

U. S. Cotton To Face Keener Competition

Big Carry-Over Is Main Factor Survey Reveals

Smaller Crop This Year Is Offset By Large Amount Left From 1931

American cotton will face more severe competition in the world market in 1933 than it did this year, farm extension workers will tell the farmers they serve in advising them regarding next year's planting.

The 1932 crop of the United States was reported below the present yearly rate of consumption, but the enormous carry-over makes the total supply greater than world consumption for the last two years.

It was estimated four years would be required to reduce the carry-over to normal proportions, even at the average consumption rate of the last 10 years. Consumption at present is far below that rate. However, the report said, the supply could be reduced to normal in a year and a half at the high 1926-29 consumption level.

Cotton production, it was pointed out, is growing less expensive in cash outlay through home-growing of more food and feed supplies.

Boll weevils probably will enter hibernation this year in great numbers, the experts agreed, partly because of reduced outlays for poison.

PATTERSON ITEMS

There is quite a bit of cold and flu in our community at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Yost entertained a group of young people at their home Thursday night, Dec. 29. After several hours of playing rick, delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, hot chocolate, fruits were served to the following: Misses Geneva Sloop and Ethel Suther, Messrs. Charlie and John Sloop, Earl Lipe, Foil Suther, Marvin and David Sloop, Roy McCorkle, and James Moose.

About a dozen from our community attended the Pomona meeting held at China Grove, Wednesday.

Pearl, Mabel and Ralph Wilhelm visited their aunt, Mrs. J. L. Suther, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Garver and children, Bobby and Helen, of Landis, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Litaker.

F. D. Patterson lost a fine horse last week-end.

"For two cents I'd kiss you."
"Gigolo!"

Harris Speaker

Reginald Lee Harris of Person County was chosen unanimously for Speaker of the House of Representatives by the Democratic majority at its caucus in the Hall of the House Tuesday night.

Speaker Harris is a brother of Mrs. C. W. Armstrong, of this city.

Clark Wins

Democratic State senators nominated Senator William G. Clark, of Edgecomb, as president pro tem, and named John D. Norton of Jackson County, as sergeant-at-arms.

LeRoy Martin, nominated by Senator Hayden Clement, of Rowan, for the principal clerkship, was named by acclamation, as was B. Fritz Smith, who was nominated as reading clerk by Senator Grady Rankin, of Gaston.

Have Big Job

Many problems of major importance face the lawmakers. Among them are: tax reduction, economy, prohibition, schools, roads, finance, sales tax, revaluation, curtailment, salary cuts, prison reform, reduction of counties, transportation adjustment, labor legislation, relief program reappointment, short ballot, constitutional revision, and others of lesser significance.

DIZZINESS

relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

ARTICLE No. 19

In the preceding article, a number of interesting hands were given for analysis. If you have not already decided on the proper play or bid, do so now before you read the solution in each instance. A comparison of your opinion with the writer's solution will prove most interesting and should help to improve your game.

Solutions to Last Week's Problems

Hand No. 1
Hearts—Q, 9, 8, 6, 5, 3
Clubs—8, 4
Diamonds—A, 7
Spades—A, 8, 6

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid.

Hand No. 2
Hearts—8, 5
Clubs—7, 2
Diamonds—K, J, 9, 5, 2
Spades—Q, 8, 4, 3

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no trump. A bid two clubs, Y passed. B bid two no trump and all passed. Z opened the five of spades. A played the nine, Y the queen and B won the trick with the ace. B now led the king of clubs, followed with jack, winning the trick in A's hand with the queen. All followed, so that the clubs are set up. B then led the ace of clubs. What should Y discard and why?

Hand No. 4
Hearts—7
Clubs—Q
Diamonds—J, 10, 9, 4, 2
Spades—A, Q, 10, 9, 5, 3

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score and A B a game in. Z dealt and passed. A and Y passed and B bid one spade. Z bid two hearts, A two spades, Y three hearts and B three spades. Z now bid four hearts, A four spades and Y five hearts. B and Z passed. A doubled and Y passed. What should B now bid and why?

Hand No. 5
Hearts—A
Clubs—8, 4, 2
Diamonds—A, 5
Spades—J, 9, 8, 7, 6, 4, 3

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one spade. A passed, Y bid one no trump and B and Z passed. What should A bid with the foregoing hand and why?

Hand No. 3
Hearts—10, 9, 7, 6, 4
Clubs—A, K, 10
Diamonds—A, Q, 10, 9
Spades—3

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one spade and A passed. What should Y now bid with the foregoing hand and why?

AUCTION BIDDING:
A should bid two spades, not with the hope of making the bid, but with the hope that it will save game and rubber. A will probably lose one or two tricks, with a two-spade bid, but even if it is doubled, it will be a cheap way to save the certain loss of game and rubber if he allows Y Z to play the hand at no trump.

CONTRACT BIDDING:
A should pass. His opponents have not contracted for game, and he has no chance for game in spades.

Ushers Asleep Packing Up Cans

New York.—This isn't a bedtime story, exactly, but it will explain why two ushers fell asleep while packing canned goods at the Tuxedo Theatre on Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn.

It seems that Albert Greene, the theatre's manager, decided to give a charity matinee. Canned goods were to replace tickets and the proceeds were—and are—to be distributed among poor families of the neighborhood.

The youth of the district jumped at this opportunity to witness a show for the price of a raid on the pantry, but none more eagerly than young Louis Kaplan, 14, who works after school in a drug store. In his excitement Louis laid his can of salmon beside a can of other in the pharmacy and when he rushed off to the show, he picked up the wrong can.

Manager Greene detailed ushers Henry Latzkin and Sidney Markowitz to the task of packing the assortment of canned vegetables, pickles, pickled herring, sardines, mayonnaise and whatnot. Half an hour later he went to investigate their progress and found both fast asleep on the floor. While he was trying vainly to rouse them, a pharmacist arrived with young Kaplan's salmon and wanted to know if anybody had seen his can of other.

The lid, it developed, had been jarred off.

Usher Latzkin was revived without much trouble, but Usher Markowitz was carried home and put to bed.

Pick Out Ten Ugliest Words

Los Angeles.—The 10 ugliest words in the English language, said the National Association of Teachers of Speech, meeting here, are: Jazz, pulmp, gripe, sreachery, sap, cacophony, plutocrat, flatulent, phlegmatic and mash.

What with all the recent conversation about Wilfred J. Funk's "10 most beautiful words" in the English tongue, the association thought it proper to pick the 10 ugliest.
