Hyde Outlines Requirements

Regulations Governing 1933 Crop Production Loans Announced From Washington

Reduction of 30 per cent in the acreage planted to cash crops will be required this year of farmers who procure crop production loans Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde has announced in making public the regulations governing the 1933 loans.

In making available for crop production loans this year $90,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds congress specified that the secretary of agriculture might require, as a condition of any loan, "that the borrower agree to reduce his acreage or production on such basis, not to exceed 30 per centum, as may be determined by the secretary." The secretary's regulations, however, stipulate that acreage reduction will not be required of farmers who, in 1933, plant no more than eight acres of cotton; 2 1/2 acres of tobacco, 40 acres of wheat; 20 acres of corn 2 1/2 acres of truck crops; 12 acres of sugar beets; 8 acres of potatoes, 30 acres of rice; 8 acres of peanuts.

Farmers seeking crop production loans this year are advised to obtain application blanks and copies of the regulation in their home counties, rather than from Washington. Field agents of the crop production loan office are now designating representatives in each farming county to inform prospective borrowers of the requirements governing loans and to distribute application blanks and other necessary forms. These agents will assist farmers in filling out applications, without charge.

Accompanying the required 30 per cent reduction in acreage planted to cash crops, above the established minimum, the 1933 regulations limit the amount available to any farmer to $300. In 1932, crop production loans were made to 507,631 farmers, averaging $126 each. No loan in excess of $100 will be made to any applicant who is in arrears on as many as two previous loans. As last year, interest is fixed at 5 1/3 per cent, to be deducted when the advance is

Eddie Cantor's Fan Mail Bulky

New York.—Eddie Cantor has received 13 pairs of suspenders, one proposal of marriage, a crate of prairie chickens, one calf and 98 pounds of peppermint candy in the last month.

Some Send Jokes
Most letters are from people who want to give him jokes and songs; mothers who think their sons look like him; ambitious young men and women who want to go on the stage, and people who want to borrow money.

In a Broadway back-stage dressing room the spirited little stage and screen star pointed to two piles of letters, as he dabbed his face with make-up powder.

"That big pile is fan mail. I don't even look at it. The little pile is pan mail—letters telling me I'm rotten. I read every one of them. They're the important ones to me."

Proposal From Chicago
Cantor talks about his wife in all his acts, so he rarely gets proposals, but one came from a Chicago girl recently.

A man in Riverside, Calif., whom Cantor has never met, sends him a crate of oranges regularly once a week.

The calf someone sent he gave to a boys' camp. A litter of puppies he divided among some friends. Nearly 100 jars of homemade jelly that had accumulated in his office he sent to a hospital.

With a sigh he admits "they send me more nuts than anything else—pecans, walnuts, butternuts—bushels of them—I wonder why?"

Can Raise One Eyebrow
Mailman hands him a special delivery letter. Cantor tears open the envelope and reads aloud a scrawled note from a 17-year-old North Bergen, N. J., youth.

"Dear Eddie: My friends tell me I am a born actor and they ask me to try for a job on the stage. I laugh at them. Then one whom I pal out with says, 'Did you ever look in the mirror and make faces, like you do at us?' I forget it. Then I read where a movie director says anyone who can elevate one eyebrow while the other stays undisturbed should be an actor. When I see you are on Broadway I go to see you. You look so sociable I think you will take me under your wing. Please answer soon."

"And now," says Cantor, with a sigh as he starts for the stage, "do you wonder why my hair is turning gray?"

U. S. ENDORSES LEAGUE STAND
Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson was speaking for both old and new administrations on Saturday when he cabled to Geneva the United States' approval of the league condemnation of Japan's military policy in Manchuria.

FARM BOARD CHIEF QUILTS

BRUMMITT RENEWS ATTACK

Asserting he had furnished plenty evidence of election frauds in Surry county which "assail government at its very source," Dennis Brummitt, state attorney general, declared Solicitor Carlisle Higgins did not follow the statute in writing the bills recently rejected by the Surry grand jury and sent in only one of the witnesses whose names were furnished by Brummitt after a probe of the June primary in Surry county.

ILLUSION:
In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:
The performers toughen their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and filed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process.

Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment. Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels. Camels are fresh... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.

AWAKENED WOMAN . . .

The Perfect Serial

- Mystery
- Suspense
- . . . . . and Love.

Joyce, as she opened her eyes on that memorable morning, was equally surprised at the warm, flower-scented air, at the luxurious sleeping porch where she lay and at the diamond circlet on her wedding finger.

Was she married? Was it summer? Surely the fruit-laden orange trees she could see were not in Chicago—this silk covered bed was not a hospital cot. Yet—the last thing she remembered was a skidding taxicab on a sleeting November day in Chicago.

And when a man came and sat on her bed and kissed her goodbye for a hurried business trip, telling her to be careful after her fall from her horse the day before, her mystification was complete.

So she was married.

Later she discovered from her toilet article that her initials are F. L. P. . . . and that the house she lived in was rich—and beautiful.

IT IS A MASTERFUL STORY . . . MASTERFULLY TOLD BY ELINORE BARRY . . .
