

9TH ANNUAL PICNIC P. O. S. OF A. BE STAGED AT CLEVELAND TODAY; CAM MORRISON CHIEF SPEAKER

BOY SUCCESSFUL BIDDER London, Aug. 5.—Kenyon V. Painter, a 12-year-old Cleveland boy, caused a sensation when he bid and paid $1,850 for a silver salt cellar at Christie's sale room.

EXCESS COTTON NOT TO BE SOLD

Farm Board To Hold Stabilization Staple Until New Policy Is Announced.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Assurance was given today by Carl Williams, cotton member of the Farm Board, that no stabilization cotton would be offered for sale pending announcement of a definite policy for handling the surplus during the new crop year beginning August 1.

The new policy now is in preparation. Williams said he was uncertain when it would be ready for publication.

A year ago the board promised not to sell in competition with free cotton for one year. That pledge expires tomorrow, and considerable interest has been expressed as to the nature of its new policy.

The cotton stabilization corporation bought 1,300,000 bales of cotton from the 1929 crop to maintain falling prices. It is being stored at a cost of $4 a bale per year.

Williams revealed that loans outstanding on July 1 to cotton co-operatives and the stabilization corporation amounted to $177,000,000. This amount, however, does not nearly represent the actual cost of stabilization operation since a volume of the financing was done through intermediate credit banks.

He estimated that the cotton at present prices was worth less than $50 a bale, a figure considerably under the price paid for it.

Three southern cotton exchanges—Savannah, Little Rock and Memphis—have requested the board to announce a new policy for the coming year to remove any possible uncertainty in future trading operations.

The board, Williams said, probably will send a representative to the conference of governors of cotton states called by Governor Sterling of Texas for next Tuesday to consider means of reducing cotton acreage and surplus.

PUT ON DOG

New York, Aug. 5.—Handkerchiefs are putting on the dog. Chows in brown, Pekingese in pink, and green grey hounds adorn the corners of pocket handkerchiefs affected by some animal lovers.

MR. ROWAN FARMER:

We offer you a steady, year round market for your cream at top market prices.

Increase your cows and receive a regular, semi-monthly cash income.

A well filled dairy barn is the trade mark of a prosperous farmer.

ELIZABETH CITY FIRE DESTROYS FOUR PLACES

Elizabeth City, Aug. 5.—Fire destroyed a restaurant, pool room, an electrical supply store and garage in the business district here. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

All of the businesses were located in one building owned by Mrs. Alma Forbes. Origin of the fire had not been determined.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION CLAIMS 3 AS VICTIMS

Leesville, La., Aug. 5.—Explosion of a locomotive engine at a logging camp near here had claimed the lives of three men tonight.

Hugh Jones, engineer, and Cap Webb, negro fireman, were killed instantly when the engine blew up and Emmett Thomas, member of the crew, died from burns several hours later.
