Famous "Bow Bells" May Have Rung Last

London—The Church of St. Mary le Bow, the home of the famous "Bow Bells," will have to be permanently closed unless funds are forthcoming immediately. Serious cracks have occurred in the walls, and the ceiling over the south aisle is in a dangerous state, due to ravages of death-watch beetles and rot caused by continual leakage of water.

The city surveyor stated that the cost of the repairs and minor alterations was estimated at between $16,000 and $18,000.

Some five and a half years ago the bells were silenced when they were found to be cracked and an appeal for $75,000 was launched to have them rehung and the church repaired. Of this sum only $14,000 was realized.

Good Times Discovered

Washington—Good times for at least one part of the United States and its people was reported by the Interior Department.

The department's fish counter reported that fishermen in Yellowstone National Park took 64,350 fish this season. The take was 54,915 in 1930, and only 27,500 in 1929, sometimes known as "the good old days."

Molds Grow On Rubber

New York—Blue molds that the housewife knows on bread, oranges, mildewed clothing, jellies and other things also grow in the cracks of "crazed" crockery, the microscope has revealed. Fungi also have tastes for India ink, paste, cork, egg shells, sugar, tulip bulbs, rubber and even paper, Miss Marjory E. Swift reports in the Journal of the New York Botanical Garden.

He was arrested on complaint of Marie Ploner, a beauty shop owner, who charged he failed to return money collected from a pawnshop for her rings.

The minister came up with his wife and two children. They thought the Sunday-school room would be a safe place for their clothing. The Rev. Mr. Nylan reported his loss to police as $200.

Noblesville, Ind.—Because Emerson Isgrigg is a light sleeper and his wife a somnambulist, both were suffering from painful injuries.

He rushed to her, reaching her just at the edge of the roof. His touch awakened and startled her. She stumbled and fell off the roof, pulling her husband after her.

Device Measures Heat

Buffalo.—A new "photo tube" which looks into a furnace and measures the heat, was described by Dr. L. R. Koller, of Schenectady, N. Y., at the meeting of the American Chemical Society here. A current is set up in the tube by the light it "sees." The brightness of an object varies sixteen times as fast as its temperature; therefore the photo tube current is a very sensitive means of measuring temperature.

The new pyrometer can measure temperatures as low as 1,000 degrees Centigrade, and has no upper limit, Dr. Koller said. It is instantaneous and is not injured by the furnace or its contents. This is very useful apparatus in these times of high temperatures in modern industrial processes. Lack of adequate means of measuring high temperatures in furnaces has handicapped their use.

Shakespeare Still Leads

Chicago—Shakespeare still holds the boards as the most popular playwright in the country, the Chicago Civic Shakespeare Society said.

Nationality—British.

Address—Scotland.

Gladstone at one time, in answer to what his address was, replied, "Gladstone, the World."
