Salisbury's Moonlight Schools Close

The four regularly organized moonlight schools in Salisbury having completed the 12 lessons laid out by the State Department of Education have come to a close. The demand in some quarters that the session be extended was so strong that it could not go unheeded. Arrangements have been made to continue some of the schools a little longer. The response on the part of those in attendance has been splendid. The teachers all report that they have been delighted with the opportunity to do this work. The average attendance has been about 185 with an enrollment of about 175.
