

The Carolina Watchman

A Home Newspaper Published in the Interest of the People and for Honesty in Governmental Affairs

THE FLOWERS COLLECTION

VOL. XIV. N. 35. FOURTH SERIES SALISBURY, N. C., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14TH, 1918.

ESTABLISHED 1832

WHY WE NEED $6,000,000,000 MORE!

"But One Way to Peace, and That is the Way to Berlin."

Editor manufactures Record: "My opinion is that we cannot consider any terms of peace whatsoever with the German Government as now constituted. Germany must be licked and the Hohenzollerns kicked off the throne before we can even talk of peace without outraging our self respect."

The German military ring must be broken and so shattered that it can never be reunited. Those who have been responsible for the rape of Belgium and France, those who have been responsible for the heinous outrages upon the civilian populations overridden by Germany, those who have been responsible for breaking the rules of war and using poisonous gas in battle, those who have been responsible for torpedoing passenger vessels and hospital ships, and for dropping aerial bombs on shore hospitals, those who have been responsible for the killing and maiming of women and children in London and Paris with aerial bombs, those who have been responsible for breaking the most sacred treaties and obligations—have placed themselves beyond the pale and cannot and must not be bargained with in any peace arrangement.

Those militaristic bandits of the breed of Attila who cold bloodedly prepared to plunder the world and enslave mankind and to that nefarious end planned to violate every human obligation and attribute of duty, mercy and decency, and are not to replace their names to peace compact beside those of the heroes who shall with sacrifice of blood and treasure, save the world from their clutches.

Anyone proposing peace with Germany before Kaiserism shall have been crushed out of existence should either be interned or be placed in an insane asylum for medical treatment. There is but one way to peace, and that is the way to Berlin. It will be a long, hard, expensive and bloody road, but it is the only road, and when we shall have arrived at the end of that road we shall have only a subjugated, suppliant, Kamrad calling populace to deal with, and the terms which we shall then make will not be terms of any bargain, but merely imposed by us according to our ideas of justice.

Justice will make one inexorable demand on that occasion, and it will be that Germany shall bear the burden of rebuilding and reimbursing Belgium and the desolated portions of Northern France in full measure, and Alsace and Lorraine must be restored to France.

What other terms must be imposed will matter far less.

Landing P. O., N. J.

—Hudson Maxim.

Cur. For Dysentery.

While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, writes William Whitelaw of Des Moines, Iowa "He told me in detail what it had done for his family, but more specially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

GERMAN LINE IS HARDENING.

Rupprecht Has Brought up Reserves But Allias Pause of Their Own Accord.

With the British army in France, August 12.—During the lull in the battle there are further indications that the line is hardening.

This afternoon the Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria seems to have brought in more fresh troops and while the allied forces are pausing of their own accord the enemy within the area of his new battle front, with the Somme at his back, is having a most uncomfortable time. The British guns are hammering Chaules while cannon of large calibre are coming up all the time and drenching the enemy rear with steel. They are also pounding away at the bridge across the Somme at Bethincourt.

The shelling of the bridges here is a serious matter for the enemy, as bombs from the air are continually being dropped by British airplanes at a low altitude at the bridges in the Peronne district. This bombing has been going on day and night since the battle began, forcing the Germans to divert their transport so that the general movement was southeast.

Now his bridges to the southeast are under heavy fire.

With the comparatively small force of Americans there has been no real heavy fighting today. They are still holding their lines and their patrols have been sent out now and then feeling out the foreground.

At a point on the new front, especially just south of the Somme, the Germans are occupying the old line dugouts built by the French more than two years ago. The Germans have concentrated artillery at many places and today are sending in more shells than on any day since the battle began. Lihons which came into British hands yesterday when field Marshal Haig's men stormed the place after having been driven out by a counter attack, was being heavily shelled today.

A party of cavalry charging down the Roze road ran into the cross fire of large German pill boxes studded with machine guns just this side of Roze and received a check, but the Germans who happened to get the opportunity to do this execution paid the extreme penalty.

Today the resistance by the enemy has been stiffening progressively, but his troops appear to be nervous and apprehensive of what the future holds out for them and what the allies intend to do. The order to feel out the allied force, it is expected that further heavy counter attacks may be launched by the enemy.

Stories of the air fighting over the battle lines are amazing. One observer coming into his station shot down four machines. In the same fighting a British pilot chased one enemy plain to earth and was swooping down upon his antagonist, when the man climbed out of his machine and held up his hand in token of surrender.

"So I didn't kill him," the British pilot said.

"But on my way home I met a group of enemy machines and got a bullet in me but managed to land inside our lines."

The report of this incident ends with the statement that the pilot died shortly after relating his experience.

There are dozens of thrilling tales of how machine after machine, skimming close to the

UNCLE SAM'S PARTNER

Planting home gardens, producing more food, and saving food are all war-time efforts of this government in which the women of America have co-operated loyally. We are all in the home army; the home army here must help the fighting forces and home armies over there; 120 million Allies must eat.

ground, fired point blank into bodies of enemy troops, killing a great many, despite the fire from the ground, and how they wiped out crews of enemy machine guns holding up the allied advance. They also effectively attacked the poorly constructed German tanks before they ever had a chance to get into action. Prisoners from fresh Prussian and Bavarian divisions have been captured in the past few hours. The morale of these men is extremely low, a great many of them expressing the opinion that Germany, twice badly beaten in recent weeks and perhaps having further defeats in store for her, is on the down grade, headed for defeat.

