CITY and COUNTY NEWS BRIEFS

LONNIE RARY
Lonnie Rary, aged 47, died at his home, 705 East Council street, Friday morning at 5 o'clock.

The funeral took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the home. Interment was in the Chestnut Hill cemetery.

NORMAN INGLE REWARDED
Norman Ingle, local jeweler, recently received a check for $50 from the United States government, bureau of medicine and surgery, as compensation for having furnished his blood for a blood transfusion for Walter Payne, of the aviation force who was taken ill while en route to San Diego, Cal.

At the time of the transfusion Mr. Ingle did not know that a provision existed for the compensation for a service of this kind.

EHRINGHAUS TO SPEAK
J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, candidate for governor of North Carolina, will make public his views on education in this state to the citizens of the railroad city, Saturday night, April 23.

Mr. Ehringhaus is now actively engaged in his campaign and will discuss the educational program as one of his main points.

VISITS WOODLEAF
J. J. Baker, assistant agricultural agent for the Norfolk and Western railway spent the past Friday in the Woodleaf community looking over the agricultural prospects of that section.

He was shown over the community by W. V. Fielder, agricultural instructor in the Woodleaf school, and was greatly impressed with the lespepeza seed production.

The Woodleaf Seed association has sold over 300,000 pounds of certified lespepeza and orders for the seed are arriving daily. The latest orders are being turned over to other agencies for filling.

PAWNSHOP WINDOW ROBBED
By using a glass cutter or some other sharp instrument with which to cut a hole in the side of the Salisbury Pawnshop window, rings and watches valued at $55 were removed.

The robbery was committed either late Thursday night or early Friday morning; however police officers are of the opinion that it was committed early Friday morning shortly after daybreak when the streets were clear of pedestrians.

NEW PRESIDENT
Mrs. Robert Patterson, of Rockwell, was elected president of the Sixth District of the North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration clubs at the annual meeting held in Winston-Salem, Friday, April 7.

The district is composed of the counties of Rowan, Forsyth, Davidson, Wilkes, and Surry.

LEWIS F. MAHALEY
Lewis F. Mahaley, of this city, died in the Lowery hospital the past Thursday night, death being due to a complication of diseases. The deceased had been in ill health for more than a year.

The funeral was held from St. John's Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon at 3:30, with the Rev. M. L. Stirewalt officiating. Interment was in the Chestnut Hill cemetery.

SHRINERS TO MEET HERE
Preparations are getting under way for the big meeting of the Oasis temple, of Charlotte, to be held in this city Friday afternoon and night, April 22nd.

There will be a parade, in which the Shrine band, drum and bugle corps will participate, also a dance, drills and a band concert.

JOINS NAVY
Price C. Russell, of New London, route No. 2, recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy through the Salisbury recruiting station. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel to join the Navy.

UNDERWENT OPERATION
T. C. Linn, well known attorney of the Salisbury bar, underwent an operation at the Salisbury hospital Saturday.

Jail Break? Yes, But Into It, Not Out
Gallitzin, Pa.—They don't want to put a burglar alarm in the town jail here, but Gallitzin police feel something must be done.

Burglars broke into the lock-up and stole ten gallons of whisky stored there as evidence in a court case.

The six best doctors anywhere, And no one can deny it, Are SUNSHINE, WATER, REST and AIR, EXERCISE and DIET.

Mr. Linn had been in ill health for some weeks, and following a severe attack Saturday morning it was found necessary to operate.

Late reports Thursday night indicated he was resting fine and that a rapid recovery was in store for him.

NEW DELIVERY SERVICE
The Innes Street Drug company recently installed an Austin automobile for delivery service. This is the first firm in the city to avail itself to a service of this kind and the small car has excited much comment rushing over the city making its deliveries.

FEDERAL COURT BEGINS MONDAY
The spring term of the federal court for the middle district of North Carolina will begin here Monday morning, April 18, with Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of Greensboro, presiding.

The court will convene for the first time in the new federal building since its undergoing a remodeling and enlarging.

JOINS CIRCUS
Robert Morgan, of Salisbury, who is now residing at Kannapolis, N. C., will leave Tuesday to join the Main Motorized Circus. Mr. Morgan is credited with being one of the most competent advance circus men in the business. He will have charge of the advance advertising of the circus.

The show wintered at Winchester, Va., and will open the 1932 season in that city.

INJURED IN AUTO CRASH
Mrs. Leona Jaquist, of Misenheimer, N. C., sustained several fractured ribs and bruises Saturday night when the Chevrolet car in which she was riding collided with another car driven by Frank Hammell at the intersection of Church and Thomas streets.

Mrs. Jaquist was rushed immediately to the Salisbury hospital and while she is not critically hurt it is feared that complications may develop out of her injuries.

The drivers of both cars were placed under bond pending the outcome of Mrs. Jaquist's injuries.

WINS PRIZE
Emory Reeves, of Spencer, eight-year-old girl, has been notified that she is one of the prize winners in the water color art contest held by the Railway Carmen's Journal. She is the only child in North Carolina to win a prize and one of the 25 winners who were selected throughout the United States and Canada.

CARNIVAL AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT
The senior class of the Boyden high school will present their annual carnival tonight.

More persons are taking part in this event than ever before and an unusually good and varied program is promised those who attend.

