

At the trial of the abduction case in the Rowan county court against L. C. Bowman, yesterday morning, young Ada Overcash, the thirteen-year-old girl who Bowman carried off told a straight forward story of the case from beginning to end. She stated that she was the daughter of Locke Overcash, was thirteen-years-old, lived two miles from Barber, that Bowman worked on the railroad section near her home and that she saw him often, but did not know that he was married until after she had returned home, had known him about three months. She stated that she loved him and that Sunday he asked her to go to ride with him, thinking that they were going to St. Matthew's Church, but he took her to Barber against her will telling her that he was going to take her to Danville, Va., where they would get married. She protested to this but it was of no use and he forced her to go, threatening to kill her if she did not. She stated that they first came to Salisbury, from Salisbury they went to Greensboro, from there to Reidsville and from there to Kill Creek and stopped with a man they did not know, but afterward learned his name. They stayed here until Saturday night, passing as man and wife. Bowman left her there Saturday night and she had not seen him until yesterday morning. The man with whom they stayed was kind to her and, after seeing that Bowman was not coming back, bought her a ticket home. The father of the girl was present and was much wrought up over the matter. Bowman's wife was not present, but his sister was there. Bowman was bound over to the next term of the Rowan Superior Court under a $1,000 bond.

Much was not known by Mr. Miller of the extent of the storm but from what he heard it extended through Davie County.

A marriage took place in the office of Register of Deeds in the court house Friday morning, the contracting parties being Miss Zula Peeler and Lonnie Cox, both of China Grove. The groom is the son of James Cox and the bride is the daughter of David Peeler.

Miss Annie Lenora Barrier and Scott Eugene Shuping were married in Salisbury Tuesday, June 30th. They are now at their home in Greensboro, where Mr. Shuping is a clerk in one of the largest shoe stores of the city. Mr. Shuping was formerly of Salisbury and this will be of interest to his friends here.

Old Court House to be Used by the People as a Social Center.

The Board of county commissioners met at the court house Monday, June 6th with H. O. Trotter, J. W. Peeler, P. A. Hartman, O. O. Harrison and R. B. Bailey present. Some of the important orders of the board were as follows: That J. F. Miller and Scott Shoop be paid the reward that the county offered for the capture of Sid Finger, the Negro who murdered Preston Lyster and that they get the $100 offered by the state.

That the gang should do some much needed work on the Salisbury-Concord road near China Grove at an early date. The board met again Tuesday and ordered that the county home be steam heated and that M. L. Gant should do the work of installing the heating house apparatus that a work for women prisoners house be built at an early date in city.

Another important step taken by the board was to turn the old court house building to a social center. It will be remodeled and steam heated, will be a place of rest for the country people and anyone that happens to be in the city.

COLDNESS OF ICE.

It Depends Upon the Temperature of the Surrounding Air.

Is ice colder in winter than it is in summer? Many persons suppose not. To the unthinking ice is ice and cannot be any colder or warmer. Try it and see. Take a thermometer and bury it in a large cake of ice in summer or in a house where summer temperature obtains. It will indicate 32 degrees. This is not under all circumstances the freezing point of water.

Under normal conditions when the temperature of the air is hovering about 32 degrees for several hours the formation of ice may begin at that exact degree on the thermometer. On the other hand, a bucket of water exposed during the oncoming of a cold wave may not show a thin film of ice for sometimes an hour or more after the mercury has passed below the 32 degree mark.

But 32 degrees is the temperature of melting ice. If a piece of ice be thrown into boiling water and left there until it is almost gone, the small particle extracted will still be at 32 degrees. Ice can never be got above that temperature.

Mixing salt with ice makes it much colder. This is illustrated in the making of ice cream. The ice in the freezer goes down to near zero.

But while ice never can be warmed above 32 degrees it will become chilled as much below that point as the surrounding atmosphere does.

