

Corn-Hog Contract Offers Better Income

A premium on hogs and a rental payment for corn land taken out of production in 1934 is offered North Carolina farmers along with those of the middle west.

"I would suggest that farmers of North Carolina who are growing either corn or hogs for commercial purposes to make plans to sign a corn-hog reduction contract, especially where they are also signing either the tobacco or cotton contracts for 1934," says W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist at State College.

will reduce the number of pigs farrowed and sold."

Shay offers to give any corn-hog farmer definite information about how the plan is to be worked if the matter is taken up with him early enough for the movement to get started in this State.

To obtain benefits under the corn plan, for instance, Shay says the grower must agree to reduce his corn acreage by 20 percent under the average of 1932 and 1933. He may then collect at the rate of 30 cents a bushel for the corn which this rental land was capable of producing. Thus, if a man grew an average of 100 acres of corn in 1932 and 1933 and reduced this amount to 80 in 1934, he may collect a rental payment for the 20 acres on the basis of what the land had produced. If the land had produced 40 bushels to the acre, the rental for the 20 acres would amount to $240—a very good rental for the average corn land in North Carolina.

Thousands of Women Have Taken Cardui on Their Mothers Advice

It is an impressive fact that many women have said they learned of the value of Cardui from their mothers.

What stronger evidence of her confidence in a medicine could a mother have than that she advises her daughter to take it!

Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists, everywhere, sell it.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardui helped me."

State's Cotton Acreage Fixed For Next Year

North Carolina cotton farmers will plant a little less than 869,000 acres to the crop in 1934, if they meet the request of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. At a meeting of county farm agents held at State College on December 28, plans for the new cotton campaign to begin today were outlined by Dean I. O. Schaub and Charles A. Sheffield of the Agricultural Extension Service. They explained that the tentative goal of reduction in this State next season is 580,000 acres under the five year average from 1928 to 1932. During that base period, the State planted an average of 1,449,000 acres. A reduction of 40 percent means that only 869,000 acres will be planted in the State this year.

political landslide in our history, along with Mr. Roosevelt, in response to a universal clamor for a "New Deal." The precise nature of the New Deal was not clear in the minds of the voters, of the members of Congress, perhaps not even in that of the President. But they knew their constituents were behind them in desiring something to be done, and that speedily. They didn't try to figure it out for themselves, but gave the President broad powers to run the United States about as he saw fit. It was frankly an experiment, but that was what everybody wanted. They were tired of the policy of waiting for the normal laws of economists to operate, and anything that promised to hurry up the process was all right with them.

Now they have had a sample of the New Deal. That it has pleased many so far is undeniable. That it has alarmed many is also undeniable. But what is causing more alarm than anything else is not experiments that have been put into motion but the uncertainty as yet where many of them are going to end. The President has the situation in his hands. He can yield to the demands of his youthful enthusiastic advisers and go on to more and more radical measures, designed to destroy the present industrial and economic system in its entirety, or he can say, at any time, that the experiment has gone far enough, that all he wants to do is to straighten and purify the present system of finance, industry and business, not to discard it.

NATURE SCORES

O Horse you are a wonderful thing; no buttons to push, no horns to honk; you start yourself, no clutch to slip; no spark to miss, no gears to strip; no license-buying every year with plates to screw on front and rear; no gas bills climbing up each day, stealing the joy of life away; no speed cops chugging in your rear, yelling summons in your ear. Your inner tubes are all O. K., and, thank the Lord, they stay that way; your spark plugs never miss and fussy; your motor never makes us cuss. Your frame is good for many a mile; your body never changes style; your wants are few and easy met; you've something, on the auto yet.

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms. When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Theford's Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Theford's Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.
