The Rowan County Court has been kept busy during the past few days trying the blind tigers rounded up by detectives and the city police. We understand there are twenty-three defendants and that all so far tried have been found guilty. This seems to be the first real effort on the part of the city government to catch these law breakers and apply the statute made and provided.

A number of boys scouts under the direction of E. M. Hoffman, of the Boys' Community Y. M. C. A., are camping on the farm of Ed Trout several miles from the city.

As stated in THE RECORD Friday the machinery for dredging Grant creek had arrived at China Grove and work would begin on this project at an early date. Mark P. Moore will be in charge of the work.

Efforts are being made to have the next encampment of the Uniform Rank, Woodmen of the World, meet in Salisbury.

Faifax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, was one of the speakers at Spencer Monday. He made a very interesting and instructive address.

The Labor Day exercises here Monday were on a large scale and contained many attractive features. A large crowd was present and none went away disappointed for the advertising was conservative and the committee did all that was stated. The parade was splendid and all the program was good.

Young Claud Deal, who was reported to have committed suicide is said to have been located in Augusta, Ga., from whence he returned home and has since left for Indiana where he will enter school. Mr. Deal is a capable young man and has a large circle of friends who will be glad to know that he is still on this side of the river and in good health.

James V. Brown, of Asheville, is visiting in the city. Mr. Brown is a brother of the late Thomas E. John D. Henry, William and Andrew Brown who, years ago, were residents of Salisbury. Mr. Brown is now 85 but quite vigorous for his age.

Charles Conghaour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Conghaour, has accepted a position in Charlotte as headclerk of the Tryon Hotel conducted by H. C. Williams.

The marriage of Miss Lillie May, and E. J. Lux, took place at the home of Mrs. John M. Julian on East Innes Street, last Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Byron Clark and the couple went south for a short stay.

The County Commissioners and the County Board of Education met in their regular monthly session Tuesday. Reports of same will be found in the Record Friday.

An ice cream supper will be given at the home of Joel A. Lower at Franklin tomorrow evening by the Young Peoples' Society of Bethel Lutheran Church.

The little child of David Peeler, a resident of Sumner neighborhood, was run over by an automobile Monday and narrowly escaped serious injury. The child was playing in the street near the square and fell under the machine, the front wheel of which passed over it.

The board of aldermen of Spencer have agreed to have a third well drilled to add to the present water supply of the town.

The city aldermen held a busy meeting last Wednesday night and transacted considerable business of interest to all sections of the city. A detailed report being too lengthy for our columns.

The Board of Water Commissioners have submitted its report to the city and it makes a splendid showing. The service has been of the best and the city has made a profit of $6,442.46 during the year. The plant will have to be increased some day and the board recommends that the future supply be gotten from the Yadkin river above the point.

John W. Glover and family have just returned from an extended automobile trip through Western North Carolina, West Virginia, Virginia, District of Columbia and Maryland.

J. E. Kennerly, who has the contract to construct the workhouse at the county home, is now busy on the job.

Last Wednesday when James Measmer, an employee at the farm of J. F. Ludwick, about one and a half miles southeast of the city, went into the barn lot a large bull attacked and seriously injured him. Physicians attended him and he is now thought to be improving.

Thos. C. Niblock, Phelix Foster, J. F. Goetz, the school committee of the Pine Grove school, near Cleveland, and W. D. McLaughlin, Rott, A. McLaughlin, Gaston Gentle and John Goodman, of the same neighborhood, were in Salisbury yesterday on business.

J. J. Corliss, proprietor of the R-d Acres Poultry Farm, located several miles south of Salisbury, has just completed a large modern barn on his place.

J. E. Crane, an architect of Atlanta, has located here for the practice of his profession. He has an office in the Grubb building.

James L. Atkins, the man who was being held in the Rowan jail for forging G. A. Fisher's name to a number of checks, and Waverly Lyster, the young white fellow awaiting trial for stealing chickens, who were allowed the privilege of the corridors of the jail, made their escape Thursday evening by sawing an iron bar in two and letting themselves down to the ground by means of a rope made from blankets. Lyster has been recaptured but Atkins has no doubt kept on the move and will likely make good his escape.

There was a flag raising, bible presentation, picnic and speaking at Hall's school house, about five miles west of Salisbury last Saturday. A large crowd was present and a grand time was had by all present. Rev. G. W. Vick of Salisbury, presented the bible and T. F. Hutson, Esq., of Spencer, presented the flag.

A. D. Currie, the popular and enterprising manager of the McPherson drug store engaged the Salisbury Band to give a free concert in front of that place Saturday night. The band seemed to its best and a large number of people were present to enjoy the music.

