

SECTIONALISM CRY REACTS ON HUGHES

G. O. P. Candidate Is Mocked by Record of His Own Party.

LAW ENACTED ARE FOR ALL

On Its Achievements Administration Invites Judgment as to Whether Its Work Is Sectional or National In Its Scope and Purpose—Legislative Record Set Forth.

Charles E. Hughes has raised the cry of sectionalism, complaining to his western audience because the important committee chairmanships in the house and senate have been filled—this being due to seniority promotions—by southern members.

"During the last years of Republican control there was not a committee chairmanship from the south," replies Congressman James B. Aswell in his speech reported in the Congressional Record. "Was that sectionalism or blind ignorant partisanship?" he asks. "Let the people decide," he suggests, "whether the following great measures enacted by this so-called section controlled congress are sectional or national:

"The Underwood Tariff Law, just to the consumer as against the special privileged class, followed by a non-partisan tariff commission removing the tariff question from politics.

"The Income-Tax Law, causing the rich to pay their just proportion of the expenses of the Government.

"The Rural-Credit Law, the first legislation solely for the farmers, the extension of rural routes, and better mail service for our rural population.

"The Good-Roads Law for all sections and for all our people.

"Farm-extension laws, including Smith-Lever Act, grain and cotton standards, regulating cotton futures.

101 Ranch Show Train Wrecked in Virginia.

A Dispatch from Norfolk, Va., Sunday.—A special train on the Virginia Railway, bearing the 101 Ranch and Buffalo Bill Wild West Show to Norfolk, was wrecked today near Victoria, 141 miles from this city.

More than a score of horses are said to have been killed. There was no loss of life. Cause of the wreck has not been ascertained.

This show, it was reported, would exhibit in Salisbury this fall, but this wreck may cause to alter their plans.

Head-Off That All-Winter-Cough.

At the first sign of sore throat, tight chest or stuffed-up head take a dose Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The healing pine-tar, soothing honey and glycerine quickly relieve the congestion, loosen the phlegm and break up your cold. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey has all the benefits of the healing aroma from a pine forest, it is pleasant to take and antiseptic. The formula on the bottle tells why it relieves colds and coughs. At your Druggist, 25 cents.

Yang Man Wrecks Pool Room.

Last week M. Copeland and Roger Thompson manager of the pool room on North Main street, became involved in a little difficulty and the latter forlorn the former to enter. While Mr Thompson was gone in search for an officer to put the young man out Copeland became so enraged that he succeeded in wrecking the place, breaking the plate windows and the mirrors on the wall with billiard balls before he was finally stopped. The damage was about $150. He was tried at the county court that day and fined $75 and costs.

CULTIVATION TO HELP CORN

Shallow as Well as Deep Tillage Will Destroy Weeds—Keep Surface of Soil Mellow.

Deep cultivation of corn is never necessary when the soil has been properly prepared before planting. This is the result shown by investigations at the Minnesota College of Agriculture as well as by investigations of the United States department of agriculture. In most cases cultivation is necessary almost entirely for the elimination of weeds. Shallow cultivation will do this just as well as deep, and it does not injure the roots of the plants.

Experiments have shown, however, that the yield of corn increases with succeeding cultivations up to six. Corn cultivated twice at University Farm, St. Paul, yielded 45 bushels of corn and 3,210 pounds of stover, giving a profit of $5.33. Corn cultivated six times yielded nearly 68 bushels and 3,391 pounds of stover, giving a profit of $10.89.

The frequency of cultivation depends largely on the character of the soil and the conditions of the seed-bed at the time of planting. Sufficient cultivations should be made, however, to keep the surface of the soil mellow, free from weeds and loose.

Late cultivations should not be more than two or three inches deep.

USE CARE IN TRANSPLANTING

Roots of Trees Should Not Be Exposed to Sun and Wind—In Dry Weather Cover With Straw.

One of the greatest mistakes when shipping trees is that of allowing the roots to become exposed to sun and wind. It is absolutely necessary to keep the roots wet from the time the trees are received from the nursery until they are planted. All roots that are injured in digging should be cut with a keen knife on the underside so that the roots will grow straight down.

If the trees are not ready to plant, the roots may be perfected by "healing them in." By this is meant to set the tree in a trench and cover the roots with loose earth. If the weather is very windy and dry throw a little straw over the trees and cover with burlap.

DRAINAGE ADDS TO PROFITS

By Increased Yield and Decreased Cost of Cultivation Value of Land Is Often Doubled.

Lands that are too wet for the most profitable production of crops, should be drained. Even uplands may often be drained with profit, especially hill-sides subject to erosion or inclined to be "spouty." Indeed, drainage is profitable wherever it is necessary to the fullest use of the land.

It is not uncommon for lands too wet for cultivation to produce, when drained, 60 or 70 bushels of corn or oats to the acre. On much of the drained land the increase of yield is from 25 to 100 per cent, and by the increased yield and the decreased cost of cultivation the value of the land is often doubled.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

CARDUI

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.
