Negro Holds Up Filling Station Owner At Yadkin

W. T. Johnson, operator of a filling station on the edge of the town of Yadkin, was painfully wounded, Saturday night, when an unidentified negro struck him on the head, after having shot at him once. The negro escaped with $3.50 in change, and though alarm was immediately given of the hold-up, no trace has been found of the bandit.

Sheriff Krider and several deputies are working on the case, and hope to find some clue of identification. The negro was described as being about 30 or 35 years of age, black in color, thick lips, and weighing around 200 pounds.

Hurt In Wreck

Sam Clodfelter, young white man of 416 Henderson Avenue, East Spencer, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when the Ford roadster, which he was driving, collided with a Chevrolet coach, driven by Ruth Perkins, colored, of Route 7, Salisbury, at the intersection of Lee and Bank streets.

Clodfelter was taken to the Rowan General hospital though the girl was only slightly injured. She was released under a $1,000 bond.

Nation Is Off Gold Standard

Natural level in world exchange. Later it would be revealed on a basis in natural relation to other currencies.

The President's daring stroke startled the world and brought quick approval from congressional leaders favoring inflation. Stocks and commodity prices rose sharply.

Senate administration leaders moved quickly to give Mr. Roosevelt power to take further steps he regards necessary to carry on his new battle to check the course of deflation in the United States.

J. P. Morgan in one of his rare public statements endorsed President Roosevelt's action in suspending gold exports.

"I welcome the reported action of the President," he said in a written statement, "and the secretary of the treasury, in placing an embargo on gold exports."

"It had become evident that the effort to maintain the exchange value of the dollar at a premium against depreciated foreign currencies was having a deflationary effect upon already severely deflated American prices and wages and employment."

"It seems to me clear that the way out of the depression is to combat and overcome the deflationary forces. Therefore, I regard the action as being the best possible course under existing circumstances."

Notice to Farmers

For the information of farmers of Rowan County, E. D. Dancy, Field Supervisor, announces that applications for Crop Production Loans will not be accepted later than noon, Saturday, April 29th. Any farmer who wishes to apply for a loan is requested to come to County Agent, W. G. Yeager's office at his earliest convenience to have his application prepared. All papers must be sent to Washington on or before April 30th.

There have been four hundred twenty-five farmers who have received government money for the purchase of fertilizer, which totals over seventeen thousand dollars. The extension Office is anxious that every farmer in the county that is in need of money for the purchase of fertilizer have their application made out at once.

These loans are being made on crop mortgages to the Secretary of Agriculture, payable on October 31. Interest 5 1/2% which is deducted from check. There is no cost to filing applications.

FOUR WOMEN DISPLAY PERFECT BRIDGE HANDS

Scottsburg, Ind.—Four women playing bridge here laid down their cards simultaneously and discovered each held perfect hands.

BRIDE SHATTERS WEDDING BELLS
London.—Margery Green, a London bride, broke her wedding bells as she entered the church to be married.

She was married at St. Jude's church, Kensington, where there are no bells, and a gramophone company arranged, as a surprise for her, to broadcast through the church a record of the bells of another church.

However, in passing through the door of the church, the bride knocked the record out of the hand of the engineer.

Luckily a fast car was available and another record fetched.

She Bakes Cakes For Presidents

Madame Blanche, world's most famous cake baker.

Cake made by Madame Blanche for President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

TUCKED away in a cozy little shop on East 57th Street, New York, is a French bakery where more famous cakes have been made than in any other spot in the world—cakes that were works of art, some of them seven feet high, and all beautifully sculptured in sugar and decorations appropriate to the particular occasion.

It is the pastry shop of "Madame Blanche and Daughter, Specialists in Wedding Cakes." The title of "Builder of Inaugural Cakes Extraordinary" could be added, for Madame Blanche has baked cakes for four Presidents.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt was recently inaugurated, the huge cake that was cut in the White House was made by Madame Blanche. She was no stranger to the new President and First Lady, for she had baked cakes for five weddings in the Roosevelt family.

Her list of patrons reads like a Who's Who. In addition to many diplomatic personages in Washington, the roll includes the Rockefellers, Vanderbilts and Goulds of New York, some leading citizens of most of the states, and about two-score princesses, countesses and duchesses.

Mothers who went to Madame Blanche for their wedding cakes; twenty or thirty years ago are now sending their daughters to her for their own wedding cakes. Madame Blanche has been the appointed baker of special cakes for thirty years. She is now assisted by her daughter, Mme. de Malvilain, and two granddaughters.

Her famous recipe for Old Fashioned Lady's Cake, which was used for President Roosevelt's inaugural is as follows:

Ingredients—3 pounds of sugar 1 1/2 pounds of butter, 1 1/2 pints egg whites, 1/2 ounce of salt, 2 1/2 pints milk, 4 pounds of flour, 1/2 ounce vanilla, 5 teaspoons tartaric baking powder. Cream the sugar and shortening, add a half pint of egg whites then whip the balance of the egg whites to a stiff meringue and add Mix in the milk and the flour. Sift the baking powder with the flour and add. Bake at about 350° F. To make a smaller cake, use half of proportions named above.

ECONOMY PLAN READY

President Roosevelt hopes this week to lay before congress the long-delayed program for reorganization of the governmental structure as a major step in his move toward a balanced budget.

Shearing the government of what the administration classifies as "luxuries," the encompassing program is expected by its designers to produce at least $350,000,000 in economies during the 1934 fiscal year in addition to an estimated slash of $670,000,000 already effected.

Marriage Code For Ministry

Urges Pre-Marital Instructions To Couples

A marriage code for ministers, recommending that clergymen guide couples both before and after marriage and condemning "stunt" weddings, has been issued by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Addressed to the clergymen of the council's member denominations, which include almost every major Protestant group in the country, the statement recommended that pastors give pre-nuptial interviews to couples contemplating marriage and organize

NEW YORK hotels look the world over when they seek authorities on food and its preparation to take charge of their kitchens.

Louis Paquet, chef steward of the Hotel McAlpin, one of New York's largest and most popular hotels, is a native of France. For years in Paris he served the Hotel Violet, the Restaurant Marguery and the Hotel Meurice. In London Mr. Paquet studied the British appetite and the manner of satisfying it, at the famous Cafe Royale in Regent Street.

In America Mr. Paquet has served the Hardware Club, New York, the Greenwich Country Club, the Hamilton Club, of Brooklyn, and the Knickerbocker and Savoy Hotels, New York. In 1912 he became associated with the Hotel McAlpin when that hotel was opened.

Now that recent nutritional research has revealed the fact that canned pineapple contains more known dietetic values than any other fruit, guests of the Hotel McAlpin and patrons of the several restaurants, are ordering pineapple in some form daily. For example, the McAlpin is known for its pineapple whipped cream pie. Here is Mr. Paquet's recipe for that dish:

"Boil one quart of crushed canned pineapple with half a pound of granulated sugar with the rind of one lemon.

"Add four ounces of sweet butter. Thicken this mixture with two ounces of cornstarch.

"Pour into a previously baked pie shell. When cooled off, top with whipped cream and decorate with pieces of sliced pineapple."