OFFICERS ELECTED
At a meeting of the congregation of St. John's Lutheran church immediately after the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning, the following officers were elected to serve a term of one year:

Elders: R. L. Bernhardt, A. G. Peeler, W. L. Ross, W. C. Sifford, H. C. Petrea, and H. C. Lentz. Deacons: J. L. Fisher, C. W. Isenhour, L. G. Goodman, Charles Heilig, Clifford Peeler, D. J. Mahaley, W. Marvin Snider, John Cress, and Sam T. Trexler.

GRAHAM S. SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINED
The Intermediate Boys S. S. Class of Third Creek Presbyterian church were delightfully entertained at the home of the teacher, J. T. Graham, recently. All members of the class, except two, were present. The boys had a fine time roasting wienies and playing games in the yard of the teacher.

WILEY P. T. A. MEETS
H. P. Brandis, treasurer of the school board, speaking at the night monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of Wiley School held April 7, in the school auditorium, took as his theme, "The Value of An Education," stressing the returns in earning power, in your value to your community, and in the enjoyment of old age.

Rev. Gilbreath Kerr, pastor of A. R. P. church, offered prayer, Mrs. Lillian Rozzell Knebel, the Carolina Nightingale, accompanied by Miss Margaret Jordan, entertained with a group of three numbers.

With H. E. Eagan, president presiding, an interesting business session was held. Mrs. S. P. Purvis, chairman of the summer-round-up committee, announced the annual clinic for preschool children to be held May 4th.

Announcement was also made of the Wiley Review to be presented April 22 to raise funds for the library. Miss Sue Nash, principal of Wiley school, displayed the silver lovingcup which the Wiley school glee club has won the second consecutive year.

Attendance prizes were won by Miss Mabel Garriss' and Mrs. Kirkland's rooms.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria through the courtesy of Jack Houck, of the Maxwell House Coffee company, and Mr. Glasgow of Charlotte, representing the Sunshine Biscuit company, assisted by Mrs. Bishop Leonard, chairman of the entertainment committee, and members of that committee.

The meeting was attended by approximately 350 parents, including many fathers, setting a new record for high attendance.

Graham—I never knew such a fellow as Cooper—he is always looking for trouble.

Greely—Then why doesn't he get married?

Savings gone; interest due. What's the country coming to? Yet hard times are not in vain—Mother's learned to bake again!

IT'S an actual fact that in many homes throughout the country home-made pies, cakes, cookies and biscuits are appearing for the

Those who have never learned to bake or who have to get the knack of it again, will find their task much simplified by getting flour with the leavening already in it. No woman can possibly blend the flour and baking-powder together as well as it is done at the mill with self-rising flour, and of course the proper raising of the product depends on equal distribution of the leavening. The salt, too, has already been added to self-rising flour.

Some idea of the time saved by not having to measure baking-powder and salt and to sift them with the flour four or five times, may be had by learning that delicious muffins may be made in only six minutes after you have the materials assembled. Try these next Sunday morning:

Jiffy Muffins
2 cups self-rising flour
1 cup milk
4 tb. shortening
1 tb. sugar
Mix flour and sugar. To these add all at once, the unbeaten egg, milk, and shortening, melted and cooled. Stir quickly and only just enough to mix (10 to 20 seconds.) Bake in muffin tins for about 20 minutes at 400°F. Serve immediately. Makes 14 muffins.

Great times in years, if ever before, in order to economize. Home baking, it has been computed, is about forty per cent cheaper than buying bakery goods, to say nothing of the improved flavor and quality, and they bring so much satisfaction to a woman.

Ten Commandments That Leads To Success
1. Cultivate the habit of persistence, which is the most necessary element of success.
2. Make up your mind to do the thing you dream of doing.
3. Plan the first step to be taken. And begin.
4. Perform one hard task each day.
5. Believe in yourself, believe in the thing you mean to do, and be proud of it.
6. Do not be turned from your purpose by your failures nor expect too much at first. Achievement is not a swift ride in an elevator; it's a hot, hard climb up a long, steep hill.
7. School yourself to disregard discouragement and opposition, and to get along, if need be, without praise or approval.
8. Do not interfere with others, nor try to direct their lives. You'll find it all you can do to make a success of your own.
9. Cut out the ill humor from your disposition, and disabuse your mind of the thought that you are being slighted or overlooked.
10. Finally, be of cheerful countenance. More battles have been lost by frowns, more successes are won by the narrow margin of a smile than this old world dreams of.

Shakespeare Shown As Watcher Of The Clock
William Shakespeare, provider of many plots for modern love stories, evidently was a clock watcher. His works run the whole round of the clock, as the following list shows:
"The bell then beating one." (Hamlet, I, 1).
"Sure, Luciana, it is two o'clock." (Comedy of Errors, II, 1).
"The clock has stricken three," (Julius Caesar, II, 1).
"What's is't o'clock?"
"Upon the stroke of four." (Richard III, III, 2).
"At five o'clock I shall receive the money for the same." (Comedy of Errors, IV, 1).
"How's the day? On the sixth hour." (Tempest, V, 1).
"Let's see, I think 'tis now some seven o'clock." (Taming of the Shrew, IV, 3).
"By the eighth hour: is that the uttermost?" (Julius Caesar, II, 1).
"It's supper time, my lord, it's nine o'clock." (Richard III, V, 3).
"Ten o'clock? Within these three hours 'twill be time enough to go home." All's Well, IV, 1).
"Eleven o'clock the hour." (Merry Wives, II, 1).
"What hour now?"
"I think it lacks of twelve." (Hamlet, I, 4).