Claude E. Ramsay, who has been making his home in Seattle, Wash., for a number of years, and has met with much success there, has let a contract to erect a $100,000 apartment house in that city. Mr. Ramsay's many friends here are rejoiced to learn of his deserved success.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Methodist Church at Granite Quarry in which all the churches there are taking part. Rev. G. W. Vick of Holmes Memorial Church, Salisbury, is in charge of the work, while Rev. E. M. Avett, pastor of the church there, is assisting.

The Rowan authorities have received $1,193 as the county's share of the automobile tax collected by the Secretary of State. Automobiles are taxed according to their horse power and each county gets 80 per cent. of the amount paid. This money goes into the general road funds of the county and does much to help keep the highways in good condition.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.
"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy.

Negroes Resolve Against the Promiscuous Writing of Prescriptions for Whiskey.

At the recent meeting held in Raleigh of the National Medical Association, composed of the leading Negro doctors and pharmacists, the following resolutions in reference to writing of prescriptions were prepared by Dr. F. L. Daniels of Salisbury, and passed unanimously: "Whereas the National Medical Association is held in high esteem throughout this broad land and whereas, it is our desire to have this esteem remain with us, and the confidence in us increased more and more, therefore, be it resolved that this association go on record as opposing the promiscuous writing of prescriptions for alcoholic liquors and as condemning the run traffic of drug stores in alcoholic beverages.

Resolved further, That the N. M. A. of Physicians, Dentists and Pharmacists will earnestly use their best efforts to discourage the use of alcohol in any way or form as a beverage.

Resolved further, That since the efficiency of the United States Navy has not in any degree been crippled by the prohibition on the part of Secretary Daniels of the use of alcoholic stimulants as a beverage, that alcohol can be eliminated from the Pharmacopoeia without in any degree interfering with the completeness of the doctors' armamentarium.

Resolved finally, That it is the opinion of this association that any physician or dentist who does promiscuous or unnecessary prescribing of whiskey to patients or nonpatients or any pharmacist who illegally dispenses the same is violating one of the basic principles of his profession and is deserving of severe censure.

DEATH

De Leon Sadler Brown, son of the late John L. Brown and Mrs. Susan Brown, aged 41, died suddenly yesterday afternoon in Dr. J. H. Rozzelle's bed room in the Grubb building. Mr. Brown had been suffering from the effects of rheumatism and kidney trouble and had gone to Dr. Rozzelle's office for treatment when he became suddenly ill. It is thought he had taken an over dose of a strong anti-pain remedy which effected his heart and caused his death. The funeral was held from his residence this afternoon, Rev. G. W. Vick, officiating, and the interment was in Chestnut Hill Cemetery. Mr. Brown was a steady worker, a machinist and employee of the Southern shops and had a host of friends.

Margaret McCulloch Neely, born at Bear Poplar this county March 18th, 1866, died at Hendersonville August 20th, 1914, being 49 years old. Miss Neely was married to John O. Houston in December, 1888, and was the mother of Jas. N. Houston, of this county and Flake Houston, who has been making his home with his parents at Hendersonville for several years. Mr. Houston had many friends and relatives in this county who will regret to learn of her death.

The Potash Famine, the Way Out.

The world's supply of potash is obtained from Germany, and with this source of supply now cut off by the European war, there will inevitably be a famine of this material as soon as present stocks are exhausted. According to the Wall Street Journal, the price has already advanced from 20 to 150 per lb. Potash is essential to plant growth and is one of the three constituents of a complete fertilizer; the other two being phosphorus and nitrogen. Enormous quantities are used annually by the farmers of this county and this famine bids fair to be a serious matter to our agricultural interests. There is, however, a way out available to the large proportion of farmers. Almost all soils contain potash; most contain enough for all present plant requirements, while some contain large excess beyond those requirements. As a rule, however, the potash is in insoluble combinations which render it unavailable, or at least, only very slowly available to plants. If the store of the potash in the soil could be made available as needed, it would be many years before the average farmer would have to worry about the price of potash fertilizer and the source of his supply. Fortunately, an agent is at hand to accomplish this result.

Lime, in addition to its valuable action in neutralizing soil acidity and supplying the needed calcium for plant growth, has the property of rendering soluble and available to plant life the store of inert potash in the soil. To a lesser extent, it also renders more readily available the soil stores of phosphorus. It should be of special interest to certain readers that a large section of the south is particularly blessed with large soil reserves of potash which by simple application of lime can be coined into merchantable food products. I refer to the Piedmont section from Maryland to Georgia. The blood red soils of this territory are derived from the decomposition of granite and other igneous rocks and contain relatively enormous quantities of potash in an insoluble form. It is worth of note that in case of a prolonged failure of the German potash supply and in case our geologists fail to locate deposits in this country, there are still sources of supply available, at a price.
