U. S. Business Is Receiving Aid In Large Loans

RAILROADS, BANKS AND AGRICULTURE

ment Finance Corpora- fund soon. tion.

The strengthening hand of the Reconstruction Finance corporation has poured $183,800,000 into the credit stream of American business through loans to agriculture, banks and railroads.

Banks, trust companies, and building and loan associations have received advances to the extent of $61,800, 000. The corporation has gone to the assistance of 255 such institutions.

Country banks, their credit strained to the limit by falling security prices and hoarding, received most of the loans to financial institutions.

Hard pressed railroads have been advanced $47,000,000 and agriculture has received $75,000,000 through department of agriculture agencies and the intermediate credit banks.

The amount made public does not include a $1,000,000 loan made to a bank two weeks ago which was repaid within five days.

The corporation also has authorized a number of loans to banks which have not been called for and unless credit in the communities tightens perceptibly may not be called for at all.

Railroad loans have been made largely to carriers unable to meet principal payments, and in some cases interest payments, on major obligations.

Much of the $47,000,000 that wen to railroads will be repaid by the Railway Credit association as fast as its revenues come in.

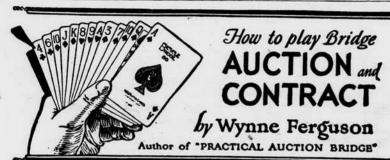

This organization was established

after freight rate increases had been | allowed by the Interstate Commerce commission on condition that stronger roads assist the weaker lines by de-LENT LARGE SUMS positing in a mutual association extra revenue derived from the higher

Contract is one that contains a suit of shut-out bid of either hearts or clubs. not more than five cards in length. Such hands occur about four-fifths of CONTRACT BIDDING: the time and are called normal hands particularly unusual but those that should hid five clube contain a suit of seven or more cards are the real freaks. Such hands occur very seldom but their proper bidding is both interesting and difficult. The following problem hands are "freaks" but interesting, because all contain most unusual features.

AUCTION BIDDING:

A should bid one diamond. If overbid, he should continue bidding diamonds and not show the heart suit at all. There is no advantage in a shut-out bid of five diamonds. Z has already shown his club suit and, if Y has a spade bid, he is more apt to bid five spades over a five-diamond bid than if A bids one diamond and then bids up the hand gradually. It is not advisable to show the heart suit because A's partner is more apt to assist hearts than diamonds and A's heart suit is not strong enough to trump clubs and spades. One diamond, therefore, is A's

CONTRACT BIDDING:

A should bid two diamonds, a forcing bid over the dealer's club bid. His partner is thus forced to bid and, unless he bids hearts, A's next bid should be five diamonds. If the partner bids hearts or assists diamonds, A should bid a little slam in hearts or

AUCTION BIDDING:

Z should bid one heart and, if over bid, should show the club suit. This hand is different from the preceding one in that the heart suit is longer and stronger and the club suit is not so strong as the minor suit in hand No. 2. It is a hand, therefore, in which both suits a hand, therefore, in which both suits should bid a small slam in spades. If Y last suits should bid a small slam in spades. AUCTION BIDDING:
B should bid two diamonds. In this hand, also, B has nothing to gain by a shut-out bid. Both of the other suits have been shown and the purpose of a shut-out bid is to shut out information;

so, if the information has already been given, what would B accomplish by a shut-out bid? Such bid would only inform the opponents that B had a game hand in diamonds and incite them to overbid to save game. Bid such a hand by easy stages and the results will be much more satisfactory. CONTRACT BIDDING: B should bid three diamonds, which is a forcing bid and requires A to keep the bidding open. If by any chance A should bid spades, B should bid for a grand slam. With any other bid by A, B should bid a small slam in diamonds. If A assists the diamonds, B should bid a grand slam in diamonds

LABOR NEWS

F. T. CORNELIUS, Secretary Salisbury-Spencer Central Labor Union

Label Month

The Union Label Trades Department, of the American Federation of 1932, for an intensive campaign in the interest of the Union Label, Shop Card and Working Button.

All Central Bodies have been requested to make special effort to support this campaign.

"With the united and wholehearted co-operation of all Central Labor Unions", states the executive board of this department, "this campaign will be of great benefit to the entire Labor movement of America and will help to relieve unemployment among trade unions. This is the ninth campaign conducted by this department under the leadership of John J. Manning and much has been accomplished among our membership by creating a desire to be consistent union men and buy only articles which bear the Union label which is the symbol that represents good workmanship and fair working conditions.

At the last regular meeting of the Central Labor Union, James W. Rideoutte was indorsed to enter the June primary as a candidate for the House of Representatives.

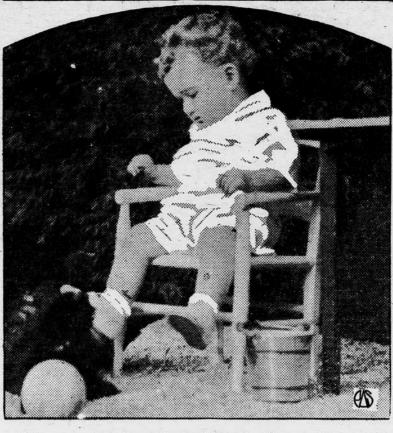

Mr. Rideoutte is a former member of the General Assembly having served as a representative from Rowan county for two terms in a most able manner. For many years Mr. Rideoutte has been an active and valuable member of organized labor and for that reason his ability is well known and it came as no surprise when he received the unqualified indorsement and the pledge of wholehearted support of the labor movement of this vicinity as he again enters the race for the House. Lock Out

The lock out of the employees of the Raleigh Times continues. After many years of successful co-operation the workers of this paper report for work only to find there places filled by others without warning and the only opportunity offered to return to and Mrs. Lee Moose, Concord, N. C. service was for them to sever their union affiliation. This they refused to do and the fight is on. Local labor has a committee appointed to see to it that all firms using advertising in the Raleigh Times paper will do so with the full knowledge of existing conditions.

"The Big Parade" Scores Fresh Hit

Reissued Sound Version at Victory Intensifies Thrills of Epic War Drama.

With the magic of sound added to its thrills and drama, "The Big Parade," greatest achievement of the silent screen, will score new triumphs at the Victory theatre Monday and Tuesday. Popular demand induced Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to reissue it with complete recording, in a new talking picture screen form that has proved a revelation.

Thrills of battle are intensified as one hears the roar of the big guns. The excitement of the airplane convoy over the big trucks at the front is more breathless as their thunder issues from the screen.

And even the hilarious comedy, when Karl Dane, gigantic laugh-mak er, spits at the lighted candle, is made more hilarious with the addition of the sound that goes with the sight.

The community meeting was held last Saturday night at the Grange hall with a large crowd in attendance. The Fleming school, under the direction of Miss Grace Basinger, teacher, gave an interesting program. Good music was rendered by our local string band. Those who played were Messrs. J. C. Shulenberger, Clyde Freeze, Luther Cline, Herman Shulenberger, Harry Jordan and Earl Cavin.

The Ladies Club met Friday after noon at the club room. The president Mrs. F. D. Patterson, presided over the meeting. The program consisted of readings on Easter. Miss Mamie Whisnant gave an interesting demonstra tion on the care of walls.

Miss Carrie Ethel, and Mr. James Moose spent last week-end with Mr. Miss Helen Davis has returned to school at the Asheville Normal after observing two weeks at the China