London August 12.—The allies have captured the town of Gury on the right flank of the Somme, battlefield, according to the news from the front this morning.

The French war office in Sunday morning's statement announced that the French had reached the outskirts of Gury. This town is an important point the Lassigny massif within two miles of Lassigny itself, which is the immediate French objective in this sector possession of which would be likely to cause a considerable retirement by the Germans both to the east and the west on this end of the battle line.

To Improve Your Digestion.

"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest of foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them did I find the right treatment. Since taking them my digestion is fine."—Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.

Weather Forecast for August.

From 6 to 14, changeable with rain threatening, some storms south west, heavy, unsettled weather here and east.

From 14 to 21, fair, with sultry weather, generally with rains and some wind along.

From 21 to 28, fair, stormy west, threatening cool central and slight rain.

From 28 to Sept. 5th, rainy threatening storms along.

August, pleasant, sultry and some cool all along with rain and wind storms west, south and northeast mostly. By time of moon changes here and there. Fair seasons continues here.

This August 1st, 1918.

HENRY REID,
R 3 Box 167,
Salisbury, N. C.

In the Park.

A colored minister was about to lead his congregation in prayer when suddenly the floor of the church sank a foot, causing a commotion among the parishioners. The preacher was equal to the occasion and quickly quieted his flock by solemnly saying: "Stay just whar yo' is, my people, de Lawd is wif' you!" Immediately a big Mose Peters jumped upon a pew and shouted: "Misto' preacher, if de Lawd was wif' me just now, den who all's done took ma fo' bits in dis heah low down bunch o' black berries?"—Cartoon Magazine.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days
Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure itching, burning, bleeding or protruding Piles. Instantly relieves itching Piles, and you can get restful sleep after the first application. Price 6c.

SUBMARINE TAKES ATTACK ON LIGHTHOUSE

Submarine Operating Off Virginia Coast Probably Sunk by American Destroyer.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Gas from all discharged on the water by the German submarine operating off the middle Atlantic coast, overcame six men in the coast guard station and light house on Smith's Island, N. C., Saturday evening, the navy department was advised today by the commandant of the sixth naval district.

If the gas attack was deliberate, and most officials believed that it was, it constituted a new and ingenious form of "brilliantness" and, so far as has been reported, was the first direct effort of the German raiders to harm persons or property on American shores.

The gas was said by the commandant of the coast guard station to have much the same effect as the mustard gas used by the Germans on the western front. The men were laid out for more than half an hour but apparently suffered no serious after effects.

The dispatch relating the gas attack was one of a series concerning German submarine warfare off the Atlantic coast received during the day by the navy department. One told of an attack on a submarine 100 miles east of the coast.

an American destroyer, which discharged 17 depth charges where the raider was seen to submerge. The result of the attack was not observed, but after oil had appeared on the surface of the water, two bombs dropped on the spot and the submarine was not seen again.

Sinking of the British steamer Penistone, of 4,189 gross tons, and the Swedish steamer, Sydland, of 3,033 gross tons, in New England waters near where 10 fishing snags were Sunday also was reported to the navy department during the day. The former was torpedoed Sunday with the fate of her crew still undetermined while the latter was destroyed by bombs August 8 and her crew later rescued by passing ships.

Still another dispatch said that four survivors of the fishing schooner Katie Palmer lauded at New Bedford, Mass., reported that they had been taken aboard the submarine, the commander of which boasted that he was equipped to remain in American water for six months if he desired.

In the Van.

It was an idle hour in a certain high-class shoe store. A few salesmen were gathered together in one corner of the establishment, discussing the relative values of footwear. Said one, proudly: "The shoes that I am wearing are the best made. They are genuine Cordovans."

A short silence ensued, but it was soon broken by the other salesman who was standing about his feet, a walking away from the others said:

"That's nothing; mine are moving v. us."

Best Effort is Everything.

How then shall the Nation decide who has proven his value? The answer is this:

There is nothing any man can do more than his best. From President Wilson down to the business manager of a small factory and to the man who drives the rivets, there is moral equality among all who do their best. The factory manager who completely sacrifices his personal interests for production, the man who drives the greatest number of rivets that he possibly can in a day—they have both done their all, they have both done everything. That is complete, absolute, unqualified patriotism.

Mad Dog Does Damage.

Some days ago a supposed mad dog was running at large in section around and below Granite Quarry, and, after biting several people and probably some dogs and other animals came to Salisbury where it was run over and killed by an automobile. Its head was sent to Raleigh for examination and Chief of Police Steele has been notified that the dog had a genuine case of hydrophobia. Therefore it is necessary that all dogs and other animals bitten by the mad dog be slain and the persons bitten take the proper treatment.

Loans to Our Allies.

The United States Treasury has extended additional credits of $100,000,000 to France, $50,000,000 to Belgium, and $50,000,000 to Serbia. The total of credits advanced to our associates in the war against Germany is now $6,492,040,000.