

CHURCHES ARE TO INVADÉ MEXICO

Protestant Denominations to Unite to Present Common Front in That Country

New York, July 25.—That the Protestant denominations have united to present a common front in religious and educational work in Mexico was announced today by Bishop W. F. O'Dham, chairman of the general committee representing the mission boards.

As the results of conferences, it has been agreed to combine under the name of "The Evangelical Church" work in Mexico that has heretofore been carried on independently by the Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, Presbyterian, Disciple and Congregational boards. The united churches will aim to secure the earliest possible evangelization of the entire Mexican nation.

The plan includes a more extensive educational program than has ever been known in Mexico. A great co-educational university will be established, if the plan of the co-operating boards are carried through. At least one high school for each of the states will be opened in every mission territory and schools of higher grades will be opened consolidated.

Elementary schools where domestic and manual arts shall be taught, will be established in connection with all organized congregations. The mission territory will be readjusted so that no state will be without religious and educational effort.

Bishop O'Dham, in commenting upon the agreement reached in the conference, said: "The outcome almost staggers belief. It gives rich promise of that rapidly approaching day when the divident forces of evangelic Christianity shall federate and co-operate in such close sympathy as to present practically one front throughout the world."

Eagles Day Friday was Eagles day in Salisbury and in the afternoon a delightful dinner was spread at the Fair Park and a large number of members of the order and their families were out to enjoy the occasion.

On the return of the party a delightful time was reported. In the evening a business meeting was held in the lodge room and important matters were attended to. The growth of this lodge is rapid and its numbers among its members many prominent citizens of this city.

Hot Chase After Robber Last Saturday night about 12 o'clock there was a great commotion and some excitement in the westward section when Policeman Williams, Chief Miller and Chief of the fire Department Brown, assisted by half of the population of Salisbury, gave chase to a man by the name of Kyles who is a Statesville man, but a former resident of Salisbury, held up D. C. Lentz and another man by the name of Black both of this city while they were riding in his automobile. The robber took $45 of Mr. Lentz money and a gold watch.

The surprising part of the affair is in a manner in which Kyles escaped getting shot. Heran in a round about way from the public square to Livingstone College before he was finally caught. He was tried in the county court Monday morning and was sent up to the next term of Rowan Superior Court.

Our Robertson, aged 20 years, was drowned in Philadelphia Lake at Greensboro last Saturday afternoon. The similar part of the accident was that just about 200 yards from the place where Robertson was drowned, Charles Bullard met his death in a week previous to the hour and the same manner. It is supposed that Robertson caught cramp for he was on a boat about 4 feet away from the bank when he started for the shore.

CHURCH DECREED MENACE TO MORALS

Villareal Says Catholic Activity has Been Yoke to Mexican People

Tampico, Mexico, July 27.—A decree limiting the scope of the Roman Catholic Church in the State of Nuevo Leon on the ground of "public health, morality and justice," was issued today by Antonio Villareal, Governor and military commander. He said:

"During the life of the Nation, the Church has been a pernicious factor in disruption and discord and has entirely forgotten its spiritual mission."

The most drastic feature of the decree is the prohibition of confession. Villareal gives as this reason for this the charge that the confessional and the society in Mexico have become a menace morally.

The decree issued in Monterey, makes the following orders for government of Catholic schools and churches: "1—All foreign Catholic priests and Jesuits of whatever nationality will be expelled from the State of Nuevo Leon."

"2—Of the remaining Catholic priests those who cannot prove their complete abstinence from politics will be expelled."

"3—Churches will remain open daily from six in the morning until one in the afternoon. Only priests having permission to do so will be permitted to officiate."

"4—Confession is prohibited."

"5—The public is prohibited from entering the sacristy."

"6—Church bells shall ring only to celebrate priests in honor of the country, or for triumphs of the arms of the Constitution."

"7—All Catholic colleges shall be closed which do not obey programs and texts ordered by officials and which do not have at their head some professor who is a graduate of the normal schools of the country, who will be punishable by a fine of $100 meat for any infraction of the rule."

"8—Any infraction of the laws will be punishable by a fine of $100 to $500 and arrest and imprisonment from 2 to 4 months, or both fine and imprisonment. In event of a second offense the school will be closed."

Explaining the grounds for this action, Villareal's decree reads:

"In the interest of public health, morality and justice the State of Nuevo Leon will limit the scope of the Catholic Church, which during its life has entirely forgotten its spiritual mission, its sole right to be recognized by modern society. The Church has consecrated itself principally to conquest in politics."

To secure its objects it always has been allied with the reactionary government and the despots and even with foreign invaders. It has showed itself an implacable enemy to the Liberal movement and progress from the first revolution of Ayutla until the present time, and has fulminated its ridiculous excommunications over the the most grand and glorious benefactors of the country, Hidalgo, Juarez and Lerdo de Tejada.

