

Champion Coon Dog Wins
His 15-Year-Old
Owner $1,000 Stake

Kenton, Ohio.—The king of the North American coon hounds is no "high brow." Unpedigreed and unheralded, a black-and-white fox dog owned by 15-year-old J. E. Smith, Franklin, Ohio, became coon hound champion over 160 entries by winning the $1,000 Leafy Oaks stake.

Four thousand dog fanciers and lovers of the sport of coon hunting watched young Smith's willing entry take the first line of elimination event, three honors in the semi-final and both of the first three and second line finals in the grand final.

Many a distorted face is due to obstruction in the nasal passage.

Drink between meals every day at least six glasses of water.

DWIGHT MORROW DIES SUDDENLY

Father Of Mrs. Chas. A.
Lindbergh Passes Without Warning; Funeral Held Wednesday Afternoon.

Englewood, N. J.—Senator Dwight Whitney Morrow, who abandoned the peaks of power in Wall Street four years ago to attain international fame as diplomat and statesman, died in his sleep Oct. 4, at his home on a quiet tree-dotted New Jersey hillside. Funeral services were conducted the Wednesday afternoon.

Morrow was 58 years old, a retiring, modest statesman who had carried his creed of neighborly frankness into finance, diplomacy and politics with such success that he was frequently mentioned as an outstanding possibility for the republican presidential nomination in 1936.

His most remarkable achievements in diplomacy were as ambassador to Mexico and as a member of the American delegation to the London naval conference, which he was credited with saving from collapse.

Death struck without warning at 1:52 P. M., due to cerebral hemorrhage. Morrow apparently had been in excellent health and only last night made a radio speech in a drive for Jewish charity funds. He had been in the habit of sleeping late and it was not until shortly before noon that his secretary found him unconscious in bed and breathing with difficulty. He never regained consciousness.

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, second daughter of Morrow, and her famous husband are in China, where they were rescued from the Yangtze river at Hankow last week after their plane had capsized.

MORROW DEATH LEAVES SEN-ATE EVENLY DIVIDED.

Washington.—Washington was stunned today by the death of Senator Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey.

Republican control of the almost evenly divided senate was threatened. But those familiar with New Jersey law said, however, that the governor can fill the vacancy until the 1932 election. The governor of New Jersey is a republican.

Senator Morrow's death which is the first in the senate since adjournment last March 4, left the makeup of the new senate meeting in December 47 republicans, 47 democrats and one farmer-labor.

MOON CUTS CITY LIGHT BILL

San Antonio.—Moonlight is being used by the city electrician here in an effort to cut the city's electric light bill from $146,000 to $100,000. On moonlight nights he cuts off most of the street lights.

Jay Walker Would Pay

Windsor, Conn.—A conscientious pedestrian, whose jay-walking caused a motorist to crash into a pole to avoid him, pulled $10 from his pocket and offered it to the driver with apologies as part payment for his damage.

ROWAN FARM
CLEANINGS

By W. G. YEAGER
County Agent

Rowan farmers are in the midst of harvesting their lespepeza seed crop a crop that developed from obscurity within the past ten years and today will return to the Rowan farmers more money than will the cotton crop of the county.

Cotton is on about 2,300 farms and lespepeza on about one thousand farms. The seed crop that will be sold is on about one half of this number. The early yields reported are most encouraging. Ten to 25 bushels per acre covers the range of yields that are coming to our attention.

With the fine weather that has been prevailing many of our folks are rushing the mowing and threshing and are getting a rather green sample of seed that will lower the market value. Wise farmers would not pull green corn for seed corn and at the same time will go into their lespepeza while it is still green (the seed) and start to mow, rake and thresh.

A little common sense right here is all that is needed. After the seed is threshed it must be carefully handled to prevent heating and lowering the germination. The best practice is to store the lespepeza crop in the barn or stack before it is threshed for 30 or 45 days and then it may be threshed and stored in bulk with no danger of heating. When it is threshed direct from the wind row the seed should be sacked and the sacks stood on end with some ventilation all around the sides. The best sample of seed will be secured from seed that is stored 20 or 30 days after threshing before it is cleaned.

There will be a market for all fodder free lespepeza seed and probably some with a slight amount of fodder, however it is up to each individual farmer to so handle his seed that it will be of the very highest quality and germination.

FEET BATHED IN CARBOLIC

Hays, Kan.—Conduion of a bottle of carbolic acid with one containing annic acid has taken much of the optimism from supporters of the Fort Hays State College football team.

Three letter men and a first-string quarterback are out of the game for the season because a locker-room attendant bathed their feet in contents of the wrong bottle.

Makes Firefighters First Wipe Off Feet

San Francisco.—Firemen who hastened to save a million dollar theater here were met at the door by a janitor, who greeted them as follows:

"Please be careful. This is a fire-proof building and there is no cause for alarm. If you insist on going inside please wipe your feet—we just cleaned the carpets."

So the fireman wiped their feet, went in found that the dense smoke which had caused the excitement was due to an oversupply of furnace oil. No show was in progress.

Officer 52 Years, Fired

Juarez, Mexico.—Febronio Frederico, 86, policeman here for fifty-two years, has been discharged "as a ceasure of economy." Febronio accepted the dismissal with Latin resignation.

"Thus is fifty years' service rewarded," he shrugged. "I have been loyal to constituted authority since I joined the force and I have seen more revolutions than I can remember."

Has 100-Year-Old Razor

Belleville, Kas.—Wesley Jansky, retired farmer, uses a razor believed to be hundreds of years old. It is known as the original and only true "pipe" razor—whatever that is. The case bears the words: "Corporal Mark, granted by the Cutlers Company, Dec. 22, 1694."

One Kiss—Wedding

Clinton, Mo.—Frank Renfrom kissed Miss Mary Overchiner only once before they were married sixty-one years ago, the aged couple revealed in celebrating the anniversary. And that kiss was stolen while they were seated in the back of a spring wagon, they said.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

Chapel Hill—Enrollment at the University of North Carolina has reached a new high peak. Registrations for the fall quarter numbered 2,820 as compared with 2,764 for the fall quarter of 1930.

TWO NEGROES HELD

Goldsboro—Fred Harvey, St. Louis negro employe of Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, confessed that he threw Fred Pressley, 18-year old Charlotte youth from the circus train last Friday morning causing the youth's death. Harvey also confessed that he attacked Hoyt Tims, a companion of Pressley's, and knocked him from the train with a club. William Caldwell, another negro employe of the circus, is held as a material witness.

TO AID IN MERGER

Raleigh—Dr. George Alan Works, dean of students at the University of Chicago, has been chosen to direct the technical survey into the details of combining the State University, N. C. State college, and North Carolina College for Women, which will go under a single board of trustees July 1, 1932.

WOMAN SUICIDE

Mebane.—Mrs. Carleen Miller Dixon, 21, of this place, was instantly killed when struck by Southern passenger train No. 17, about three miles west of here. A suicide theory was advanced by witnesses of the tragedy.

Cuts in army and navy urged to prevent increase in taxes.
