Rowan Fair To Open Monday

Transport Planes May Stop Here Daily

AIRPORT HEADS NEGOTIATE WITH E. A. T. LINES

Expect Salisbury To Be Designated As Regular Stop Between Atlanta And New York In Near Future.

NEW OFFICIALS AT AIRPORT ARE VETERAN PILOTS

Special Arrangements Made To Accommodate Airminded During Fair Week; Local Port Best In Two Carolinas, It Is Said.

The Eastern Air Transport lines, operating between Atlanta and New York, will make two stops daily in Salisbury in the near future, according to assurances received by officials of the local airport.

Negotiations with the transport lines have been underway for some time and favorable consideration is being given the local airport, it is stated.

"It may take a little time to get lined up definitely with the transport lines, but I confidently believe Salisbury will soon be designated as a regular stop," Mr. Joe Gamewell, one of the airport officials, told a representative of The Watchman.

Under this arrangement, the following stops would be made by each plane: Leaving Atlanta, the first stop would be Spartanburg, followed by Charlotte, Salisbury, Greensboro, Richmond, Washington and New York.

Two large airliners, operated by the Eastern Air Transport lines, now pass over Salisbury daily. One plane, the Curtiss Kingbird, has a passenger capacity of 6 while the other plane, known as Condors, can accommodate 18 passengers. Both have dual motors.

Salisbury is centrally located and has around 500,000 persons living within a radius of 50 miles. It also has the best airport, field and hangars in the two Carolinas, according to officials of the local airport who have visited extensively in the two states.

These facts, it is believed, will result in the designation of the local port as a daily stop.

Joe Gamewell, Lexington, and Frank Ely, Philadelphia, who recently leased the Salisbury Airport, are graduates of Parks Air College, East St. Louis, Ill., the largest commercial flying school in the world. This school has the approval of the U. S. government. They have two planes at the airport for passenger service and flights at any time during the day which can be arranged by telephone.

Both the pilots and the planes are commercially licensed. One plane is a Monocoupe and the other a Travel-Air.

These pilots have a three year record free of accidents. They also conduct a repair station for airplanes and conduct a school for student fliers.

During the Rowan county fair next week, the pilots, in addition to handling passenger service, will also put on a number of stunts to thrill the fair audiences.

BANKER SENTENCED

Troy.—W. Farlow, cashier and executive vice president of the Bank of Star, which closed its doors April 9, 1929, with approximately $100,000 on deposit, was sentenced to serve not less than three nor more than five years in the state prison when he was found guilty in Montgomery county superior court on a charge of violating the state banking laws. He filed notice of appeal and bond was set at $7,500.

GOOD MORNING

'TIS THE WAY YOU ARE
"It's not the way you sing, not the way you sigh,
Not the way you whine, but the way you try,
That will hold you down, or will help you far—
Not the way you seem, but the way you are."

IDEALS

I love you for what you are, but I love you yet more for what you are going to be.
I love you not so much for your realities as for your ideals. I pray for your desires that they may be great, rather than for your satisfactions, which may be so hazardingly little.

A satisfied flower is one whose petals are about to fall. The most beautiful rose is one hardly more than a bud wherein the pangs and ecstasies of desire are working for larger and finer growth.

Not always shall you be what you are now.

You are going forward toward something great. I am on the way with you and therefore I love you.

—Carl Sandburg.

DENTIST: "I'm sorry but I'm out of gas."

Sweet Patient: "Ye gods, do dentists pull that old one, too!"

FAST WORKER

"Now tell me, did you ever get pinched for going too fast?"

"Nope, I've been slapped."

THRILLING

Flapper (young and enthusiastic): "Have you ever met a man whose very touch seemed to thrill every fibre of your body?"

Woman-of-the-World (age 19 years): "Oh, yes."

Flapper: "Oh, who is he?"

Woman-of-the-World: "My dentist."

NOT THAT KIND

"Was your husband chopping wood last evening?" inquired Mrs. Pryer of one of the neighbor women.

"Chopping wood, no! What gave you that idea?"

"Why I heard him tell a man on the car that he accumulated a good healthy pile of chips before he quit."

OUCH!

A proud young father wired the news of his happiness to his brother in these words:

"A handsome boy has come to my house and claims to be your nephew. We are doing our best to give him a proper welcome."

The brother, however, failed to see the point, and wired back:

"I have no nephew. The young man is an impostor."

MOMENTS WE WOULDN'T LIVE OVER

"Daddy, may I have a dime?" asked George after he had been introduced to the guests for dinner.

Daddy obliged with a smile.

"This time you won't make me give it back after the visitors are gone, will you, daddy?"

GOB HUMOR

The flapper speaking:

These sailors are a simple folk,
I like 'em;

They take me out till they're broke,
I like 'em;

I like 'em naughty, tall and lean,
And fat, and short, and good and green,
And many other kinds I've seen;
I like 'em.

They take me to a navy hop,
They take me to a candy shop;
I like 'em.

But when they show me they don't care,
And crack my ribs and muss my hair,
I love 'em!
