An auto line was established this week between Salisbury, Albemarle, Baden and intermediate points. It makes two round trips a day and is doing a good business.

A number of Rowan Veterans have gone to Birmingham, Ala., where they are attending the United Confederate Veterans' Reunion.

G. W. Wright of the First Baptist Church of this city, is among those from this section, who are attending the Southern Baptist Convention in Asheville this week.

At a congregational meeting held at the First Lutheran Church of Greensboro, last Sunday morning, Rev. E. B. Lingle of Salisbury, was elected supply pastor during the summer. Mr. Lingle is a second year student of the theological seminary of Columbia University, New York.

J. H. Snow, was seriously injured on Monday morning while assisting in moving Ruffy's saw mill, in the lower part of the county. A traction engine on which he was riding overturned and he was caught beneath it. He is in a badly crushed left arm and fractured ribs and other bruises and injuries. He is in the local hospital receiving attention.

A fine of $50 and costs was imposed on a young Negro in county court on Tuesday for carrying a pistol. He paid the fine.

The 4th Co., C. A. C., of this city will leave here Friday afternoon in a special car for Charlotte, where Saturday they will be in the military section of the big parade. There will be 85 or 90 members in line and possibly more.

The car which brought Mrs. J. H. O'Connell and her company to Salisbury Tuesday morning attracted much attention when it was learned that it was the same private car in which President Wilson made a preparedness tour several months ago.

Attention is called to the advertisement in this issue of V. Wallace & Sons. This well known firm is offering some wonderful values in summer wear.

A resolution was passed last Friday by the Spencer Board of Aldermen which prohibits carnivals and tent shows of all kinds from showing there during the present administration, ending a year hence.

Mrs. P. H. Meroney was painfully, though not seriously injured Tuesday afternoon when a horse she was driving ran away, causing her to fall from the buggy. She suffered several bruises.

Rev. T. F. Marr, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, will go to High Point Sunday, where in the morning he will deliver the annual sermon to the schools of that city.

Mose Jackson, son of M. L. Jackson, will leave here this week for Annapolis, Md., where he has received appointment by Senator Overman and Congressman Doughton. The young man had been attending Rutherford College and is at home for a short while before going to Annapolis.

It certainly does seem as though there was some truth in the remark made some time ago by a stranger to the effect that "a person can't get through Salisbury with any liquor without everybody knowing it." Last Saturday morning Policeman Kesler looked into two suspicious looking suitcases that came in on No. 11 and he found seven quarts of 100 proof corn liquor in one and fourteen quarts of the same stuff in the other. Nobody cared to claim it.

Lieutenant Governor E. L. Doughton, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Governor, spent a short while in the city last Friday while en route to Asheville.

Attorney General J. Bryan Grimes, who is a candidate to succeed himself, was a visitor here last Thursday in the interest of his candidacy.

Editor Roland F. Beasley of the Monroe Journal, one of the deepest thinkers in the State, has accepted the invitation to deliver the closing address at the city school on May 29th.

Ray Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Glover, of this city, continues to make good as an electrician with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. He had been stationed at Atlanta but is now making his headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn.

A special memorial service to which the public is invited is to be held in the old court house auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, May 21st, by the two local councils of Sons and Daughters of Liberty, having a membership of close to 500.

Rowan County ranked second in the production of gold during the year 1915. Montgomery County was first according to a bulletin issued Saturday by the U. S. Geological survey. Rowan had a yield of 2,218 ounces, valued at $45,884.

R. B. Yancy is spending a short visit to his home here, having just returned from a canvassing trip. He is a salesman for a large grocery house and his territory extends over the Southern and Southwestern states. Before coming here he had been along the Mexican border in lower Texas where the United States is having so much trouble, and he has some very interesting narratives to relate concerning his stay along the border.

A new camp of the P. O. S. of A. was organized last Wednesday night at St. John's, Cabarrus County, by J. N. Maxwell and W. A. Daniels of Salisbury.

Rev. W. H. Goler, president of Livingstone College, tendered his resignation as the head of the Negro institution at the general convention of the A. M. E. Zion conference held at Louisville, Ky., last week. An unconfirmed rumor states that Dr. Goler is to become treasurer of the A. M. E. Zion Church in America and that his probable successor to the presidency of the college will be Rev. Atkins of the State Industrial Institute at Winston-Salem. Dr. Goler has done much for Livingstone and a man to fill his place will be hard to find.

By hard work and persistent efforts the persons interested in a community Y. M. C. A. for Salisbury are meeting with rather good success. Many subscriptions are being received and if this good work continues Salisbury will surely have a community Y. M. C. A. for another year at least.

Both Salisbury lodges will be represented at the district meeting of the Knights of Pythias to be held in Lexington on Thursday May 18th.

Washington Camp, No. 24, P. O. S. of A., of this city, is well represented at the State Camp Convention in Charlotte this week. The other Rowan camps also have representatives at this meeting.

It is announced that there will be another big Fourth of July celebration in Salisbury this year. It is expected to make this the biggest event of the kind ever held here.

Sheriff Sprinkle of Mocksville, was a visitor here Tuesday.

Chestnut Hill Cemetery is being leveled off at the southern end by a force of men. This is being done to provide additional room for burial plots.

Whooping Cough
"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhages of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. B. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.