"The pretorial and clerical rulings of Porfirio Diaz and Huerta, against which the Mexican people have been struggling heroically for many years, have had its benediction for the crimes and corruptions of Huerta and has unsuccessfully worked to incite the public against the Constitutionalist cause."

Some of the ceremonials of the Church were criticised, Villareal alleging that in Mexico they have tendered toward weakening of moral character. The colleges came under his disapproval also and he declared it the course of wisdom to close the clerical schools for the present on the ground "it is a supreme National necessity to stamp out at the root the arrogant abuses of the Catholic Church and remove the grave danger which the institution represents, more political than religious for the tranquility and future progress of the country. It is not the intention of this Government not to recognize liberty or conscience, or persecute any culte while others enjoy guarantees, and for this reason the privilege has been accorded five Catholic Churches of reopening their doors in Monterey."

Catholic Churches recently have been closed in Saltillo San Luis Potosi and Nuevo Laredo.

Originated Chew The Rag. The Editor of THE WATCHMAN related this story to Capt. E. W. Price the other day and he evidently thought it good enough to print hence it appeared in Monday's issue of the Post.

"Chewing the Rag" originated in Salisbary in the printing office of the late J. J. Bruner, and the late James Vogler, who died this week in the State hospital at Morganton. An old resident relates that it is expression originated with this old printer and that it came from the printing office of the late J. J. Bruner. A Negro, it is said, applied at the printing office where Vogler was working and asked for work of some kind. At that time Mr. Bruner, like many other printers, bought rags which he sold to paper mills and there was a great pile of these in the rear corner of the office and Vogler informed the Negro that there was nothing to do but to chew rags and he went to work chewing, for what purpose he knew not, the pile of rags. Mr. Bruner spied him and asked Vogler what that "nigger" was doing back there and was informed that he was "chewing the rag," and from that day this expression has been going the rounds until it is used all over the country. That was many years ago.

SHEEP RAISING PAYS

LACK OF ATTENTION IS CAUSE OF MANY FAILURES.

Good Reasons for Expecting Continuation of High Prices for Mutton and Lamb—Demand for Wool is on the Increase.

The consumption of mutton per capita in the United States is increasing every year, though the amount used is much less in proportion to other meat than in Europe. There are good reasons for expecting a continuation of good prices for mutton and lamb, and the demand for wool also may be expected to increase more rapidly than the production.

These facts are brought out in a recent letter from a specialist of the department of agriculture to a southern farmer who inquired regarding the possibilities of the sheep business. The department's specialist called attention to the fact that while farmed sheep have often not been profitable, this has usually been because of lack of proper attention and management. Variations in price of wool and mutton have stood in the way of such general interest in sheep as would cause them to be regarded as highly as they should be in the future. Range raising over the world are now carrying about as many sheep as they can support under a strict range system, and an increase in the production of sheep products must come mainly from farms. Here, then, is the farmer's opportunity to take advantage of the increased consumption of these products.

While mutton can be produced at low cost and there is a growing demand for it, difficulty in selling may be experienced in sections where the amount of live stock produced has not been sufficient to make it worth while for regular buyers to operate. Slaughtering plants that can handle carloads are within reach of all sections, and if a sufficient number of neighbors combine to have 100 lambs of similar breeding, size and condition to ship jointly the returns are assured. It will also be possible to secure visits and bids from buyers when such a number is promised. The lamb clubs of Tennessee, notably the one at Goodlettsville, have proved very successful in this work.

The same organization can also be used in disposing of the wool. In countries where economy in farm management has been studied a long time, the sheep is considered to be necessary in utilizing vegetation on such waste lands as are not wet or marshy. But the sheep can hold its place on high-priced land as a meat producer alone. Compared with larger animals it has some important advantages. First, the lambs mature very rapidly, being marketable at four months of age or later, according to breeding and feeding. This is an economy because a larger proportion of the total feed goes into increase of weight than in slower growing animals. Second, the sheep consumes a greater variety of plants than do other animals. Many of such plants are detrimental to pastures and would otherwise require hand labor to hold them in check. Third, grain waste in harvesting can be entirely recovered by sheep. These facts prompt some farmers to claim that the summer food of sheep costs nothing, because what they consume would otherwise bring no returns.

Compared with hogs the sheep has an advantage in the wider variety of materials it consumes. Being a ruminant it makes its gain with a minimum of grain and expensive concentrates. This is especially important on those kinds of lands that are better adapted to the production of forage crops than to grain growing.

POINTS OF A PROFITABLE HEN Good Sign of Healthy Fowl When Comb is Plump and Red and Wattles of a Bright Color.

If the comb of the hen is plump and red, and the face and wattles of a bright color, it is a good sign that she is in health and laying condition.

If confined at such a time she will show great restlessness, wonderful activity and be full of business when at liberty. She will be on the alert at every sound or motion.

On the other hand, if the comb appears shriveled, or the edges of the comb and wattles are of a purplish red, she will be listless, sleepy and sluggish in her movements.

In such a case she is out of condition and is either sick or likely to be before very long.