Ice will cool down like anything else on a cold night to zero or below. What should prevent it? On a day when it is just freezing temperature a block of iron and a cake of ice in the open air will stand at 32 degrees. If the weather becomes warmer the iron will warm up with the weather, but the temperature of the ice will remain at 32, although in the bulk it may diminish appreciably in the melting process. But with a falling temperature the iron and the ice will become colder, too, and the one just as much as the other.

As the ice grows colder it becomes harder and more brittle. This fact is observed by skaters on the ice on a clear night when the thermometer stands at 10 degrees above zero or lower. They realize there is something out of gear when they cannot walk with ease and grace describe the figure 8 or the "hickory bend," as it is called in the country. The ice has become too brittle and chips.

Those who have been in the arctic regions tell us that water thrown on the ice there will shiver it like pouring boiling water upon cold glass, the ice being so much colder than the water.—New York Press.

John E. Ramsay & Company have the contract to paving the new street, Southern Avenue, in front of the Yarkin Hotel. The material used in this work is English Durate granite paving blocks. This kind of paving has not been used in America long, but it has been in use in Europe for several years. This makes a good pavement and not having a patent on it can be put down cheap. Salisbury future streets will probably be paved with it.

J. N. Maxwell, who heard G. W. Newman say that all this advertising only cost him "two hats and a suit of clothes," has been called to Washington to testify before the investigating committee. There were others who heard Newman say this statement.

Farm For Rent and Horses For Sale.—A good farm who can furnish his own stock, is wanted to take charge of the McCaless farm at Dunn's Mountain. Two good horses and a mule for sale. Call at the farm or address, Mrs. J. C. McCaless, Granite Quarry, N. C. 2w-b-p-pd.

PATRIOTS UNFURL OLD GLORY

Eight Hundred Patriots in Line and a Grand Day is Had.

Salisbury enjoyed a "safe and sane Fourth" and a program that made the day memorable.

At 10 o'clock eight hundred members of patriotic orders marched to the new court house, where "Old Glory" was unfurled to the breeze. The flag was presented to the county by patriotic orders represented by Junior Order United American Mechanics, Daughters of Liberty and Patriotic Sons of America. There were recitations and exercises by children and the presentation speech was made by Z. P. Lumth, Past State Councilor of the Juniors. The flag was accepted on the part of the County Commissioners by Theo. F. Klattz.

The ceremony preceding the unveiling of the Boone Tablet was held in the Colonial Theatre and was presided over by Mrs. Edwin C. Gregory. The address of welcome was by Mayor Woodson, who was especially felicitous in his remarks.

Mrs. William N. Reynolds, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Lunday Patterson, were both heard with pleasure by a sympathetic audience. Each referred to the great work of the local chapter of the D. A. R. and the event celebrated by the exercises of the day.

Dr. L. H. Clement introduced Governor Craig. The Governor got in the good graces of the ladies at once by declaring mere man unequal to talk against the women. He stated that the women were coming to the front, in fact, had arrived and that the men had about arrived at the rear. He pleaded guilty to knowing very little about Daniel Boone but knew he would know it all before he left Salisbury today.

Mrs. John Van Landingham introduced the principal speaker of the day, Dr. Archibald Henderson whose address was on "The Inauguration of Western Expansion," Richard Henderson and Daniel Boone.

At the close of Dr. Henderson's address the meeting was adjourned to the Grubb building on the main street side of which is the tablet was unveiled.

The tablet was presented to the city by Mrs. Edwin C. Gregory and was received by Mayor Woodson. Miss Mary Outis Henderson and Elizabeth Henderson unveiled it. Mrs. Mathias Bosh, a descendant of Boone placed a wreath on the memorial.

The afternoon was spent in sports at the fair grounds. Several thousand visitors were here for the day.

Taking things as a whole Salisbury celebrated the fourth of July in a sane way and it proved to be one of the best fourths that the people of Salisbury have seen for several years. No accident occurred the whole day worth mentioning and the things of interest that were numerous and a pleasant time was had by all.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.
