

N. Carolina Gets 28 Seats At G. P. Conclave

BIG INCREASE AS RESULT OF HOOVER VOTE

Tabulation Is Given Of
Number Of Votes Cast
By Parties For Past 30 Years.

North Carolina will be entitled to 28 delegates at the Republican National Convention to be held in Chicago next June, this greater number being made possible by virtue of the fact that North Carolina gave its electoral votes to the President in the last general election. There will be 21 district delegates and seven delegates-at-large selected in North Carolina. District delegates are selected in numbers according to the vote given the party ticket in the preceding election, and it is noteworthy that all districts in this state cast sufficient numbers of Republican votes in the last election to command two delegates with but one exception, that being the Second, which fell below the ten thousand mark in Republican votes cast.

Following is a tabulation of the number of votes cast for each party in all elections since that of 1900:

Year	For Governor	For Republican
1900	157,750	133,080
1904	124,120	82,620
1908	137,000	114,940
1912	144,500	98,810
1916	168,380	121,000
1920	308,150	230,180
1924	294,440	185,630
1928	362,000	289,420

The "Off-year" vote by the two parties is given below:

Year	Democratic	Republican
1902	135,840	68,210
1906	123,270	77,000
1910	140,530	94,020
1914	121,340	87,100
1918	143,520	83,700
1922	225,780	141,000
1926	218,930	142,900
1930	324,400	210,960

Votes cast for Republican presidential candidate in 1928, showing number of delegates each district is entitled to send to the National Convention, are given as follows:

District	Votes Cast	Delegates

LABOR CONFERENCE CALLED BY W. GREEN

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has invited the president of the affiliated national and international unions to meet with the A. F. of L. Executive Council in Washington on February 9 to consider Federal injunction legislation and other Federal labor measures, as well as the unemployment situation.

"This conference is being called," President Green's invitation said, "for the purpose of giving consideration and support to injunction relief legislation and other legislative measures being considered by the Congress of the United States in which Labor is vitally and directly interested."

"Furthermore, the unemployment situation has become so serious and so acute as to require and command consideration and attention by the representatives of all organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

"The time is opportune and most timely for Organized Labor to make a definite pronouncement upon this subject in a dramatic way so that if possible the public conscience can be more fully aroused to the seriousness of the situation and constructive and practical remedies recommended by the American Federation of Labor may be accepted and applied."

"The representatives of national and international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor are clothed with authority to speak for millions of working men and women associated with and affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

"We can hearten and strengthen the courage and morale of the working people of the country, if, at a conference, to which you are cordially invited, we translate the hopes and aspirations of working men and women into words and action which will carry tremendous weight with the members of Congress, the executive officers of the government, and the owners and management of industry."

"I respectfully request that you, or such representatives as you may designate, clothed with authority to speak for your international union, be in attendance at this conference as herein requested."

"I am sending you this invitation by authority and by direction of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor."