Nine Lawyers and Thirty Witnesses in Suit for $10.

After being out for about 40 hours the jury in the case of Denton Telephone Company vs. Varner, in Davidson Superior Court, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. Only about $10 in actual property value was concerned in the case, but it took nine lawyers, over a day of Superior Court and about 80 witnesses to establish it. The witness fees amounted to $188 45. The issue was whether Will Varner, who lives near Denton, should be allowed to rent a telephone on a county line or whether he would have to surrender it to another man who was a stockholder in the company.

BOUL OF SOLDIERS

Aged Count is Real Commander at Verdun.

Count Von Haeseler, Eighty Years Old, is Adviser to Crown Prince—Many Stories Are Told of Grizzled Old Warrior.

Berlin.—Field Marshal Count von Haeseler, eighty years old, but sitting his horse as straight as an arrow, is the adviser of the crown prince and the real commander at Verdun. The bronzed and grizzled warrior is the idol of his soldiers. He is a veteran indeed, for he fought throughout the wars of 1864, 1866 and 1870. Despite his age Count von Haeseler is one of the most modern and undoubtedly one of the most important of German generals. He is held up to the soldiers as an example of the true Spartan.

On horseback—riding is the aged general's favorite sport—he presents a striking picture. He sits as straight as the youngest recruit and his smooth shaven, wrinkled, but rosy cheeks face, contrasts singularly with his flowing snow white hair. A great fund of stories has been built up on Count von Haeseler. The most famous of the anecdotes told about him is that of the time "when he fooled the Kaiser," as one can hear German schoolboys tell.

It was during the regular Kaiser maneuvers in May, some twenty years ago. The emperor made a bet that he would capture the count. He was the commander in chief of the "reds," while Count von Haeseler, commander of the fortress of Metz, was the leader of the "blues," defending the heights of the Fort Kaiserin against the Kaiser's forces.

Suddenly "Engelien Gottlieb" was heard to mutter between his teeth: "Donnerwetter! What's the idea of that foolhardy cavalry reconnaissance? These fellows seem to be after me!"

The general staff officer to whom the count had spoken galloped with half a column of cavalry after the reconnoitering party. The horse of the last man stumbled and threw his rider. The general staff officer had a talk with him, then dashed back to his commander. Count von Haeseler thus learned the object of the reconnaissance. After a brief explanation his whole staff rode forward, forming a semicircle around the count, directly toward Fort Leipzig, immediately in front of the advancing enemy. There Count von Haeseler unobscuredly left the staff. A few minutes later he rolled out of the fort's gate a wagon in which were piled straw and old sacks. It passed closely by the Kaiser and stopped a few steps behind him.

"Gentlemen," said the emperor at this juncture, "I believe we have now surrounded Count von Haeseler. I am anxious to capture his person. Alons, ahead!" And the Kaiser's suite galloped away. The count crawled under the sacks and climbed out of the wagon, to the great amusement of the troops camping around it.

"What are these troops doing?" he asked the general in command. "By order of his majesty put out of action!" was the answer.

The count gave a hearty laugh. "General," said he, "upon my responsibility, attack the 'red' army from the rear. No contradiction, please, I am responsible!" Count von Haeseler being of superior rank, the officer of the "opposing" army had only to obey. A few minutes later the astonished emperor heard the signal of retreat at his back. At the same moment the "blue" army moved forward and the emperor found himself in such a trap that he had the bugle blow "Das ganze halt!"

When the Kaiser heard of the old general's trick it is said he laughed until tears rolled down his cheeks.

"HE SAW AMERICA FIRST"

This is the name conferred upon this little papoose following the indiscretion of selecting a name for her offspring the first thing the mother sees as she looks out of the wigwam. This papoose was born in the picturesque Two Medicine Lake country during the midsummer encampment of the Blackfoot Indians.

Mr. William E. Denny, 1223 Park Ave., Springfield, Ohio: "I was troubled with catarrh of the head, nose, throat and stomach. I am greatly relieved by Peruna."

Clearing Way for Union of the Lutheran Synods.

At the meeting of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod at Concord Friday, a report of the joint commissions of the North Carolina and Tennessee Synods to effect a merger of the two Synods was presented and discussed. The principal feature of the discussion centered on item B, which disapproved of a minister being ordained who is a member of a fraternal order, the contention being that the Church provides for the social and spiritual wants of man.

The Tennessee Synod has always prohibited its ministers from being members of fraternal orders and insisted upon this provision in the proposed merger. The item was adopted by a large majority. This is believed to be a long step toward a union of the two bodies.

The proposition for the merger will be presented to the Tennessee Synod at its coming meeting and it is believed it will be adopted.

A SALISBURY MAN GIVES EVIDENCE.

His Testimony Will Interest Every Salisbury Reader.

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can give it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Salisbury papers lately and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Salisbury people that will not be easily shaken.

FARMERS---

Read What Fresno County, California, Offers:

This rich productive California county is sparsely settled compared to the East. There are thousands of acres ready for industrial and farming—land that will yield far more than the average farm land throughout the United States. Here forty acres will bring greater revenue than a quarter section in some parts of the country. The land is suitable for general farming. Alfalfa is cut six times a year and yields from 12 to 20 tons per acre. Big opportunities for practical dairymen, stock men and poultrymen. Splendid climate. No severe winter.
