HON. ROBERT H. RICKS. Soldier, Legislator, Financier.

There lives in Rocky Mount today two of the immortal six who volunteered to charge the house of Bethel, in which charge the life of Henry Wyatt, one of the six, was offered up instantly in Most Cases-Write for a as the first red sacrifice on the altar of Southern Confederacy. These living heroes are John H. Thorpe and Robert H. Ricks. The story of the life of Mr. Ricks brings pride to every North Carolinian. Not less renowned in peace than in war, he has come to fill a larger place in the industrial affairs of Rocky Mount and Nash county than any other individual. Mr. Ricks was born in Nash county in 1839 and lives now within three miles of his birthplace. Volunteering in the famous "Bethel Regiment" at the first bugle call to battle in 1861, sharing with his comrades the first honors of the war, the breast of Robert H. Ricks was bared to the enemy's bullets hundreds of times in defense of his beloved Southland. And when the star of the Confederacy had finally set in agony and in tears behind the bloody horizon at Appomattox, Robert H. Ricks and his brave "Manly's Battery" were still fighting. For this man never surrend-

At Cold Harbor the wheels of the gun Mr. Ricks was operating were actually shot down with minie balls so completely that new wheels had to be put on before the gun could be moved, the only instance of the kind on record, and Mr. Ricks himself was struck five times in this one fight, yet his battery never retreated.

He was married in 1874 to Miss Tempie Thorne. They have no children, but he has helped educate and in other ways provided for many children who were not so well provided with this world's goods.

Ever a busy man and much occupied with his large and varied business interests, he has made sacrifices and found time to serve his county and state in a number of public stations, He has held numerous county offices. He was elected to North Carolina House of Representatives in 1903 and to the State Senate in 1905, and has held several appointment positions for

Government Issues Warning Against Fly Poisons

Following is an extract from "The Transmission of Disease by Flies," Supplement No. 29 to the Public Health Reports, April, 1916.

"Of other fly poisons mentioned, mention should be made, merely for a purpose of condemnation, of those composed of arsenic. Fatal cases of poisoning of children through the use of such compounds are far too frequent, and owing to the resem-blance of arsenical poisoning to summer diarrhea and cholera infantum, it is believed that the cases reported do not, by any means, comprise the total. Arsenical fly-destroying devices must be rated as extremely dangerous, and should never be used, even if other measures are not at hand."

106 fly poisoning cases have been reported by the press within the last three years. As stated above this number is but a fraction of the real number. Protect your children by using the safe, efficient, non-poisonous fly catcher
